SUMMARY.

The German Emperor has ordered that another effort be made to take Warsaw this week.

Colossal fighting is foreshadowed on the Middle Vistula, where the Russians are steadily retiring in good order.

The "Frankfurter Zeitung" says President Wilson has one recipe for England and another for Germany.

His note to England, it declares, does not deserve to be called a protest.

Forty French Alpine Chasseurs, cut off from the main body in the Vosges, refused to surrender to the Germans.

They charged the Germans on skis, killing at least 80 of the enemy before they died.

Three aeroplanes and a Zeppelin fought an aerial battle in Alsace, lasting 40 minutes. The Zeppelin fled.

A French airman, with a machine gun and gunner, attacked and destroyed three German planes in a thrilling contest.

The Russians are falling back along the Niemen under pressure from great German forces.

The cold is causing horrible sufferings to the wounded. The Russians are refortifying Czernowitz.

The Russians at Czernowitz have been strongly reinforced.

Belgium is endeavouring to raise an army of 20,000. An urgent appeal is made to refugees in Holland and Great Britain.

If volunteers are not forthcoming the Government threatens to make military service compulsory.

The "Retch" considers that the chief Austrian attack is in the Carpathians. Only five army corps are facing Servia.

The three Bavarian corps in south-east Hungary proved to be badly-trained Landsturm.

It is announced that since the beginning of the war Russia has imprisoned 49,600 Turks.

The "Daily Chronicle" says the British policy in Egypt has yielded excellent results.

Egyptian newspapers express deep satisfaction that Egypt is so efficiently protected.

The defeat at Tor clears the Turks from the southern portion of the Sinai peninsula.

During the Toussoum attack an English pilot named Dearew was severely wounded but refused to leave his post.

A detective openly insulted a Greek naval attache at Pera, a suburb of Constantinople.

The Greek Government has insisted on a public and ample reparation, including the dismissal of the offender.

Many labour meetings have protested against the English Government's attitude with regard to food supplies.

One speaker said New South Wales had showed courage in commandeering wheat and fixing prices for necessaries.

A German official inquiry shows that the worst shortage of cereals is August amounting to 1,800,000 tons.

Trouble is threatened by the leaders of the English railway employees regarding the railway workers' agreement.

The New South Wales loan of £2,000,000 has closed at a premium of 11s 8d.

Over 1000 members of the New Guinea expedition return to Sydney to-day, under Colonel Paton and Major Heritage.

They will arrive in two vessels, one of which carries 170, who are convalescent from malaria.

The march from the E. and A. wharf to Victoria Barracks will be accompanied by two bands.

Mr. Hughes, Federal Attorney-General, has arranged to take a month's holiday, beginning to-day.

Captain Collins suggested to the War Office that orders for boots might be placed in Australia.

The reply, just received, is that if further supplies are wanted, the suggestion will be carefully considered.

Captain Collins's letter was communicated to the Allies' Commission then sitting in London.

Mr. Fisher referred yesterday in strong terms to some alleged remarks of Sir Henry Galway regarding the Northern Territory.

Sir Henry is reported to have questioned the wisdom of the White Australia policy in those latitudes.

The Prime Minister said that Sir Henry's remarks, if correctly reported, constituted a grave official indiscretion.

The Interstate Commission heard further argument yesterday regarding the New South Wales Government's Wheat Acquisition Act.

There is every promise of a keen fight next Saturday for the vacant seat in the Castlereagh electorate.

On present appearances Mr. Blacket seems to stand a good chance of winning.

Alfred Strauss, defendant in a case at the Water Police Court under the Enemy Trading Act, failed to appear yesterday.

Strauss was under bail of £2000, which has now been estreated by Mr. Payten, S.M.

Colonel Wallack presided last night at a large rifle club meeting at the Ryde Town Hall, 100 new members being enrolled.

Local troops held a parade and torchlight procession at North Sydney. The Mayor addressed the crowd from the School of Arts.

New Zealand Savings Bank deposits for January exceeded withdrawals by £215,262, an increase on last year of £110,123.

An application for a writ has been brought by Miss Ethel Berne, who claims £1000 damages in connection with Miss Connie Waugh.

A soap and tannery works valued at £10,000 has been destroyed by fire at Hawkes Bay, New Zealand.

The new railway time-table arranged with a view to minimising the running expenses came into force yesterday.

A number of trains, which were formerly running, have been excised from the new table.

A Mosman resident killed a large fox in his back yard yesterday, which was attacking a cat.

Norman Keals, who was captured in connection with the New Zealand tragedy, has signed a full confession.

His capture took place after a veritable man hunt. He says his motive was purely revenge.

Extensive bush fires are raging between Bathurst and Orange, principally affecting unoccupied Crown land.

Competition was exceedingly strong at yesterday's wool sale in Melbourne, 6600 bales being submitted.

A fair volume of business was transacted at the Sydney Stock Exchange yesterday.

A number of shares changed hands, but prices showed a slight decrease on previous rates.

In the mining market business was fairly active, and steady sales were reported.

There was further appreciation in black and galvanised wire, and in imported wire netting.

Wool sales were held at the Royal Exchange, Sydney, yesterday, when 6210 bales were catalogued, of which 5937 were sold.

The market generally ruled firm at last week's rates, with occasional irregularity.

There was a well-sustained demand for all lines of dairy produce, with no change in prices.

In the forage and grain section there was no change in potatoes, while the maize market was distinctly weaker.

Sheep were in fairly ample supply at the Homebush stock market yesterday, prime quality being firm.

A very fair supply of lambs was penned of all descriptions. Competition was brisk for the best classes for export.

There was a larger supply of cattle than was expected, rates being generally firmer for better qualities.

Forecast.—Warm to hot generally, with northerly winds; a tendency to scattered thunderstorms.

THE HOUSE OF DISTINCTION.

THE SEASON OF TRAVEL SUGGESTS SMART TRAVELLING COATS.

WE EXHIBIT TO-DAY LATEST STYLES IN COATS FOR STEAMER WEAR.
SMART WRAPS FOR MOTORING.
COSY COATS FOR KOSCIUSKO.

The opening of the Travelling Season finds Farmer's fully equipped with a splendid stock of the newest Autumn and Winter Styles in Travelling and Motor Coats. Great care has been devoted this season to the selection of Materials, and Fashion has expressed herself in a charming manner in this respect.
The variety of styles we exhibit to-day will enable Ladies to select Coats suitable for travel within the Commonwealth or to any part of the Globe.

VISITORS TO THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

will find in Farmer's assortment the ideal choice for steamer wear.
Ladies are invited to inspect the newly opened styles to-day. A visit to our Mantle Salon entails no obligation to purchase.

A MOST BECOMING TRAVELLING COAT is made of Ripple Cloth, in pretty Cherry shade. Coat full length in newest Raglan shape, with wide belt at back, finished self-coloured buttons. The collar can be worn opened or buttoned up quite close to neck. Lapel pockets. PRICE 73/6.

ANOTHER VERY SMART COVERT COAT, which is weatherproof, is made in easy-fitting Magyar shape, with new flared skirt, finished wide belt round waist. The turn-over collar fastens right up to neck, ensuring comfort against rain or cold. Sleeves are finished storm cuffs. Deep side pockets. PRICE 105/.

DELIGHTFULLY COSY TRAVELLING COAT of Black and White Check Tweed, is cut in roomy Magyar fashion in smart ¾ length, with wide belt at back. A smart Black Velvet Collar makes a distinctive finish to coat. Body and sleeves are lined black silk. PRICE, 5½ GNS.

DISTINCTIVE COAT of Striped Tweed, in smart Brown and Royal Blue tones, is beautifully tailored in loose Raglan style; collar and cuffs of Royal Blue cloth. Large lapel pockets. Body and sleeves of coat are lined shot silk. PRICE, 6½ GUINEAS.

A PERFECT TRAVELLING COAT is made of softest Blanket Tweed, in serviceable Brown and Purple Heather Mixture. Comfortable Raglan shape, buttoning up to throat, and finished with wide belt round waist. Body and sleeves of coat are lined Purple Satin. PRICE, £8/13/6.

AN IDEAL MOTOR COAT (with bonnet to match), is made in soft Suede Leather, in Royal, Mole, Tan, and Brown shades. Comfortable Raglan shape, buttoning right up to throat and finished belt at waist. Lined throughout with silk. PRICE, 17 GUINEAS.

DO YOU GARDEN FOR PLEASURE OR PROFIT?

Many gardeners are content to interest themselves in gardening for the pleasure it affords, while others strive for gain; but it matters little which influence you follow—Garden Requisites and Horticultural Sundries are always needed. We are able to supply your wants. Our stock of garden supplies is quite complete.

WE HAVE FOR SALE:—
SPRAY FLUIDS for Trees and Shrubs.
SYRINGES of all patterns.
TOBACCO POWDER, for Slugs and Snails.
WEED DESTROYERS, for paths, tennis courts, etc.
APTERITE, for earth grubs, snails, and slugs.
HARDWOOD STAKES, from 3ft to 6ft.
GARDEN LABELS, Wood, 4in. to 18in.
ZINC LABELS, various shapes; last for ever.
INDELIBLE INK, for marking zinc.
COPPER LABELS, all ready for tying on plants.
FERTILISERS, of various kinds.

GARDEN TOOLS, SPADES, FORKS, HOES, RAKES, TROWELS, SHEARS, KNIVES, Etc.

The Spray of all Sprays—
HARBAS,
for scale pests and diseases of the Orchard.

YOUR SUIT—AND THE IMPRESSION IT GIVES.

It's more difficult to overcome the bad impression caused by wearing faulty garments than it is to pay the little extra for an "E. T. W." Suit.

"E. T. W." Suits are leaders because of the great care exercised in making them, because of skill, because of superior materials. An "E. T. W." Suit retains its perfect shape so long as the material lasts. But they are WORKED into proper shape—not pressed there, like some.

They are made by experienced men, trained to the very best work.

You should be now wearing an "E. T. W." Suit—it's a matter running hand in hand with your own interests.

Call and inspect our exclusive materials. No window display, but in our showrooms you can select in the clear daylight that streams through our large windows.

Country men, write for patterns, tape, and self-measurement form. We guarantee full satisfaction.

WUNDERLICH CEILINGS.

AUSTRALIAN PRODUCTS FOR AUSTRALIAN PEOPLE.
Wunderlich Ceilings and Walls are absolutely Australian Productions. That is, with the exception of the steel used. This is the best British Sheet Steel we can get, and is imported by us direct. The work of preparing designs, modelling, casting, stamping, etc., however, is all done at our Redfern Works, and in many cases we do the actual erecting. This latter, however, is not necessary, as any competent tradesman can do the work. Our unit method of fixing is so simple that one cannot go wrong. If you use the following coupon a copy of our catalogue will be sent to you, and you can read full details in that.

GOOD LETTER PAPER
CONVEYS A GOOD IMPRESSION.

The recipient of your letter will naturally think more of you if your letter is written on good paper than if you write on so-called "cheap" paper—the kind that causes the ink to spread and makes your letter an unsightly blotch.

If you wish to convey a good impression use paper that is good in quality, smooth to write on, and pleasing to the eye.

You can do all this, and at the same time

PRACTISE ECONOMY

by using Smith's "Phoenix" Writing Blocks. These contain 100 leaves of good writing Paper, and two sheets of Blotting Paper.

Extra Strong Bank Paper .... 1/ each
Special Cream Wove .... 1/ each
Ivory White .... 1/ each
Vellum Laid .... 1/6 each

BUSINESSES FOR SALE OR WANTED.

RYAN, HOTEL BROKER, 8 Post Office-chambs., 114A Pitt-st., opp. G.P.O., ESTABLISHED 1896.
HOTEL, SUBURBAN, situated right in key position of a densely populated RAILWAY SUBURB,
where thousands of well-paid men are in constant employment. The house, which is a new modern structure, has only changed hands once in 20 yrs., previous lessee and owner retired some years ago, having amassed a fortune. Last 12 months' trade 60 per cent. better than the previous best. We can show you five years' trade, each year eclipsing each other all the time.
LEASE NEARLY 14 YEARS TO RUN.
RENT £2 per week right through. Takings, all in the bars, average £150 weekly. Beer trade, 14 x 36's weekly. Average whole working expenses not over £10 per week. Profits guaranteed £1700 per annum. We have handled thousands of hotels in city and suburbs during the past 16 years, and we can conscientiously say that at the price we have never yet seen or heard of anything that will equal or approach this great business. It can be bought for approximately £3000 cash. BONA FIDE buyers in search of a tip-top suburban house will be given all details and allowed any investigation. CASH £3000. £3000. £3000.
WE MOTOR YOU TO INSPECT.
HOTEL, CITY. Undoubtedly the BEST CORNER POSITION offering. Situated in flow of dense pedestrian traffic. A business that keeps your staff going from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Two splendidly appointed and equipped bars, replete with all modern time-saving appliances, etc. TAKINGS £300 weekly, all bar trade, big proportion of which is 7d saloon trade. Long lease at moderate rental. Mr. Speculator, investigate this at £5500. £5500. £5500.
HOTEL, SUBURBAN, on a prominent and bold corner of a busy industrial suburb. LEASE 7 years. Beer trade 9 x 36's. Average for two years' takings £90 weekly. Good-class trade, easily managed. GOING FOR £2100.
HOTEL, CITY, for a seafaring man or one who knows the shipping trade will spend an hour of your time to-day investigating this. Beer trade 6 x 36's. Takings £80 weekly. A fine, well-furnished house. Rooms will pay rent. PRICE £800 cash with small loan. £800.
HOTEL, PREMIER WESTERN SUBURB, where hotels are always hard to get. LEASE 9 years, rent £3/10/. Takes £70 weekly. BONA FIDE and genuine reasons for forcing a quick sale at £1200.
HOTEL, COUNTRY. Absolutely no opposition for many miles. Situated within a few hours' rail of Sydney. A neat, new, and compact building, very well furnished, standing in own grounds, right in midst of big shipping area, and a big population. House contains well-appointed dining-rooms, about 12 bedrooms, billiards, motor sheds, etc.
LEASE 10 YEARS direct. RENT £3/10/, and billiard-room can be let for £1/5/. It's the only hotel and the only billiard-room in this go-ahead centre, which is backed up by a thickly-populated and wealthy district. TAKINGS £90 weekly. Beer trade 6 x 36's. High prices for all goods supplied. Net profits well over £1300 per annum. Total working expenses, including rent, rates, wages, etc., not £9 per week. Vendor, who is relinquishing business for private reasons, has just written us: "Sell my house will take a good loan with £2250 cash down." To those in search of a tip-top country business we unhesitatingly say that there is nothing equal to or near it to be had in N.S.W. at the price, so very low.
CASH £2250. £2250. £2250.
HOTEL, COUNTRY. DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP. Under circumstances over which licensee has no control, compel him to sacrifice this, one of the very best commercial houses obtainable. Situated on KEY CORNER position in a thriving, go-ahead town, backed up by a mixed farming district, where there are no big holdings, second to none in the State. The town is built on model lines, electric light, water, etc., and contains fine public buildings, etc. LEASE has over 7 years to run at £7 per week. TAKINGS £100 weekly. All drinks are 6d. Splendidly furnished and equipped sample rooms, etc. Cash £1650.

What Sanatogen Will Do for Your Health.

IF you take Sanatogen regularly, three times a day, you will have gained, in a short time, a fund of health, strength, and nerve-force which will be of inestimable value to you—and you will have gained it easily and pleasantly, at a very nominal cost.

Why not set aside some of your spare pence in order to acquire that greatest of all blessings, Health, by a short course of Sanatogen?

A Genuine and Safe Invigorator.

You will find that the good which Sanatogen does is lasting and progressive—not a fleeting stimulus, such as the old-time "tonics" gave, but regular daily improvement, with no reaction, and no wearing off of its effects.

It is so safe, too—contains no dangerous drugs—and is freely prescribed by physicians for young children, the very aged, and invalids in the most critical conditions.

The writers of the letters printed here are types of thousands of people who have been quick to recognise the merits of Sanatogen.

Why not follow their example? Why not send for a supply now, and at once commence to enrich your health by a course of Sanatogen?

All Chemists sell Sanatogen, from 2/6d. per tin. Send a post-card, mentioning this paper, to The Sanatogen Company, 17 Bond-st., Sydney, N.S.W., for a free booklet: "How to Live Healthily."

Sir H. Hesketh Bell, K.C.M.G., Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Leeward Islands, writes: "For a man doing hard mental work in an enervating climate there is, according to my experience, no better invigorator than Sanatogen."

Sir Thomas Pittar, K.C.B., C.M.G., writes: "Sir Thomas Pittar derives constant benefit from Sanatogen. He commenced to use it by his doctor's advice as one of the best remedies for sleeplessness."

Sir Frederick Milner, Bart., writes: "Sir Frederick Milner was much run down when he took Sanatogen, and it certainly did him good. He has more than once sent it to people run down from illness or overwork, and it has invariably proved successful."

The Archbishop of Adelaide writes: "I never use medicine except by my doctor's orders. He, however, has prescribed Sanatogen more than once, and I believe I have found it both nutritious and soothing. It appears to be a very good preparation."

CHAPTER XXI.—Continued.

He scrawled his name on the back of the cheque, and laid it on the table. Mr. Horton looked from the slip of paper to Jack's face; then he laid his hand on the young man's shoulder and bent a piercing gaze on him.

"I understand, Chalfonte," he said, in a low voice. "I'm sorry. I'm very sorry."

"That's all right," said Jack; and he shook Horton's hand and went out.

When he went back to his chambers, he wrote a letter to Mrs. Feltham, telling her of his "appointment," and his possible sudden departure—for some place unnamed. He tried to write a line or two to Nora, but he could not simply could not; reopening Mrs. Feltham's letter, he added a postscript: "Will you please give my kind regards to Miss Norton, and ask her if she will be good enough to accept Jim from me? I couldn't possibly take him where I'm going."

Having got through his correspondence, he formed himself into a committee of ways and means. It was not a cheerful committee; for Jack found that his worldly possessions consisted of a little over ten pounds, his furniture, clothes, and a few articles of jewellery. As he had given up the law, or the law had given him up, the chambers were an unnecessary luxury. He gave notice to the landlord and wrote a line to Troddles, asking him to take over the furniture or sell it; then he went out into the street and wondered what his "appointment" was, and how he was going to get it.

Towards evening he found himself at the Sports' Club, and though he had no appetite, he ordered a modest chop. While he was eating it, Telby came in. You had only to look at Telby's face to see that "By the Wayside" was going strong; and he seated himself opposite Jack and told him, with unctuous self-satisfaction, that they were playing to "capacity," meaning that the house held every night as large an audience as it was capable of doing, and he added that Miss Grace Lawless was in fine form.

"Better come round with me and have a look at her!" he said.

But Jack declined, and remarked absent-mindedly that he was going abroad for a considerable period, and that he had to do his packing. As a matter of fact, he did not pack straight away, for the simple reason that, though he longed to get away somewhere, he did not know where to go; but, during the sleepless night, he did succeed in making something of a plan. Troddles had laughed when he, Jack, had suggested the colonies as the place for him; but now it seemed to Jack that there was nothing else. When a man cannot earn his living with his brain, he must do it with his hands. He was a strong man, even amongst strong men; and surely it would be possible for him to get his bread and cheese as a farm labourer; he could even drive a milk-cart.

With the desire of men in his condition to be doing something definite, he began to clear up his room and to pack a portmanteau, deciding to start at once for—somewhere. He was in the midst of the litter which he had created when there came a knock at the door, and Jack, thinking it was his charwoman, answered "Come in" without turning his head. The door opened and closed, but no one spoke; and Jack, looking over his shoulder, saw Maud standing looking at him.

London has a mysterious power of working sudden changes in those who come under its spell. It had certainly worked a marked transformation in Maud Delman; and the change did not lie so much in the fact that she was now beautifully dressed in something approaching perfect taste, but that her mien and carriage were altered. The old grace of her form was accentuated by a certain refinement and ease of bearing, which even her short training had given her. But it was evident that the self-possession she displayed at this moment was attained by an effort; for her face was pale, her lips slightly tremulous, and there was a shamed look, an expression of painful anxiety, in her eyes.

"Hallo!" cried Jack, pleasantly; then he grew suddenly grave. "I say, what's brought you here? This is no place—I mean, I'm a bachelor, and don't receive lady visitors ——"

She came forward with outstretched hands. "Don't be angry, Mr. Chalfonte. I—I couldn't help it. Mr. Telby told me last night ——" She struggled with her voice, and tried to smile—"that you were going away, abroad."

"That's so," said Jack, in a matter-of-fact voice. "But there's nothing extraordinary in that. I'm not the first man to go abroad."

"But he said you were going for a long time," she faltered; and, involuntarily, she sank into a chair and, gripping the arms, gazed at him with the eyes which worked such havoc with the male part of the audience at the Thespis.

"Oh, so you thought you'd come and say good-bye," said Jack, vaguely confused and worried by the trouble that was shown so eloquently in her face. "That's very good of you, Maud. And so you're getting on quite famously, Telby tells me. You'll be at the top of the tree before long; one of the stars, with a hundred pounds a week and your portrait in all the papers. But it's been there already; saw it last week. Well, I'm very glad. I suppose you're going to have a big part in the new piece when it comes?"

"Mr. Chalfonte, why are you going," she asked, ignoring his little speech. "Oh, please don't think me inquisitive and impertinent! Mr. Telby told me that you looked ill and worried; and you do. Is there anything the matter? Is there any trouble? Mr. Chalfonte, won't you tell me? You have been very good to me—the best friend a girl ever had—and isn't it natural that I should be upset at the thought of you being in some trouble? Why, what do you think I'm made of? Do you think I haven't any heart at all?"

Her eyes were full of tears, her hands clasped each other convulsively, and the gaze she fixed on Jack's face was sufficient evidence of her possession of that curious and perplexing organ which causes us all so much trouble.

Jack leant against the mantelpiece, thrust his hands in his pockets, and bit hard at his pipe. It was impossible that he should not reflect that the girl to whom he had tried to be a friend, the girl who—all unwittingly, it is true—had stepped between him and a fortune, had treated him with icy coldness; and that this other girl, who owed him so little, was heartbroken because she thought that he might be in trouble. Never, for one single instant, had Jack been in love, or in danger of being in love, with Maud Delman; but he was a man, and no man, with that inconvenient organ in his breast, can, unmoved, face a woman's devotion to him.

"'Pon my soul, you're a warm-hearted little thing!" he said, gratefully and almost remorsefully. "Fancy your trotting round here because you thought I was up a tree! It is very good of you to be anxious on my account, though there was no occasion for it—"

"But you're looking ill; you are going away. Why have you left Chertson and your work there? Oh, Mr. Chalfonte, don't be angry; it's because I'm so anxious, because I—I ——"

"I've left Chertson because I've got another job," said Jack, feebly. "The fact is, Miss Norton's going to be married." He was staring at the carpet, and he did not see the sudden flush which suffused Maud's face, the light that came swiftly to her eyes.

"To be married!" she said, almost in a whisper. "I'm—I'm glad."

"So am I," said Jack, reaching for his pipe. "And so she—well, there are other arrangements; and I'm off to another job."

"Where?" her lips formed.

Jack was silent; he had, by suggestion, at any rate, already told more falsehoods about this business of an appointment than he liked; and his gorge rose against a definite lie. Woman-like, she jumped to her conclusion. Rising, a little unsteadily, she went to him and laid her hand on his arm and looked up into his face imploringly, beseechingly.

"Mr. Chalfonte, there's something else. You are in trouble; I can see it. My eyes are quick where—where you are concerned. You are worried and in trouble. Is it money?" She glanced round at the barely-furnished room. "If so—Oh, will you let me—I have had a rise; I shall have a big salary with the new part ——"

She stopped, frightened by the look on Jack's face. It was stern and angered for a moment; then the anger faded away, and, laying his hand on her shoulder, he smiled faintly at her.

"You're a good little soul, Maud. So you want to lend me money? My dear"—his voice was that of a man addressing a little child—"you don't know enough of things to know that a man can't take money from a woman."

She burst into tears, and covered her face with her hands, cowering beneath the rebuke, gentle as it was.

"There, there! Don't cry," said Jack, soothingly. "Oh, dash it, don't cry. I didn't mean to be angry. You didn't know—didn't think. You make too much of the little service I did you. Good Lord, it was nothing. And you're grateful—more grateful than most people," he added to himself. "There, wipe your eyes, good-bye, and run away. I shall read of all your successes in the paper."

Then, once more, Jack Chalfonte did an unwise thing. In the fulness of his aching heart he laid his big hand on her head. As if his touch had broken up the depths in her and let loose the torrent of her love, she slipped to his breast, and, putting her arms round his neck, offered him her, as yet unkissed, lips.

"Oh, don't you know!" she murmured, in so low a whisper as to be almost inaudible. "It isn't—it isn't gratitude only. It's because—it's because I love you. Don't push me away. Let me go on and tell you what I've had in my heart for so long; ever since—Oh, so long ago. I do love you. I don't ask you to love me. I know you don't—not yet. But I'll wait. I'll wait ever so patiently. Only let me go on loving you and seeing you, Mr. Chalfonte. It's not much to ask. I'd be no trouble to you. Oh, I'd like to be that dog of yours, to be your servant."

Not a little broken himself, Jack pulled himself together. He took her arms in a not unkindly grasp, and drew them from about his neck, and sat her in the chair.

"Now, look here, Maud," he said gently. "Of course, you don't mean what you've said. That's the worst of you actresses—even the youngest of you. You get carried away by your feelings, and you talk all sorts of nonsense without meaning it. You're just cut up, as you say, because you think your friend's badly down on his luck. Now, we'll forget everything you've said. Dry your eyes. Of course, you can't find a handkerchief; got it up your back somewhere or other, I suppose. Here, take mine. That's better. Now we're all right! Now, my child, you must trot off."

She mopped her eyes with his handkerchief, which slid out of sight. She had a pocket somewhere about her. Then she stood, very pale, her violet eyes almost black. She put out her hand, and Jack pressed it, and, still holding it, led her to the door. Just before the door closed on her she turned and looked at him over her shoulder. It was a look that would have melted a heart of stone—Jack's heart was composed of much softer material. He closed the door quickly.

WATER SUPPLY AND SEWERAGE.

The Commonwealth Parliamentary Standing Committee on Public Works continued its inquiry at the Customs-house yesterday into the question of the water supply of the Federal capital, and the best means of disposing of sewage at Canberra. Mr. E. Riley presided.

Mr. J. Davis, Director-General of Public Works in New South Wales, said that the proposal for the water supply of Queanbeyan provided a dam 22ft in height at approximately the same place on the Queanbeyan River as the dam now proposed by the Federal Government. The requirements for the future consumption of Queanbeyan were 150,000 gallons a day, on a basis of 40 gallons per day per head. This quantity could readily be supplied from the proposed Federal dam without militating against the requirements of the Federal city. The additional head of the larger reservoir would be a distinct advantage. The scheme as laid before the Queanbeyan Council involved a capital expenditure of £28,030, and an annual charge of £1353 on a 3½ per cent. basis, against an income of £900 on the 1913 valuations, leaving a deficit of £453. If the storage reservoir in the departmental scheme were omitted, and water supplied free by the Federal Government, the capital cost to Queanbeyan would be £23,408, and the annual charges £1248, on a 4 per cent. basis. The estimated revenue on the 1914 valuations, with the maximum rating, would amount to £1626. The town would thus be able to carry the burden.

Discussing the sewering of the Federal capital, Mr. Davis said that he had learned on his visit to Canberra that it was proposed to construct treatment works at Weston Creek, a distance of three miles. He did not think it was necessary for the outfall sewer to be extended to Weston Creek. If a site was adopted on the Yarralumla Creek, in the vicinity of the wool sheds, the case would, in his opinion, be fully met, and thereby at least a mile and a half of the outfall sewer be saved, or approximately £40,000.

MAKING TRADESMEN.

ADVICE TO BOYS.

In a circular issued by the Director of Education to boys who have passed the qualifying examination, and wish to become skilled tradesmen, the advice is tendered that, if they can stay two more years at a day school, they should go to one of the junior technical superior Public schools.

"At the end of your two years' junior technical course at the Superior Public School," Mr. Board's circular adds, "you should get a certificate that will be of use to you when you seek work. You will then make up your mind what trade you will enter, and become apprenticed. See that you enrol yourself at the Employment Bureau at the Education Department's office, when you get your junior technical certificate, and the officer there will help you to get a place where you will have a chance to master your trade. When you have got a position with some employer, you should then enter the trades' school of your trade. Pay a visit to the Superintendent of Technical Education, and he will tell you all about the trades' school. The officer at the Employment Bureau at the department's office will give you a card of introduction to him."

A closing word of advice is given as to the future:—"I hope you are ambitious about your future. If so, I should tell you that when you have finished your trade school course you may go on at the Technical College, and qualify for the position of a foreman or overseer, and there will be some scholarships to be won that will help you again. But when you get to the trade school the superintendent will tell you all about them."

THE LATE MR. JOHN RILEY.

The death of Mr. John Riley, formerly an assistant in the Parliamentary Library, at the age of 81 years, occurred at his residence, Waverley, on Sunday. Mr. Riley's career in the service extended from 1863 to 1909, when he retired. He had served under four Presidents and seven Speakers; and in connection with his work in the library he acquired an extensive knowledge of Parliamentary practice, which was appreciated by members generally.

Deceased was a keen sportsman, and possessed a wide knowledge of matters relating to the turf, going as far back as the Fifties.

The funeral took place yesterday morning at the Waverley Cemetery, and was attended by Mr. Robert Marshall (nephew), Mr. W. S. S. Cooper (Acting Clerk of the Parliament, representing the President and the officers of the Legislative Council), Mr. W. S. Mowle (clerk assistant, representing the Department of the Legislative Assembly), Mr. F. Walsh (librarian), Messrs. E. E. Wahlberg, and D. A. Campbell (library assistants), T. Cusack, J. Lawrence, J. Fullford, and others.

FOX AT MOSMAN.

One does not expect to find foxes in the suburbs of Sydney, but one was found at Mosman early yesterday morning by Mr. M. Hutchins, of 19 Cabramatta-road. Mrs. Hutchins was awakened by hearing a disturbance in the back yard. One of the children was sleeping on the verandah, and Mrs. Hutchins hastened to ascertain the cause of the commotion. She saw what she took to be an Irish terrier with the family cat in its mouth. She called her husband, and, arming himself with a stick, he proceeded to investigate. The supposed Irish terrier turned out to be a fair-sized fox. When Mr. Hutchins approached Master Reynard dropped the cat and ran into an outhouse. Mr. Hutchins followed, and killed the fox by striking it a violent blow across the head with the stick which he was carrying.

ROBBERIES.

A pair of motor tyres, valued at £16, the property of Dr. J. Foreman, Macleay-street, were stolen on Saturday.

From the premises of Edgar Arpante, Underwood-street, Sydney, three sealed letters, containing cheques for £5 17s 6d, £11 4s 9d and £1 8s 6d, were stolen. The first-mentioned cheque was cashed, but the other two were returned by post.

SURFERS ROBBED.

A metal watch, silver chain, and tie and collar, valued at £3, the property of Wallace Small, were stolen at the bathing sheds, Manly, on Saturday afternoon. A gold chain and medal worth £3, belonging to W. Hean, were also stolen.

From the men's dressing sheds, Coogee, the same afternoon, jewellery belonging to M. A. Collin, and a purse containing £2 10s, the property of K. W. Allen, were stolen.

Jewellery and money to the value of £46 were stolen from the clothes of Mr. Partridge at the Bondi surf sheds on Sunday between 12 noon and 2 p.m. The thief made his escape.

FATHER CHRISTMAS VISITS THE WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

At the various British hospitals special efforts were made at Christmas to give the sick and wounded soldiers as enjoyable a time as possible under the circumstances. An appeal for Christmas gifts brought a magnificent response from all over Great Britain, as well as from far-distant parts of the Empire; the wards were decorated for the occasion; and in many instances (as in this photograph) Santa Claus himself visited the disabled heroes, and spoke words of appreciation and encouragement, leaving behind him presents which had been contributed by a grateful public. In the picture Father Christmas is seen getting a light from the cigarette of a patient, while the nurse is inspecting a box of bon-bons, and carries under her arm another welcome gift.

SUPREME COURT.

IN BANCO.

SALE OF A RESTAURANT.

LIABILITY OF AN INFANT.

Mr. E. M. Mitchell, and Mr. Norman Pilcher instructed by Messrs. Minter, Simpson, and Co., appeared on behalf of Peter Aroney, plaintiff, in an action against W. Christianus and John Prineas, in connection with the sale of a fish and oyster saloon in George-street, Sydney. Mr. Monahan, instructed by Mr. L. G. B. Cadden, as agent for Mr. P. F. A. Kinna, of Molong, appeared for defendant Prineas.

The matter came before the Full Court on demurrer. The action was instituted by Aroney, who sued for the recovery of the amounts (plus interest) of two promissory notes, viz., one for £60, payable on September 16, 1910, and one for £72, payable on March 19, 1911. In addition to these, the sum of £93 cash was paid on the day of the sale. Neither promissory note had been paid, and the writ for recovery was issued against both defendants. Christianus did not answer or appear, and judgment was entered against him. Prineas, however, replied to the allegation that he was an infant within 21 years of age when the promissory notes were given. Plaintiff demurred to this plea, on the ground that the goods supplied were necessaries. Mr. Mitchell quoted authorities in support of the contention that infants were liable under promissory notes, where the notes were given in recognition of a debt for the supply of necessaries. A further allegation on behalf of the plaintiff was that the transaction was beneficial to defendant Prineas, and that he continued to enjoy the benefit of it after he became of age, without accepting the opportunity of repudiating it.

Mr. Justice Gordon said if the rejoinder that the goods were necessaries were found, a jury would have no opportunity of saying whether the price charged and sued for were a proper price. Plaintiff, said his Honor, had to show that it was a proper price.

After further argument on the preliminary objection, the Court held that Prineas could not be sued on promissory notes signed by him as an infant. The declarations in the action were amended, so that the action, pending the Court's decision on a further objection, can be tried on the ground of the sale and delivery of goods.

Referring to the further objection by Mr. Monahan that there was no liability at all, the Chief Justice said equity would never allow an infant to contract to purchase a man's business, take it over, and remain in it with benefit to himself, without repudiating it after he became of age, and then refuse to pay the purchase money.

Mr. Monahan contended that an infant could not be held liable to pay the purchase money, even if he sold the business the day after at a profit. There was no remedy, he submitted, for people who were foolish enough to deal with infants, or credible enough to be deceived, even by fraud, as to the age of the infant dealt with.

The case stands part heard.

NO. 2 JURY COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Sly.)

THEATRICAL ACTION.

Linden v Musgrove.

This was an action arising out of a dispute between Margaret Linden, an actress, and George Musgrove, theatrical manager. The plaintiff actress declared that she was engaged by the defendant manager to play a part in the drama "Madame Du Barry" for a period of six months, from August 29, 1914, on tour with the Nellie Stewart Company, at a salary of £7 per week. Plaintiff performed a part in the drama in Sydney for four weeks. During the third week of the Sydney season, all the members of the company in receipt of over £4 per week were asked, and agreed to accept, a general 25 per cent. reduction of salaries, owing to the depression due to the earlier war news. Plaintiff alleged that this arrangement was made expressly for the purpose of completing the Sydney season and a tour of the other Australian cities. At the end of the third week, plaintiff accepted £5 5s salary, and was given a week's notice that her services would not be longer required. Defendant denied that any promise for any certain time had been made, or that any tour of "Madame Du Barry" had been arranged. Plaintiff claimed £150.

Mr. Curtis, instructed by Mr. Neville Montagu, appeared for plaintiff; Mr. James, instructed by Messrs. W. Arnott and Connah, appeared for defendant.

Evidence was tendered that the engagement was made in response to an advertisement inviting applications from artists for a tour. An advertising poster for the drama, to be produced in Melbourne at the end of October, was put in. The cast contained the name of Miss Linden. The defence was that the advertisement was inserted before the outbreak of the war, and that before Miss Linden was engaged, the war had broken out, and all theatrical arrangements were upset.

His Honor said he was not satisfied that the defendant told the plaintiff that the idea of a tour, on which the advertisement had been inserted, had been abandoned. Considering all the facts, his Honor thought the balance of testimony was in the plaintiff's favour. His Honor assessed damages at £100, and gave a verdict for that amount.

INDUSTRIAL COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Heydon.)

EMPLOYMENT OF ALIENS.

Silvester v Graingar (five cases).

On December 17 last W. C. Silvester appealed against nominal fines imposed by the Chief Industrial Magistrate for dismissing from his employment five unnaturalised German subjects.

The appellant had been fined for a breach of the Butchering (Metropolitan Retail) Board's award of October 10, 1911, in that he failed to pay one Alexander Ikemeyer, a trimmer in the smallgoods factory, the minimum weekly wage of £3 for the week ended August 15, 1914.

The facts were that Ikemeyer was a weekly hand, entitled under clause 14 of the award to be paid his wages in full every week, and under clause 39 to be engaged at a weekly wage, and to get a week's notice of his dismissal. His weeks ended and his wages were paid on Saturdays. Having been duly paid on Saturday, August 8, he came to work on Monday, the 10th, stayed away ill on Tuesday, the 11th, and in consequence of a message sent to him attended at the shop on Thursday, the 13th, when he was dismissed without a week's notice, and was paid wages up to the time of his dismissal, which wages were less than a full week's wages.

The defence was that Ikemeyer was a subject of the German Empire, not naturalised as a British subject, and that as, from the 4th of August, a state of war existed between the King and the German Emperor, Ikemeyer became an alien enemy, and his dismissal, without a week's notice, and without the payment to him of a full week's wages was justified.

His Honor, in the course of his decision, said:—Can it be the law that a working man who, though resident here, is a subject of the enemy Power, cannot work for his living? If he makes articles for sale is it trading with the enemy to buy them from him? If he works with his hands for a capitalist, does he acquire no right to a wage? It seems to me that this cannot be so, and I have seen no authority for it. . . . What advantage would the enemy gain from his labour? What disadvantage should we suffer? Would it not, on the contrary, be better for us that he should work for his keep than that he should be kept in idleness? The remittance of his earnings to the enemy country, which might be injurious, but which is not a necessary incident of his employment, could be dealt with separately, and forbidden. But his labour itself could do us no harm.

If, then, the continuance of Ikemeyer in Silvester's establishment was a circumstance which could give any rights and create any liabilities, what were they? Here, I think, the award comes in. The wages and conditions prescribed by awards are by law compulsory. The parties who are considered are not only the employer and the individual employee, but other employees and other employers. If Silvester was free to keep on Ikemeyer on any terms he pleased—at his mercy, as it were—he could have paid him £2 a week instead of £3, and could have filled his establishment with non-naturalised aliens, if he could have got them, at the same price. That, in my opinion, is not the law. If he kept him on he could only do so on the terms prescribed by the award. This seems to me so clear as to the rate of wages that I hardly think anyone would dispute it; but it may be said that the obligation to pay a full week's wages to the man dismissed in the middle of the week is a different matter. I cannot see, however, that, in principle, there is any real difference, and I must accordingly hold that the mere fact of Ikemeyer's being a German subject, not naturalised as a British subject, did not give Silvester any right to keep him on on other terms than those of the award, and that, having kept him on, he committed a breach of the award in not adhering to its terms.

It was next contended that, under the circumstances, Silvester was entitled to dismiss Ikemeyer without notice. It was not said that Ikemeyer had been guilty of misconduct justifying his dismissal, but it was urged that his character having changed from alien friend to alien enemy, and his employer having a contract to supply food for the Australian Forces, and Ikemeyer's opportunities of tampering with that food, a situation had arisen justifying his immediate dismissal.

This argument depends upon the circumstances. The employer has to make out the case. The mere fact of the change in the employee's position caused by the nation of which he is a member becoming an enemy nation would not, in my opinion (apart, of course, from any question of cancellation of contract by the outbreak of war), be equivalent to misconduct in him, or inability on his part to carry out his contract, justifying dismissal. It is clear that, personally, he had nothing to do with the declaration of war. He would remain, after that event, as ready and willing and competent to do his work as before. The possible prejudice raised against him in his fellow-employees' minds, and the possible fears excited in the minds of the customers, would be no doing of his. Finally, exception was taken to the form of the conviction, but it seems to me to hold water. I think that when paid off on the Thursday Ikemeyer ought to have been paid at least his full week's wages, and that it was a breach of the award not to do so.

"I have seen," said his Honor, "a union criticised for taking up the case of its German members. I think the union deserved credit for its action."

In dismissing the appeal his Honor concluded by saying that the mere fact of the men being German subjects did not give Silvester any right to employ them on any other terms than those of the award, and he committed a breach of the award in not adhering to its terms.

RAILWAY MEN'S INCREMENTS.

MR. G. S. BEEBY'S REPORT.

The Railway and Tramway Commissioners' application for the partial suspension of increments to certain employees first came before Mr. Justice Heydon, and was referred by him to Mr. G. S. Beeby as chairman of the board.

Mr. Beeby's report, which recommends the dismissal of the Commissioners' application, was read by Mr. Justice Heydon in the Industrial Court yesterday.

Mr. Beeby says "The evidence clearly establishes that the Commissioners have had to face a serious shrinkage in the revenue for the remainder of the financial year. Some of this shrinkage is doubtless due to the drought, but most of it is attributable to the war.

"I was impressed with the argument that the proposal made to meet this deficiency by the suspension of increments was inequitable. . . . The proposed suspension would raise anomalies and create friction between men in the same grades, doing the same work and entitled under the awards to the same salaries.

"It seems contrary to justice that the saving of expenditure which would be effected if the application were successful should be imposed upon about 17 per cent. of the railway and tramway employees. Any necessary reduction in expenditure should be achieved by some scheme which would equitably distribute the burden over the whole of the railway and tramway employees. I therefore recommended that the application be dismissed."

His Honor said: "Parts of the report I entirely agree with, but there are other parts that do not altogether meet with my approval."

His Honor adjourned the matter for a week to give the Commissioners and the unions time to consider the report.

MANUFACTURING NO. 1 GROUP BOARD.

APPEAL AGAINST THE AWARD.

Mr. Stinson, of Messrs. Pigott and Stinson, appeared on behalf of the New South Wales Brick Company, Ltd., and the Federal Brick Company, Ltd., in an application under section 25 (sub-section 2) of the Industrial Arbitration Act, for the variation or amendment of the award of the Manufacturing No. 1 Group No. 1 Board, of August 26 last, on certain grounds, set out in the affidavits of Alexander Stuart, and Edwin Samuel Phippard.

Mr. Crof. appeared on behalf of the Brickmakers' Employees' Union to oppose.

DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Judge Murray and Jury.)

A LETTER CARRIER'S CLAIM.

Stewart v Carroll.

Archie Wilkie Stewart, of Bexley, sued John Louis Carroll, ironmonger, of Rockdale, trading as "Carroll and Company," for the recovery of £750, for injuries occasioned to him through the alleged negligence of the defendant.

Mr. Breckenridge, instructed by Messrs. Taylor and Greenwell, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Young, instructed by Mr. A. J. M'Donald, for the defendant.

Plaintiff's case was that he was a letter carrier, in the employ of the Commonwealth Postal Department. On April 30 last he was walking along the footpath in Station-street, Rockdale, when he was violently knocked down and seriously injured by a horse and cart belonging to the defendant. He was laid up for several months, and owing to the injury to his knee, which was still bad, he had been unable to follow his occupation as a letter carrier, and had had to take indoor employment. He alleged that the injuries were caused through the negligence of the defendant in the care, control, and management of the horse and cart.

The defendant denied the alleged negligence, and pleaded that the mishap was a pure accident, the horse having bolted.

The case stands part heard.

(Before Judge Docker.)

CLAIM FOR DAMAGES.

Keary v Chief Railway Commissioner.

Frederick John Keary, shop-office fitter, of 152 McPherson-street, Waverley, claimed £400 compensation from the Chief Railway Commissioner for an injury occasioned to his right eye through the alleged negligence of the defendant's servants.

Mr. Harley McLaughlin, of Messrs. John McLaughlin and Son, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Pickburn, instructed by Mr. J. S. Cargill, Solicitor for Railways, for the defendant.

The case for the plaintiff was that on July 13 last he was a passenger by a train from Sydney to Belmore. He alleged that when the train was travelling between Sydenham and Marrickville a piece of blue metal was hurled up from the permanent way, and it struck him violently in the eye, causing great pain, and impairing the sight, and occasioning a great shock to his nervous system, as a result of which he had for a considerable time been unable to follow his usual vocation, and had incurred expenses for medical and ophthalmic services.

The defence was a denial of the alleged negligence, and that the injury was not occasioned as claimed by plaintiff.

Plaintiff was non-suited.

IMPORTERS' CLAIM.

Hordern and another v Sutton.

Edward Carr Hordern and Alfred James Hordern, trading as "Hordern Brothers," importers and general drapers, of Pitt-street, Sydney, proceeded against J. B. Sutton, of the American Bar, Castlereagh-street, Sydney, for the recovery of £40 0s 9d, alleged to be owing by defendant to plaintiffs for certain house furnishings.

The defence was never indebted, and that the goods were ordered by the defendant as chairman of directors of Holland House, Ltd. (now in liquidation), on behalf of the company, and not for himself personally for the American Bar.

Mr. Mack, instructed by Messrs. Read and Read, appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. Hammond, instructed by Mr. S. T. Laurence, for the defendant.

His Honor found a verdict for the plaintiffs for the amount claimed.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

(Before Judge Backhouse and Juries.)

Mr. Herbert Harris, Crown Prosecutor.

ACQUITTED OF ASSAULT.

Victor Chenny, 17, was charged with having maliciously wounded John Mossman Williams, on November 17, 1914.

Mr. P. K. White appeared for the accused.

Chenny's defence was that Williams was accidentally struck in the face.

The jury, after a short retirement, returned with a verdict of not guilty, and Chenny was discharged.

TWO MEN CHARGED.

Two young men, William Downes and William Murray, were charged with having attempted to choke John Devine Smith, on December 26, 1914, and with having robbed him of £5 in money and a wristlet watch.

Mr. Perry (instructed by Mr. Dawes) appeared for Downes; and Mr. H. E. McIntosh for Murray.

Both the accused pleaded not guilty.

Downes gave evidence to the effect that he was nowhere near the scene at the time specified, and a number of witnesses corroborated his story.

Murray made a statement from the dock that, though he was at the scene of the fight, as he called it, he only interfered to try and prevent it.

His Honor, after hearing the evidence of the independent witnesses, suggested that the case against Downes should be withdrawn. Mr. Harris agreed to this course, and Downes was acquitted.

Murray was found guilty on both counts, and remanded for sentence.

CHARGE AGAINST UNION COLLECTOR.

William M'Kinnell, a middle-aged man, was charged with having fraudulently misappropriated the sum of £113 14s 5d, the property of the Firemen and Engine-drivers' Union.

Accused, who was represented by Mr. T. Rose, pleaded guilty to having misappropriated the sum of £10, which he had omitted to pay into the union secretary, Frederick Thomas Turner, on August 8, 1914.

He was remanded for sentence.

RAILWAY SERVICE.

AMALGAMATED ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE.

Seventy-five delegates from all parts of New South Wales attended the twenty-fourth annual conference of the Amalgamated Railway and Tramway Service Association which was opened in Bowen's-buildings, Railway-square, yesterday.

The report of the general secretary, Mr. Claude Thompson, stated that in regard to the suggestion for closer union a "unity conference" had been held, in conjunction with the Officers' Association, the Traffic Association, the Tramway Union, the Railway Workers and General Labourers' Association, and the Loco. Drivers, Firemen, and Cleaners' Association. A resolution was carried declaring for a line of action which would prevent the possibility of overlapping and duplication. The sub-committee then appointed the general secretaries of the service unions a committee to consider the matter. "The prospects of absolute amalgamation," said the report, "are at present remote, but the prospects of a close federation are particularly bright. The Amalgamated Association has been unofficially invited to apply for affiliation with the Grand Council."

The president, Mr. E. D. Campbell, referred, in his opening address, "with regret" to the fact that the Government had introduced a new Appeals Board Bill. "This is," he said, "with the idea of appointing a permanent chairman—something which the association has fought for for many years. But the service will be re-grouped into eight distinct sections, each section to have one representative and one deputy, making 16 in all. This grouping is on an arbitrary basis. It is unwieldy and cumbrous; it will prove unworkable, and break down of its own weight. I say without hesitation, after having some years of experience on the board, that, although there will be an independent chairman, the new order of things will be worse than the present. I urge conference to fight against the constitution of an appeals board cast on sectional lines, and I suggest that the best means to do this is to bring pressure to bear on the Minister in charge of the bill and upon the representatives of Labour in constituencies where such representatives are dependent on railway support for their election.

"My duties on the Superannuation Board brought me," continued the president, "into very close touch with the operation of the superannuation provisions of the Railways Act. I venture to say it will not be wise to agitate for a reopening of the question of the superannuation provisions at present. For this reason—there is a bill now before Parliament dealing with superannuation for the Public Service, and should the question of railway superannuation be opened there is a danger that our special fund may be swamped in that of a Public Service Fund. This will be to the detriment of railway men. Frankly I confess that the Act is not as perfect as it might be. It needs amendment in certain directions, but I think it would be fair to give it a decent trial before approaching the Government for an amendment."

The address of the president, which was in printed form, was adopted.

The conference will be continued to-day.

NEW TIME-TABLE.

The new railway time-table, which has been arranged with a view to minimising expenses during the war, came into operation yesterday. There is not much alteration in the times of arrival and departure of the various trains, and it is not thought that the rearrangement will cause much inconvenience to passengers.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.

At yesterday's meeting of the health committee of the City Council the health officer reported that 23 cases of infectious diseases had occurred in the city area during the past fortnight, 17 of these being cases of scarlet fever, 9 of diphtheria, and 3 of typhoid fever. In addition, 14 cases of phthisis had been notified.

POLICE COURTS.

CHARGE OF STEALING.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, James Edmund Clark, 20, was charged before Mr. A. L. Barnett, S.M., with having stolen on or about February 1, 3 silk singlets, valued at 30s, the property of Patterson, Laing, Bruce, Ltd. Accused, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labour, the sentence to be suspended upon Clark entering into a surety of £25, to be of good behaviour for 12 months.

ALLEGED STEALING.

James Christie Bottomley was charged on a provisional warrant at the Central Police Court yesterday, with having stolen £11, the property of Burns, Philp, Ltd., at Cairns, on November 27, 1914. Senior-Sergeant M'Intosh, on the question of bail, stated that the amount involved was £5000. Accused had been in the employ of Burns, Philp, Ltd. Bottomley, when asked if he had anything to say, replied that he was not guilty and that an exaggeration had been made. Accused was remanded until February 22, bail being fixed at £500.

OVERDRIVING A HORSE.

In the summons division of the North Sydney Police Court yesterday, Alexander Simpson was fined £2, with costs £1 4s, or in default a month in gaol, for having overdriven a horse.

Mr. Moss, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, conducted the prosecution.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

Thos. Long, 45, and William Wild, 50, were charged at the Central Police Court, before Mr. A. N. Barnett, S.M., with having represented themselves as officers of the Taxation Department, and having alleged that the fee of furnishing a return would be 2s. Five charges were made; in three cases the money was said to have been handed over, but in the other two no payment was obtained.

Mr. Hindmarsh, secretary to the Department of Taxation, stated that the accused were not in the employ of the Department of Taxation, and had not been authorised by the Commissioners to call on the public and to assist with the filling in of such returns, and, further, had not been authorised to make any charge for the filling in of such forms.

Mr. Ryan, who appeared for the defendants, contended that as no official of the Department of Taxation was allowed to fill in forms, it was not against the law for any person to fill in the return of any person not able to do so on his own account. He further stated that advertisements appeared daily in the papers from persons who were prepared to supervise the filling in of income tax returns. Mr. Hindmarsh stated that he had not seen these advertisements, but he had seen signs of people who styled themselves income tax adjusters.

The accused, who pleaded not guilty, were remanded to the following day.

THE NEW RAILWAY SERVICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Few will deny that the district from Hornsby to Cowan, only some 15 miles from Sydney, with a high elevation and clear mountain air, as a healthy residential area, cannot be excelled. This district, despite many promises, has received very little assistance from the Railway Commissioners in the way of an up-to-date service. The new timetable has been issued, and we find that the Commissioners have decided to economise, where, unfortunately they have always economised too much. Trains have been cut out, and our service is now worse than it was 12 years ago. We find that from 9.45 a.m. to 6.25 p.m. we have now no train at all. Nine hours without a train, and this not at Bourke, but within 15 miles of Sydney. I think that before the Commissioners decided to maroon the residents they might have considered the advisability of allowing some of the trains that pass through to stop. Tenants have faced the question by looking for a new home in a more favoured if less healthy locality, whilst we poor house owners are left to develop a sympathetic fellow feeling with Robinson Crusoe of old. We are a long-suffering people, and from the way that we have put up for years with a poor service, evidently slow to anger; but this is the last straw.

I am, etc.,
ALFRED RODICH, Mt. Colah.

ZINC SPELTER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—What is wrong with Port Kembla as a base for a large smelting works to produce zinc spelter, and deal with other metals? It has every advantage that Germany could possess except cheap labour, and even surpasses Germany in the matter of harbour accommodation; it should be the most economic base in the Commonwealth.

Its advantages are:—

First.—A safe, large harbour, with a depth of water sufficient for any vessel.

Second.—Good wharfage for the reception of ore or the delivery of spelter, etc.

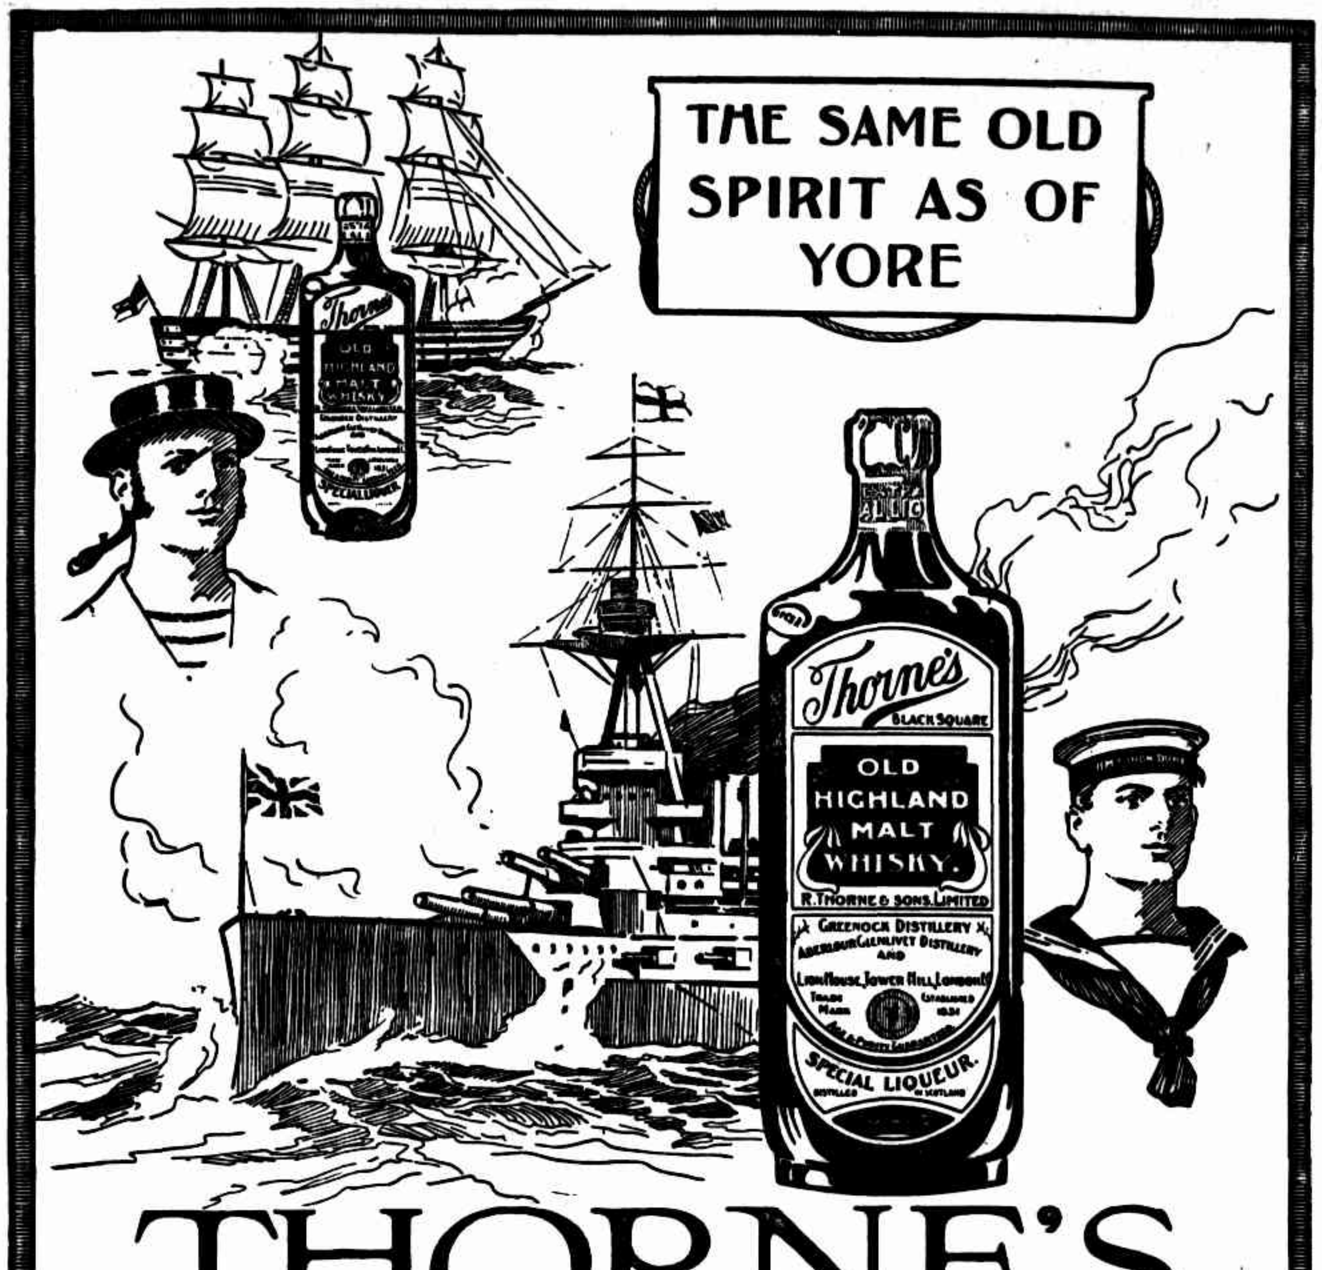

Third.—Any quantity of the very best coal for coke in Australia is available, especially south of Mount Kembla. The coke is the strongest and the highest in calories.

Fourth.—The present large shipping trade in coke at Port Kembla could provide return freight for steamers bringing ore for smelting.

Fifth.—The State has recently resumed 1400 acres in the vicinity with the object of having the same utilised for enterprise of this character.

FRUIT FOR THE FRONT.

The appeal that is being made by the fruit and vegetable section of the Red Cross Society for the silent watchers on the Fleet in the North Sea, as well as for the military hospitals at the front, should undoubtedly meet with a ready response on the part of growers in this State. Everyone knows the great value of ripe fruit as an adjunct to the dietary scale in the sick room or the hospital, and in cases approaching convalescence it need hardly be pointed out that gifts of the kinds mentioned would prove very welcome to the wounded soldier who has made satisfactory progress and is probably only too eager to return to the fighting line.

The particular branch of the Red Cross Society already referred to desires to make a special shipment of 500 cases of apples in March next to the men of the North Sea fleet, and it will only be necessary to bring the matter under the notice of our fruit-growers to ensure a generous contribution being made. The Government is being asked for a contribution of 100 cases from the experiment farms, and these will doubtless be forthcoming. A special appeal is also being made to every branch of the Agricultural Bureau for fresh or canned fruit and vegetables. Such gifts may be sent either in tins or bottles, or in the raw state, and, in point of fact, any home product of this nature will doubtless prove acceptable to our wounded and sick soldiers on the fleet or at the front, as well as to those in hospital at our local training camps in connection with the expeditionary force.

In a communication from the Vegetable Products' Committee in London, which is appealing for contributions of fruit and vegetables, it is pointed out that large quantities of produce have already been sent to the men of the fleet, while similar parcels have been forwarded to the army camps and the military hospitals at the front. Appreciative letters have been received from the officers in command, expressing the earnest hope that the supply may be maintained. The fruit season in the United Kingdom is now over, and the committee has to fall back upon the tinned or bottled article and imported fruits, so that gifts of fruit and vegetables from this side of the world will be doubly acceptable. For the military hospitals a supply of lemons is badly needed, and an appeal is made to growers to provide five cases a week, which would not mean a heavy contribution if spread over a number of growers. The fruit and vegetable section of the Red Cross Society is carrying on a laudable work in securing adequate supplies for the use of the military hospitals, and we feel sure that the appeal now made needs only to be brought before our fruit and vegetable growers in order to ensure of a liberal response, bearing in mind the truth of the aphorism that he who gives quickly gives twice.

ENGLISH WOOL TRADE.

DEMAND FOR CROSSBRED TOPS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BRADFORD, Jan. 8.

The market shows the effect of several influences. Cables from oversea centres report a higher level of values all round, Timaru being quoted ½d above Dunedin, and Buenos Ayres quotations for clean scoured wool having advanced ½d to 1d on the week. In Buenos Ayres, America, France, and Germany are operating freely, Yorkshire being an onlooker. In Bradford some fair sales of South American crossbreds have taken place this week, but the outstanding demand has been for fine and medium crossbred tops, in which a great business has been done. These qualities are making ½d more for spot delivery than they were sold at a month ago for delivery in January, and for March and April topmakers have advanced quotations a full ½d. Merinos also are steadier, both for spot and future business, but it is doubtful if the announcement that Australia is permitting shipments to the United States—under guarantee not to re-export—will have a real sustaining effect. Over 100,000 bales of merinos are available for the London sales, and we cannot see how the trade can lift such a weight without a further drop. Japan has been operating freely in dry combed merino tops during the week, but the business is not expected to last. At all events, supplies of Botany wool are in sight more than enough for the trade's needs. Topmakers are finding great difficulty in getting wool from the docks, where, in many cases, it has lain for some weeks. Railway companies are reluctant to accept transport business more than usual, and many deliveries due to be made on January contracts are behindhand. Both the London and Liverpool docks are choked with traffic, and the situation is a most aggravating one. The pressure in the khaki trade continues, and though no more British Government orders have been given out, plenty are offering on French account.

HOW THE EMBARGO IS DODGED.

The ways of the Board of Trade and the War Office are not always understood by the public. The motives of many of their actions are not divulged, but on occasions the idea strikes one that there are motives but no action. One of these has cropped up recently, and was suggested by the news that 934 bales of American wool were being shipped to the German port of Bremen. If our Government allows this shipment to go through, how many more will it be possible to send, and is the embargo any use? Last week comment was made on the suggestion that wool should be made contraband of war, and the embargo raised, and if Germany is going to get wool in the above manner, the sooner the raw material is declared contraband the better, as the embargo seems in this one case of no effect. Of course, it has some use, for America cannot go on shipping wool to Germany indefinitely without getting supplies from somewhere. The South American market is a limited sphere for buying, and eventually the exports to the enemy would cease.

One practice that has not been commented on on this side of the Atlantic is that of Germans selling goods to the United States which are paid for on reaching Amsterdam, or some other port. They then are American property, and cannot be seized by British ships of war. What is liked less still in this country is the sending of American goods to Germany, which are not German property until they get into that country, as payment is deferred that length of time. Here again our ships cannot confiscate. If the contraband suggestion would make such trade impossible, or highly dangerous, it might pay Great Britain to make the necessary declaration soon.

One thing is certain. America has shown her cards, or at least shown what the intentions of a part of her wool industry are, by the Carolyn shipment. How can Britain be expected to raise the embargo now? We want crossbreds, so we cannot let them go. Germany wants merinos, so we cannot afford to let them go either.

CLOTHING THE ARMIES.

There have been many exaggerations of the size of the orders placed, many of the most striking of these "fairy tales" emanating from the United States, but the fact remains that some very good sized contracts have been given out. For instance, the 3,000,000 yard order which the Russian Government has been trying to place for well over a month here in England would represent about seven weeks' work for all the mills of Huddersfield. This town, by a recent estimate, is turning out 250 miles of khaki per week. All round the busy manufacturing districts, Government inspectors are visiting the mills, not to see, as formerly, if the employers are breaking the factory laws, but to make sure that every loom and frame is running. This war has set many manufacturers on their feet, but also many have worked at a loss on some orders. We note one American paper urging United States manufacturers not to cut prices "on army orders given out in their country, but to put a price on that will leave a "handsome profit," and make the "dancers pay for the music." Certainly, a fair working profit should be ensured, and that on a price that ensures a good article, but whether poor material is being served up to the Government in this country or not, orders have been accepted by United States mills at prices which will compel them to substitute.

Russia is without supplies. She was caught unprepared for Germany's declaration of war, and her tremendous forces lack clothing. This fact has not been stated by the Russian Government, but how else can their frantic efforts to secure supplies be explained? France also to some extent is without clothing for her troops, and in addition most of her mills are seized by the invaders and even being worked by them for their own account in some cases. The German War Wool Requirements Company, Limited, could very well be the largest organisation of its kind in the world, for Germany's big army needs some clothing. In fact, it is rumoured that cotton is being used. Certainly if the German people are being urged to eat only bread which is two-thirds potatoes, it is possible the soldiers are being served with cloth which is only two-thirds wool, if that. The German people have been asked to send old clothes and old military uniforms to various centres, either for use as shoddy or direct as army clothing.

Our mills are providing the major part of the allies' textile wants, in uniform cloths, overcoatings, blankets, flannels, underwear, and hosiery. In addition there are the thousands, perhaps millions, of women and girls all over the country knitting various articles for our troops. The effect of the war orders has, indeed, been surprising.

THE BUTTER POSITION.

LONDON, Jan. 8.

The butter market has maintained a very firm tone, and prices are about 2s per cwt dearer all round. But the congestion at the docks still continues, and becomes accentuated. Never in the history of the trade has there been so much trouble experienced in getting delivery of goods. Owing to the shortage of labour, it is impossible to get discharge of all the steamers now lying in the various London docks. And the number of vessels thus awaiting unloading has doubled in the past fortnight. In consequence of this, all butter landed is eagerly bought up the moment it is available, and until there is an accumulation there is hardly likely to be relief. The Copenhagen quotation was unchanged last week, and the market for Danish butter remains very firm at prices ranging from 148s to 154s per cwt, according to quality and the district in which the butter is sold. Supplies from Denmark are decreasing, partly on account of German demand, and also because of inclement weather experienced in the former country during the last four or five weeks. These causes more than account for the high level of prices ruling for Danish butter recently. The small arrivals of Siberian have been snapped up at relatively high prices, namely, 128s to 132s for best salted, and 124s to 126s for medium and inferior grades. Very little Siberian butter now landing can be described as really choicest quality.

New Zealand salted and unsalted butter is in very strong demand at from 138s to 140s per cwt, the latter price having been made within the last few days. There is no doubt the quality of New Zealand butter has attracted a large number of fresh buyers this season in the north of England, the Midlands, and Scotland; these buyers have been tempted to buy the Australasian article in view of the very high price of Danish. In all probability, the present season will do much to beat down the prejudice which used to exist in the great northern centres against oversea box butters; for there is not the slightest doubt that many of these north country buyers have been agreeably surprised at the very fine quality of New Zealand and Australian butter. As far as the latter is concerned, the market is equally strong, and best brands of Australian salted and unsalted have been selling freely at 136s to 138s, and even up to as high as 140s has been paid for specially fine western district, unsalted, Victorian butter. One of the strangest features of the market continues to be the extraordinary scarcity of under-priced butter, and now that the French Government has to all intents and purposes stopped the export of butter to this country, the scarcity is even more pronounced.

To-day's closing quotations are:—Victorian, salted and unsalted, 136s to 138s; New South Wales, salted 134s to 136s, up to 138s, unsalted 136s to 138s, good to fine 132s, unsalted 132s to 134s; Queensland, 134s to 136s, unsalted 136s to 138s, good to fine salt 132s, unsalted 132s to 134s; New Zealand, 138s to 140s, unsalted 138s to 140s, good to fine 134s to 136s; Argentine, 134s to 137s, good to fine 132s, unsalted 134s to 138s; Danish, 153s to 154s, market quiet.

EXPORT OF APPLES.

SOUTH AMERICAN MARKETS.

The prospects of the fruit export trade to South America were discussed the other day by Mr. F. W. B. Greville, of Wellington (N.Z.), who recently visited Rio de Janeiro and Monte Video.

"The boat by which I travelled from New Zealand to Monte Video carried 12,000 cases of Tasmanian apples, and a similar quantity of New Zealand apples," he said. "The weakness of the New Zealand packing was revealed to me at Monte Video. There the fruit is handled by Spanish stevedores working against time. The New Zealand cases are most flimsy, and consequently often broke in handling, but the Tasmanian cases stood the test remarkably well. Uruguay and the Argentine provide a fine market, only three weeks distant from New Zealand, and a month from Australia—a market that can take all the fruit we can send, and pay a long price for it, too. I was credibly informed that imported apples are retailed at from 6d to 10d each in the great South American cities. Manifestly the industry is one that calls for immediate development, with a particular eye on the South American trade."

RAIN BADLY WANTED.

MOLONG.—The conditions at Manildra are becoming very unsatisfactory. In all directions the country presents a very parched appearance, and herbage is becoming scarce. The dams are also being reduced to a minimum of usefulness, and rain is urgently required. The evil is accentuated by the recent heavy storms having swept away many dam banks, which, in consequence, contain more mud than water. In the town of Manildra the situation is even more acute. Many householders are compelled to draw water for domestic purposes a distance of nearly two miles. Wheat is coming in in fairly large quantities, but owing to the great scarcity of trucks the siding is overloaded with grain awaiting transport. The maize crop is fast deteriorating owing to the lack of rain.

SHORTAGE OF TRUCKS.

TAMWORTH.—The shortage of trucks has been a standing complaint in the Tamworth district for some considerable time past, but of late the trouble has been more pronounced than ever, particularly at Nemingha Siding, where lucerne growers find it a difficult matter to procure the necessary trucks for the conveyance of their produce to market. Mr. Chaffey, M.L.A., drew attention to the matter in the House, and the Premier said he would be glad of specific instances. Mr. Chaffey visited Tamworth and occupied a good deal of his time in making inquiries, as the result of which he despatched a wire to the District Superintendent of Railways, stating that at Nemingha 52 trucks were required, and many for conveyance of fodder for starving stock. Teamsters had been held up for ten days. The district superintendent replied that the demand for trucks was extremely heavy throughout the State, but he would do his best to assist the Nemingha people.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

GOULBURN.—The apples and pears this year should be exceptionally good, and the crop large. From Mr. F. Stone's Belmont orchard a thousand cases of pears and the same quantity of apples will be sent to market. One apple tree (a stone pippin) will yield 50 cases, and three pear trees will easily fill 200 cases. Off one acre of William pears it is estimated that, at the present market rate, £250 will be realised. The yield of grapes will be excellent. One bunch of white grapes weighs about 14lb.

NARRABRI.—250 sheep, the property of Messrs. Bolger Bros., being portion of a mob of 5000, died on the stock route to Wonbobbie after eating yellow vine, commonly known as fat hen.

TAMWORTH.—The Tamworth P.P. Board has fixed the following bonuses to be paid by the board during the next 12 months on scalps of noxious animals:—Wombats 1s, paddymellons 3d, kangaroo rats 2d, native dogs 10s, pups under three months old 5s. It was stated by the secretary of the board that the noxious animals in the Tamworth P.P. district had apparently greatly decreased. Last year the board paid only £420 for scalps as against £1000 and £1500 in previous years. Foxes are still prevalent in the district, and even do considerable damage to the vineyards. The fees on wombats were increased from sixpence to a shilling, members of the board pointing out that these animals could do as much as £5 worth of damage in one night to a fence. Corn crops in the Tamworth district have practically failed, owing to the recent hot weather. Only a week ago the maize paddocks were looking splendid, and gave every promise of a splendid harvest. Great damage has been done by the hot winds. One farmer, who expected to harvest 400 bags, will now only get about 10 bags. This will be a great blow to the district, especially following upon the failure of the wheat crops.

MEETINGS OF FARMERS.

MUDGEE.—The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Mudgee Farmers and Settlers' Association on Saturday:—President, Mr. J. S. Carter; vice-presidents, Messrs. G. Stewart and Hy. Cox; treasurer, Mr. J. Welsh; and secretary, Mr. G. F. Oram.

BUILDINGS AND WORKS.

PROGRESS OF THE TRADE.

RACECOURSE IMPROVEMENTS.

Under the direction of Messrs. Robertson and Marks, architects, the work of erecting the new official stand at the Canterbury Park racecourse is nearing completion. It will be one of the best on the suburban courses. On the main floor is the secretary's office, besides a cash-room, telegraph office, weighing and jockeys' rooms. The first floor has been divided into stewards' rooms, a bar, pressrooms, and a large room for the officials working the scratching board. The official stand will provide seating accommodation for the public to the extent of 300 persons. The contractor is Mr. H. Seymour.

In the same architects' offices a contract has recently been let to Messrs. Gawne and Son for the erection of a new scratching board in the paddock at the Randwick racecourse. This is to provide the necessary information to the public and the bookmakers who occupy the northern end of the paddock. The information will be displayed on both sides of the board. The idea is to give the scratchings for each race, the names of jockeys, positions at the post, and information regarding penalties.

AUSTRALIAN JOCKEY CLUB OFFICES.

The remodelling of the offices of the Australian Jockey Club premises in Bligh-street is nearing completion. This work, which is being carried out under the supervision of Messrs. Robertson and Marks, is of an extensive character. The ground floor has been set apart entirely for the staff. The main entrance leads into the public offices, which have been enlarged, and they are also well appointed. At the rear is the secretary's office, assistant secretary's room, typist's office, and general office. On the first floor a committee room, 42ft 6in x 24ft 6in, has been provided. This room is beautifully finished, the decorations being a special feature. The front portion of this floor will be fitted up for members of the club. On the second floor are the caretaker's quarters. The lighting of the building throughout has been very much improved. The contractors were Messrs. Howie, Brown, and Moffatt.

GENERAL NOTES.

Mr. E. Lindsay Thompson, architect, has let a contract for the erection of a new hotel at the corner of Druitt and Clarence streets. The building will be one of three stories, and will contain all the latest fittings. The construction generally will be on the most modern lines.

The Redfern fire station has lately been undergoing improvements. This building has been increased in size. The stables at the rear have been pulled down, the watch-room rebuilt and enlarged, and a 25-shutter telephone switchboard fitted. A room at the rear has been converted into a recreation and reading room for the firemen. Electric light has been installed throughout the building. The station is supplied with an up-to-date motor turbine pumping engine.

In the office of Messrs. Robertson and Marks, architects, a contract has been let to Messrs. W. Gawne and Son for the erection of an hotel at South Kensington. The building will have a frontage to the Bunnerong-road of 103ft by a depth along Rainbow-street of 62ft. There will be an extensive basement and wine cellar. The ground floor will contain well-arranged public and private bars, a first-class entrance vestibule, with lounges, a well-appointed dining-room, a large kitchen, parlours, and offices. On the first floor there will be a dozen large bedrooms, also sitting-rooms, bathrooms, etc. The same accommodation will be provided on the second floor.

St. David's Presbyterian Church at Dobroyde, now Haberfield, has been always noted for its steeple. Tenders are now called for the purchase and removal of this steeple.

The New South Wales Gun Club's old grounds at Lord's-road, Mascot, are to be sold by tender. The land measures about 80 acres, securely fenced, and wood and brick residence, and other improvements. The closing date has been fixed for February 28.

Closing dates have been fixed by Messrs. Buchanan and M'Kay, architects, as follow:—Additions to premises, city, and erection of villa at Ashfield, 17th inst.; erection of flats, Neutral Bay, March 5. The tender of Mr. W. G. Smith has been accepted for a bungalow at Milner-crescent, Wollstonecraft.

The Commonwealth Government is calling for tenders for the manufacture in Australia of 12 locomotives of the New South Wales T. and F. class, for delivery at Fremantle and Port Augusta for the Kalgoorlie railway.

The Queensland Government is calling for tenders for the erection and completion of the superstructure of the new Government Savings Bank and Public offices at Brisbane. The foundation walls to a certain extent are already erected. The building will be one of eight stories and a basement. The closing date has been fixed for April 8. Plans may be seen at the Public Works Department, Sydney.

Messrs. Scott and Green, architects, are preparing plans for a large residence at Double Bay. In the same office the tender of Messrs. B. J. Grice and Co. has been accepted for alterations and general renovations to banking premises in George-street.

In the office of Messrs. Morrow and De Putron, architects, plans are in course of preparation for additions to a factory at Balmain, and also for the erection of a factory at Redfern.

Messrs. Nixon and Son, architects, have accepted the tender of Mr. E. Boyne, builder, for making extensive additions and alterations and general remodelling of business premises at North Sydney; also the tender of Mr. A. Butcher to erect a residence at Cheltenham; and that of Mr. A. Thompson to erect a residence at Gordon. In the same office plans are being prepared for alterations and general improvements to business premises at Ashfield. Plans are complete and tenders called for a residence at Bellevue Hill, the closing date of which has been fixed for 22nd inst. In the same office the closing date for a residence at Leura has been fixed for 24th instant.

Mr. G. W. Durrell, architect, is preparing plans for a warehouse to be erected in Wentworth-avenue. The building will be one of 10 stories.

In the office of Mr. R. Louat, architect, contracts have been let for the following works:—Additions and alterations at Mosman, Mr. N. W. Trevaskis; painting, repairs, etc., at Bay-road, Mr. T. R. Hughes; tuckpointing, at Vaucluse, Mr. E. Osborne.

The tender of Mr. H. J. Bourne, of Rozelle, has been accepted by Mr. Herbert Dennis, architect, for renovations and sewerage connections to residence at Drummoyne. In the same office tenders will shortly be called for residences at Drummoyne, Northwood, and Woolwich, and plans are being prepared for a large residence at Homebush, and bungalows at Gladesville and Wentworth Falls.

Mr. T. P. Sampson, architect, has accepted the tender of Mr. Benjamin Bourne for erecting a residence at Strathfield. Tenders close on Wednesday, 17th instant, for new premises, Flinders-street, city.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Horse-racing will be the attraction at Kembla Grange this afternoon, and metropolitan sportsmen will be accommodated with special trains starting from the Central Railway Station at 9.55 (horses), 10.30, and 11.2 a.m. The track is reported to be excellent going, and the customary provision has been made for the requirements of a large gathering. Good sport is promised, and an early return to the city is assured.

Up to 5 p.m. to-day the secretary, Mr. G. N. Kilduff, will receive nominations for the next fixture of the Richmond Pony Racing Club on the Londonderry Racecourse on Saturday next. The prize money totals 155 sovs, distributed over half-a-dozen events, the principal of which is the Richmond Handicap of 50 sovs. Entries will be received at the office, 13 Elizabeth-street, city, up to the hour already mentioned, and at Richmond up to 8 p.m.

Since the appearance of the weights for the V.R.C. Newmarket Handicap, Woorak ruled as favourite in the betting market until Saturday, when the smart gallop of the imported colt Flash of Steel brought him prominently into the betting, and later on Traquette's showing in the St. George's Stakes drew attention to her chances in the big sprint race. Yesterday Woorak, Flash of Steel, and Traquette disputed favouritism, three points in advance of Herringbone, who was six points in front of Philio and Amata, while Gigandra, Athenic, and Tofua were four points further back. Lempriere and De Gama were the only horses whose prospects were seriously discussed in connection with the Australian Cup, and there was nothing doing on that race.

J. Whitworth, the trainer of Moonbria, notifies that the son of Merriwee will not be sent to Melbourne to fulfil his autumn engagements.

The half-a-dozen events on the card for the Rosehill February Meeting attracted 149 nominations yesterday, distributed as under: Hurdle Race 17, February Stakes 29, Granville Stakes 27, Nursery Handicap 36, Rosehill Handicap 16, and Parramatta Mile 21.

Our Broken Hill correspondent telegraphs that J. S. Lees, who was disqualified for 12 months over the Neutral affair in the Summer Handicap, at the South Broken Hill races on Saturday, is a member of the committee of the Licensed Victuallers' Racing Club. He is also a member of the Racing Registration Board, and assisted in the selection of the three stipendiary stewards who now wiped him out. He has long been associated with Broken Hill and Adelaide racing, as owner of racehorses.

The following race meetings have been granted registration by the A.J.C.:—Binda Race Club (April 5), Coolah Racecourse and Recreation (April 20), Upper Manning Jockey Club (March 6).

A lively incident occurred at a race meeting at Warwick (Q.) on Saturday afternoon. At the conclusion of the last race a bookmaker declined to pay over any money, alleging he had not the requisite amount to meet the wagers. Members of the committee did not adjust the matter, and the bookmaker was allowed to go. He was surrounded by an angry crowd. The police interposed, and arrested the man. When searched at the watchhouse only a few shillings were found in his possession.

VICTORIAN SPORTING NOTES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Flash of Steel was slightly better favourite for the Newmarket Handicap to-day than Woorak. Herringbone and Traquette were next in demand. Saracen was introduced for the same race and well supported. De Gama is favourite for the Australian Cup.

LATEST SCRATCHINGS.

ILLAWARRA TOURNAMENT.

WOLLONGONG, Monday.

The semi-finals and final of the Illawarra Tennis Association's singles tournament was played on the local Presbyterian court on Saturday. Results: R. Wynn, 25 behind scratch, beat J. C. Jones, scr., by 60 points to 54; R. Wynn beat J. Colquhoun, 20 on, by 60 to 42. The final was played between R. Wynn (Woonona) and A. Gray, who qualified for the final at Kiama. Wynn was 25 behind, and Gray 3 on. Wynn won by 60 to 57.

GOLF.

MUNICIPAL LINKS AT MOORE PARK.

At yesterday's meeting of the health committee of the City Council a communication from the Department of Lands was read, agreeing to the council's proposal to hand over the control of the municipal links at Moore Park to the Moore Park Golf Club. It was stipulated, however, that the fees for players who are not members should be fixed at 1s for a full round of 18 holes, or 6d for 9 holes, and that provision should be expressly made whereby any properly-behaved and respectable person was to be entitled to membership of the club on payment of the prescribed fees.

MOSS VALE CLUB.

MOSS VALE, Monday.

The above club's bogey competition resulted as follows:—H. A. Richardson (9), 1 up; J. S. Arnott (11), 2 down.

As both clubs are now a tie, a play-off will take place on neutral ground.

CYCLING.

ALBERT CLUB.

The following are results of Albert Club track races, held Saturday afternoon:—

Half-mile Handicap.—Lawrence, 90yds, 1; Harrison, 40yds, 2; Ward, 80yds, 3.

Mile Handicap.—Lawrence, 120yds, 1; Frazer, 160yds, 2; Patrick, 45yds, 3.

Five-Mile Scratch Race.—Somers, 1; Pattrick, 2; Lawrence, 3; Ward, 4. Won by inches. Time, 12m 35s.

MOTOR BOATING.

The syndicate which owns the Kangaroo (90-h.p.) has challenged Mr. C. H. Relph, holder of the speed pennant of the harbour. Curiously enough, it was with Kangaroo that Mr. Relph won the championship, but he now owns Meteor I. (120-h.p.), and it is probable that he will defend his title with her. Mr. Relph recently sold Kangaroo to the syndicate which has challenged him.

BOXING.

KAY BEATS MOREY.

BRISBANE, Monday.

The second meeting of Fred Kay and Alf Morey for the welter weight championship of Australia on Saturday night at the Brisbane stadium resulted in a reversal of the previous result. This occasion Kay obtained the verdict, and the decision was unquestionable. For the first two rounds Morey had the better of matters; for the succeeding half a dozen rounds first one and then the other was predominant. From the ninth round Kay assumed the command. The performance was unexpectedly crisp and vigorous. For quite three-fifths of the contest, at least, Kay was the aggressor.

Dr. John Freeman, a London bacteriologist, has returned after a journey to Galicia to obtain the necessary bacillus "cultures" for preventive use against cholera if an outbreak occurs among our troops in the western theatre of war. He states that the epidemic in the eastern area is not so virulent as was feared.

Be in this for a prize. Lipton's Tea Competition gives £250 in cash. Save Lipton wrappers.—Advt.

No sympathy is needed now,
Your cares are all at rest;
Oh happy they who now can say,
Who loved and served you best.
Inserted by her loving sisters and niece, E. Burn, J. Law, and S. Leonard.

MALEY.—In sad but ever-loving remembrance of our dearly loved son and brother, Reggie, aged 15½ years, who passed away suddenly, February 16, 1911. Sadly missed.
Four years have passed since that sad day,
When Reggie, dear, was called away.
God took him home, it was His will,
Forget him, no, we never will.

IN MEMORIAM.

MALEY.—A token of love to the memory of my dearly loved brother, Reggie, aged 15½ years, who died suddenly, February 16, 1911. Ever remembered by his loving sister, Elsie Maley.

MALEY.—In sad memory of my loved nephew, Reggie Maley, aged 15½ years, who died suddenly, February 16, 1911.
Four years have passed, dear Reg,
But your memory will never fade.
Inserted by his loving uncle, Ern Gaw.

MARTIN.—In loving memory of our Rita Lurline, who left us for the land beyond the river February 16, 1912. Inserted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Martin, and family.

NIELSEN.—In sad but loving memory of my dear husband, Mathias, who departed this life peacefully February 16, 1910, at his residence, 221 Bridge-road, Glebe Point, in his 76th year.
In sorrow I come to the side of your grave,
While thinking of many kind words you have said;
In silence we parted, as you motionless lay,
In sorrow I leave, what more could I say?
The last thing at night, and the first thing at morn,
My thoughts are of you, "Darf" I sorrowfully mourn.
Inserted by his loving wife, M. Nielsen.

NIELSEN.—In sad but loving memory of our dear father and Grandpa, Mathias Nielsen (Mattie), late Golden Grove, 'bus proprietor, who departed this life February 16, 1910, in his 76th year. Sadly missed.
The rolling stream of time rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of him who once sat there.
Inserted by his ever-loving children, Will, Carl, Cissie, Fred, Violet, Ethel, and Ernie, also grandchildren.

O'NEILE.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, who departed this life on February 16, 1913. Inserted by his loving wife, sons, and daughters.

O'NEILE.—In loving memory of our dear brother and uncle, William Henry O'Neile, who died February 16, 1913. Inserted by his loving sister and niece, S. Hussey and B. Filde.

PIGGOTT.—In loving memory of our dear loving daddy, and grandpa, Charles Henry Piggott, who died February 16, 1913.
His cheerful face and pleasant voice
Are pleasant to recall.
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Inserted by his loving sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, and grandchildren.

PIGGOTT.—In loving memory of our darling dad and grandpa, Charles Henry Piggott, who departed this life February 16, 1913.
Oh, how I miss you, dad, dear,
'Tis God alone can tell;
I spend many a lonely hour,
And shed many a silent tear.
Inserted by his loving daughter and son-in-law, Rose and Albert Gallard, and little grandson, Spen.

PIGGOTT.—In sad but loving memory of our dear father, Charles Henry Piggott, who departed this life February 16, 1913. At rest. Inserted by his loving daughters and sons-in-law, Clare, May, Andy, and Aub.

SARGENT.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Emma, who passed away February 16, 1913.
Short and sudden was the call
Of her, so dearly loved by all;
Her memory is as dear to-day
As in the hour she passed away.
Inserted by her loving son and daughter-in-law, Tom and Sophia Sargent.

SARGENT.—In fond memory of my dear mother, Emma, who passed away February 16, 1913.
A precious one from us has gone,
The voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.
Inserted by her loving daughter, Dolly.

SARGENT.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Emma, who passed away February 16, 1913.
All is sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts to-day,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has for ever passed away.
Inserted by her loving son and daughter-in-law, George and Sophia Sargent.

THOMAS.—In loving memory of our little daughter, Gladys, who died February 15, 1911. Inserted by her loving parents, sisters, and brother.

WALSH.—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, John Ellwood, who died February 16, 1912. Inserted by his loving wife and children, Lavinia, Ivy, Ruby, and Jack Walsh.

WOOLMER.—In loving remembrance of our dear father and grandfather, Edward Woolmer, who departed this life February 16, 1912. Gone, but not forgotten. Inserted by Mary and Albert Still and family.

WOOLMER.—In remembrance of my dear father and grandfather, Edward Woolmer, who departed this life February 16, 1912.
As the days pass away
Still our memory thinks of you.
Inserted by Frederick and Sarah Woolmer and family.

WOOLMER.—In loving memory of my dear father, Edward Woolmer, who departed this life February 16, 1912.
The end came sudden, father, dear,
It made us weep and sigh;
And, oh, it was so hard to think
I could not say good-bye.
Inserted by his loving daughter, Alice Emma Atkins.

YOUNGER.—In sad but loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Grace Laura, who departed this life February 15, 1909, aged 16 years 4 months.
As the ivy clings to the oak,
Our memory clings to thee.
Inserted by her loving parents, sisters, and brothers.

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

As the winter in Europe begins to lose some of its severity, and the spring is discussed as near, not far, one feels more and more inclined to think of the present phases of the war as part of a passing night. Everyone looks forward to April and May as the months of great decisions leading on to the movements which will give substantial relief from our present grievous uncertainties. The war is in a condition of gigantic deadlock. If the Allies are massing fresh armies mounting in the aggregate to three millions of men, Germany is just as sedulously training a reserve of four millions; and on such showing 1915 is to repeat the disappointments of 1914 in that neither side is to reap any great advantage. Is not Belgium trenched and mined so that it has become a vast German fortress? Does not the Rhine behind it represent a further barrier almost impregnable; and do not the Germans as a nation still fight like one man? Moreover, are they not likely to fight more desperately on the defensive, and more economically, than when they maintained their offensive? And so the questions could be multiplied. But what inspires so much of the doubt is the fog that hangs over everything. We do not know. The truth comes in fragments, and no one can properly round it out. Hence the pessimist may quite fairly point to a Russian retreat in Eastern Prussia after recent advances, to further falling back in Hungary, to Cracow still intact, to Przemysl yet unreduced, and so forth. Where can the Allies expect to do better in the future than they have done in the past? Now a sufficient reply to much of this murmuring is that a European winter is something the average Australian knows nothing about, and that the continued fighting since its rigours began is a notable thing. It would not have been wonderful if both sides had sat down until spring, with the millions of soldiers making the best of winter quarters in trenches, galleries, and quarries on a scale beyond all precedent. But the struggle has never ceased, either on the west or the east; and what may be remarked as astonishing is that so much should have been accomplished in the time. For one thing, it is a great gain to have smothered the German offensive. Lord Sydenham's dictum that the enemy has been beaten, though not conquered, is the word of a great expert, and it covers a very real truth. We may read with it M. Gabriel Hanotaux's recent announcement that the German General Staff is divided. The late Minister for Foreign Affairs in France writes that he has received information from Berlin of "the chiefs mutually upbraiding each other, bitterly, sometimes furiously, owing to the disappointments and slowness of the campaign." M. Hanotaux is not given to making rash statements, and his word may be taken as covering facts, not inventions. Through the winter this news of German discouragement has continued to filter through; and not even the blank assurance of a Swiss after visiting Germany where in the main everybody is reported to be cheerful, should be allowed to alter the conviction that six months of desperate fighting leaves the balance of advantage with the Allies.

The certainty, however, remains that a long war will only be avoided by Great Britain rallying her recruits to a mighty and immediate effort. The Empire as a whole must respond with men in never-ceasing thousands, and in Australia we are bound to think of the duty laid upon us in terms of a hundred thousand now with another hundred thousand to follow. This is the logic of the fighting on both sides of the great European battlefield. Russia on the east is slowly mobilising her manhood, and we may believe is steadily advancing her railways to the German and Austrian frontiers. Her fighting, because of the double German advantage of strategic railways along the Polish borders and an interior position, has to be done on Parthian principles; and to gain successes against an enemy who has been preparing for this very emergency during the last quarter of a century, Russia has again and again to retreat, abandoning cities and railways, so as to reach battlegrounds suitable to her strength and needs. Every apparent reverse has been followed by shattering blows against the German armies, and the last is reported to have cost Germany at least 40,000 men left dead on the ground. Meanwhile in the south Servia has given Austria a crushing defeat, the Turks have been smashed beyond the Caucasus, in Middle Asia, and upon the confines of Egypt. It all represents tremendous strain and an ever-mounting cost in men, material, and money, though the balance to the good is still a substantial one. This is going on continuously; and the Allies on the west have their task to relieve the strain by ever increasing pressure upon Germany through Belgium and Northern France. The end, therefore, will not come soon unless the full strength of the British Empire is developed quickly and without regard to cost. Upon us the burden will grow steadily heavier. Every added year of war will mean mounting difficulties, and problems becoming ever more complicated. Our wisest policy is to fight as vigorously and as whole-heartedly as though invasion were likely to be a fact to-morrow, since the effect upon us will be the same; and this involves a preparation for war so thorough and enthusiastic that nothing will be allowed to stand in the way of our purpose. Is not the best reply to all pessimists to-day to be found in the spirit with which Britain, France, and Russia are facing Germany?

THE BELGIAN PEOPLE.

The decision of the Belgian Government to form a new army of two hundred thousand is a fitting response to the noble exhortation of Cardinal Mercier from which we publish some extracts this morning. There could be no surer confirmation of his statement that the allegiance of the Belgian people is still owed to King Albert than the appearance in the ranks of eighty per cent. of the recruits who live in the neighbourhood of the French and Dutch frontiers. The Germans, no doubt, may hold the great towns, and may treat the inhabitants as subject to their laws, but these recruits have taught them the difference between an occupied and a conquered country. There can be no conquest of a people which has behaved, and is behaving, with such immortal courage as the Belgians. In the past five months their territory has been laid waste, their homes have been destroyed, and their people have been treated with inconceivable brutality. But the King and his Ministers are still prepared to ask the question which Cardinal Mercier asked in his famous pastoral. Would anyone wish to tear out this page from the history of his country? Would any Belgian wish that his country had done otherwise, when she was twice asked to sell her neutrality at the beginning of the war? We can hardly wonder that the German officials attempted to silence the author of this moving and dignified appeal. There could not be a more convincing exposure of the conduct of the Germans in this war, or a clearer defiance of the radical convictions of the German spirit. The belief that force will destroy a nation, that terror will obliterate national ideals, that bribes will succeed where threats have failed—all these fallacies are answered in the words of the Cardinal who has seen the ruin of his diocese, and is still prepared to tell his people to whom their hearts and their loyalty are due. It would not be difficult for a man who has seen the desolation of a peaceful and industrious province to lose his confidence in the ultimate triumph of justice between nations. But Cardinal Mercier rests his case on elementary laws, which are the same in war as in peace, and the same whether they govern nations or individuals. The independence of Belgium was guaranteed by the Great Powers. Great Britain kept her oath, Germany broke hers, and will fall because of her treachery. It is the comment which a great German pronounced on Napoleon. It is unjust and therefore it cannot last.

The Cardinal's pastoral and this last appeal of the Government remind us of the real magnitude of Belgium's services to mankind. We may test them in two ways. The country did not make its decision in ignorance of what resistance involved. Although it might have been satisfied with a formal protest, or with the defence of Liege, it consistently rejected the German offers of peace, and has continued its defiance after the capture of Antwerp, its last and greatest stronghold. The Government in this short period has answered both threats and bribes, threats of the ill-treatment of the civilian population, and bribes to induce them to lay down their arms as citizens of the German Empire. In the course of this resistance they have shown the world the true meaning of the German spirit, and the true danger which it presents to the rest of Europe. We have lately had the report of the French Commission, of the physician to the King of the Belgians, and of the Russians, who tell us how Austria has preserved her reputation for brutality in Bukovina. But it was Belgium that taught the world of what the new civilisation was capable. Many of us believed that the reports were exaggerated by refugees, or, at all events, related to isolated acts of soldiers temporarily out of control. But there can be no illusions of that sort. We know that both in Belgium and France German soldiers have conducted themselves in a manner which cannot be paralleled, even in periods in which warfare had made men callous to human suffering, and we know that this conduct was not peculiar to individual soldiers, but was planned by the Government deliberately and with a political object. Of Belgium's services to Great Britain we find fresh instances every day. We are accustomed to think that Belgium did her greatest service by delaying the German onset. But it was the appeal of King Albert to Great Britain which has had the greatest influence on the course of the war and on future British history. It is impossible to imagine what the future of Great Britain would have been with her Allies crushed and her enemy entrenched on the Belgian coast. She would have been compelled to enter into a war with no armies to help her, and at whatever moment Germany should choose. If she has been able to reward this service by giving help to Belgian citizens, and by protecting the retreat of the Belgian army from Antwerp, she has given a small return for her own salvation. The debt will not be repaid when the Germans are driven back into their own country, and compensation to Belgium is made the first of the terms of peace. But, at all events, Belgium will remain the pivot of the war. It will remain the classic instance of German treachery and of German cruelty, and it will be the bond which will hold the Allies together whenever Germany offers her promise or talks about her honour.

PERSONAL.

VICE-REGAL.

His Excellency the Governor received an official call yesterday morning from the Most Reverend B. Cerretti, Apostolic Delegate to Australia, who was accompanied by the Reverend M. Sherin.

His Excellency the Governor attended the dinner of the Millions Club last night.

The Federal Attorney-General, Mr. Hughes, intends to take a month's holiday from to-day. During the Prime Minister's absence in New Zealand very heavy work fell upon Mr. Hughes, as, in addition to his own duties, he also took the Prime Minister's place.

The Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. Archibald) arrived in Sydney on Sunday, and left on his return to Melbourne last night, accompanied by Mr. N. G. Bell, engineer for the Commonwealth railways.

Monsignor Cerretti, the Papal Delegate, accompanied by Father Sherin, chaplain to Archbishop Kelly, made a courtesy call on the Lord Mayor yesterday.

M. Watteeuw, Belgian Consul, who has been working very hard since the outbreak of the war, has been unable to attend at his office for the past few days, and has been ordered by his medical adviser to rest for at least another week.

Lady Patey is leaving Sydney next month for a trip to England. She hopes to be back at Admiralty House again towards the end of the year.

Sir Thomas Anderson Stuart, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Sydney, and Lady Anderson Stuart, who left by the Osterley for Melbourne on Saturday, will be absent from the State for about three weeks.

Bishop Barlow, of Goulburn, is expected to visit Cooma on February 28 to dedicate a reredos and some windows recently presented to St. Paul's Anglican Church. This is expected to be his last visit to the parish previous to his retirement on account of health.

Monsignor O'Haran, who is leaving next Monday on a visit to Rome and Ireland, was entertained at a conversazione in the Darlinghurst Hall last evening. The Bishop of Maitland presided, and an illuminated address was presented by the parishioners, expressing appreciation of the work done by Monsignor O'Haran since his arrival in the State 30 years ago, as the associate of the late Cardinal Moran. Alderman G. T. Clarke, ex-Lord Mayor, Mr. John Meagher, M.L.C., and others eulogised Monsignor O'Haran's work.

Dr. Gilruth, Administrator of the Northern Territory, and Judge Bevan are leaving on their return to Darwin at the end of the month.

The Rev. Father William Barry, who has been stationed at Chatswood for a number of years, was entertained in the local Town Hall last night at a conversazione by representatives of the different churches on the occasion of his relinquishing the charge of the parish.

Mr. W. B. Griffin, designer of the Federal capital, left last night on a visit to Melbourne.

Mr. D. M. S. Watson, paleontologist at the London University College, who attended the Congress of the British Association for the Advancement of Science held in Australia in August last, and remained behind to prosecute researches in certain directions, leaves by the Makura on Thursday for Vancouver on his return to London.

Mr. Percy Marks, who is leaving by the Makura next Thursday for Vancouver, was entertained by a number of his friends at a banquet on Saturday night, Judge Hamilton presiding.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Moxham, Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Taylor, and Mr. R. R. Dangar are among those booked by the Manuka, sailing for Hobart to-morrow.

The Rev. Dr. Brown will leave for New Zealand by the Moeraki, sailing on Friday.

Dr. Martin Magill and Messrs. S. B. Solling and J. Nairn, all of Moree, will leave by the Wakatipu to-day for Launceston, whence they will proceed to Flinders Island.

The passengers booked by the Ballarat, leaving for London, via Durban and Capetown, on Saturday next, include Captain and Mrs. Moseley, of Neutral Bay, Mr. C. W. Lloyd, the well-known pastoralist, and Nurses Hobbs, Wellman, and Kirkcaldy, who are volunteering for war service.

Mr. F. C. Govers, assistant superintendent of the Immigration and Tourist Bureau, will leave by the Makura on Thursday for Vancouver, en route to the Panama Exposition. Mr. Govers will make an effort to secure settlers for the irrigation areas, and will co-operate with the New South Wales agency in San Francisco, in an endeavour to bring the resources and attractions of the State more prominently before the American public.

At a public meeting of Manly citizens and ratepayers last night, it was decided to make a suitable presentation to ex-Alderman James Bonner, who recently retired from the local council owing to ill-health. A committee has appointed to carry out the wishes of the meeting. Mr. Bonner was Mayor of Manly for several years.

A DIRTY CITY.

MR. HOLMAN'S OPINION.

INDIGNANT ALDERMEN.

Strong exception was taken by Alderman Evan Jones, chairman of the health committee of the City Council, at the meeting of that body yesterday, to the assertion of Mr. Holman at the Harbour Trust picnic a few days ago that Sydney was the most neglected and carelessly managed city in the Commonwealth.

Alderman Jones said that Mr. Holman's sneer at the City Council's work was quite uncalled for, and it was a reflection on the health committee, which was responsible for the cleanliness of the city, as well as on the whole council. This was not the first time that remarks of this kind had been made by men in high places, and it was time they ceased, for they were, he contended, wholly unjustified. If Sydney were a dirty city, which he was far from admitting, it was a most extraordinary thing that it should be the healthiest city in the world. People sometimes said things at banquets that they did not mean, and he thought that this statement came under that heading. It was a very serious statement, and they should not let it go by unchallenged.

Alderman Griffin said that he fully endorsed the chairman's remarks. Sydney had not been the cleanest of cities, before the plague outbreak, but it was one of the cleanest cities in the Commonwealth at the present time. He moved that a letter be written to Mr. Holman, asking him whether he had been correctly reported, and if so to justify his statement. He would like to know how and where the council had failed in its duty. He considered that the assertion was too sweeping altogether.

Alderman Mallett: The truth is unpalatable.

Alderman Griffin: But it is not the truth.

Alderman Lawrence appealed to the committee not to take any notice of "tinpot statements by tinpot men." They ought to treat Mr. Holman's assertion with contempt. Mr. Holman did not know what he was talking about. Many of the Government buildings were dirty, and so there was no room for criticism of the City Council's domain.

Alderman M'Gree complained that there was altogether too much criticism, and unwarranted criticism, of the City Council's doings. Mr. Holman was not an authority on civic government.

Alderman Mallett agreed with Mr. Holman, and declared that the present system of city government was very unsatisfactory. He considered that the time was ripe for the establishment of a Chair of Municipal Economy at the University, and it would be a good thing if those who aspired to municipal honours took a course of lessons in municipal government. He hoped the Premier's chiding would spur them on to better efforts. As it was now, the city was governed in a haphazard manner, and it was time there was a change.

The chairman declared Alderman Griffin's motion carried, although no show of hands was taken.

IN EGYPT.

FIRST EXPEDITION.

NEW YEAR AT THE PYRAMIDS.

VISIT OF SIR GEORGE REID.

(BY OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

We now have a thoroughly organised camp on a much more elaborate and extensive scale than any of the camps we had in Australia. As we are comfortable, we expect in the usual order of active service soon to receive orders to move—probably to some other part of Egypt. The roads through the camp now completed are named by us "Canberra-road," "The Circle," "Infantry-road," and "Artillery-road," and the neatly-painted signboards help visitors, of whom there are many, to find the different battalions. Each battalion and company has its name elaborately worked in stone, and there are flags by day and lamps by night to guide you to the various brigade headquarters or field hospitals.

Christmas was ushered in by the bands playing "Christians, Awake" and other Christmas hymns, followed by every other sort of tune that they could play. A special Christmas dinner was arranged for every company, and in ours the colonel went round and visited each company to wish them a merry Christmas. Both for Christmas and New Year leave was general, and a native paper described the visit of the Australians and New Zealanders to Cairo as a "shower of gold." It is quite a fact that our coming here has more than made up to the tradespeople for the absence of the tourists, and the Egyptians are very grateful. Commercially Cairo was in a desperate situation when we came here. Owing to the war the cotton crop was not sold, and because of martial law the tourists, who came from all over the world, remained away. All the large hotels except two were closed, and there were a good number of insolvencies. Now everything is busy. There are extra trams to the Pyramids, and the traffic of motors and phaetons is very great, not to speak of the camels and donkeys, which our men use a lot to go out of camp or up to the Pyramids. Our signallers have climbed the pyramid "Chephron," which is very difficult, and with ropes have even climbed up the outer casing at the top, which is still intact, and they have flashed their signals from the summit. There are three large buildings in the camp, representing Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide, Y.M.C.As., and they are occupied every night for concerts or lectures, besides a stadium, where there are athletic contests. New Year's Day was a time of jubilation, especially for the Scotsmen amongst us, and we were gladdened by the receipt of beautiful boxes of chocolate, inscribed with greetings from the Australians in England and presentation boxes of Egyptian cigarettes from a firm in Cairo. Better than that, a mail from Australia was delivered, and we had news from our friends in the homeland of the Commonwealth, which seems dearer to us the further we are away from it. To crown all, Sir George Reid visited us on the two last days of the old year, and gave us an eloquent welcome.

A dais had been built up, and on this Sir George, who was accompanied by Sir E. W. Maxwell, O.C., in Egypt, and General Bridges, surveyed a scene which obviously stirred him. The brigades were drawn up in front of him, and when he arrived from his motor car, the troops presented arms.

After his magnificent oration, Sir George returned to his car, and the troops marched past, each battalion with its own band. There have been other ceremonial parades in which we have taken part. On December 20 the new Sultan of Egypt, Sultan Hussein, was proclaimed amid a military pageant, at which besides the Egyptian troops, there were present British troops from Ceylon, New Zealand, Australia, Lancashire, and Westminster. The native paper, "Misr," states that, according to the Hebrew calender, the date of H.H. Sultan Hussein's accession to the Sultanate of Egypt corresponds to that on which Joseph, the son of Jacob, was proclaimed Minister to Pharaoh 3687 years ago. This is regarded as a happy augury for the future. It is wonderful to note how the Bible, especially the Old Testament lives in Egypt. Joseph and Moses are historic characters here, just as William the Conqueror and Shakespeare are in England. They point out to you where Moses was taken out of the water at Rhoda, and speak of the Salvation of Egypt from famine by Joseph as an event which does not seem to be very far back in the past. Indeed, it might be considered quite a modern event alongside those commemorated by the mighty monuments which overlook our camp. The Pyramids, "Cheops" and "Chephron," were ancient in those days, and further back again there was what the mystic Sphinx stood for. All the vast city of the dead, which professors from Harvard are exploring just outside our camp, and which extends for 15 miles from here to the ruins of ancient Memphis, seems to push the Bible story of Joseph or Moses close up to our age.

Thinking these thoughts, we suddenly realise that we Australians come from a land which is not 200 years old, and as yet has practically no history. Then when we remember that we—children of a new land far away, are yet camped, in our thousands, upon the ground where Bonaparte's great army; which was three times greater than ours, camped, we realise that we are at least making history. And we are going to fight with and for these French against whom in those days we were fighting.

This fact was illustrated in a curious way three or four days ago. A party of 40 French priests came out from Cairo, where they have a college, to see our camp. These men are trained soldiers, and most of them were eagerly awaiting the call to arms, to which they said many of their comrades already had responded. It was easy to see that they were soldiers, despite their dress, for the technical details of our artillery were simple to them, and they were able to show the difference between our drill and the French. They were amazed at our equipment, and declared it to be much superior to that furnished to European soldiers. We recognise this ourselves by comparison with the Territorials, and we are grateful to our Government for the lavish provision of clothing, bedding, and other requisites. We now only need our sheepskin vests, and we are ready for the trenches in spring.

The French priests were delighted to see for the first time our kangaroos, but a trooper surprised them by saying "Now I will take you to see a representative of 'der Kaiser,' which we have brought with us." He led them to a box where a Tasmanian devil was sleeping. On being awakened out of its sleep it was very ferocious, and went for them savagely, trying to bite their feet. "Le Diable!" "Der Kaiser!" with innumerable "La," "Las," and "Oui," "Oui's," exclaimed the Frenchmen. Then another Australian produced a desert lizard with terrible spikes in its tail, which had been caught and killed that day during the manoeuvres. They were a merry lot, but earnest, and all prepared to die for France.

General Birdwood has arrived to assume command of the Australian-New Zealand army corps, and has visited each battalion. The following has been published in orders. We like the ring of it:—"The following message from Lieutenant-General Sir W. R. Birdwood, K.C., S.I., C.B., C.I.E., D.S.O., commanding Australian and New Zealand Army Corps, is published for general information:—'In taking over command of the army corps composed of the Australian and New Zealand contingents, I wish to tell my comrades of all ranks how proud I am at being associated with them in the great work which is before us all. We have been selected to fight for the honour and integrity of the British Empire. Before victory is assured much hard fighting will fall to us, fighting which will call for the highest degree, not only of discipline, but of self-denial and self-sacrifice.

"'These are qualities I know, in which I can look to you to prove yourselves second to none.

"'For myself, I pray God in all humility that I may prove myself worthy of the great trust which has been placed in my keeping, and that I may gain the confidence of my comrades, with whom I feel it to be an honour to be serving. If I can succeed in this, I well know you will make victory a certainty.'"

BELGIUM'S DUTY.

CARDINAL MERCIER'S PASTORAL.

The following extracts are taken from the famous pastoral letter of Cardinal Mercier, Archbishop of Malines.

Early in his letter the Cardinal pays a moving tribute to the Belgian army and King Albert. "The foremost duty of every Belgian citizen at this hour," he writes, "is gratitude to the army. . . . Pray daily, my brethren, for these two hundred and fifty thousand and for their leaders to victory."

WHAT HISTORY WILL TELL.

"Better than any other man, perhaps, do I know what our unhappy country has undergone. Churches, schools, asylums, hospitals, convents in great numbers are in ruins. Entire villages have all but disappeared. At Louvain the third part of the buildings are down: 1074 dwellings have disappeared; on the town land and in the suburbs 1823 houses have been burnt. Many a parish lost its pastor. Millions of Belgian citizens have in like manner been deported to the prisons of Germany, to Munsterlagen, to Celle, to Magdeburg. History will tell of the physical and moral torments of their long martyrdom. Hundreds of innocent men were shot. In the Louvain group of communes 176 persons, men and women, old men and sucklings, rich and poor, in health and sickness, were shot or burnt. And there where lives were not taken, and there where the stones of buildings were not thrown down, what anguish unrevealed! Families, hitherto living at ease, now in bitter want; all commerce at an end, all careers ruined; industry at a standstill; thousands upon thousands of working men without employment; working women, shop girls, humble servant girls, without the means of earning their bread; and poor souls forlorn on the bed of sickness and fever, crying: 'O Lord, how long, how long?'

SHATTERED, BUT EXULTANT.

"There is nothing to reply. The reply remains the secret of God. . . . God will save Belgium, my brethren, you cannot doubt it. Nay, rather, He is saving her. Across the smoke of conflagration, across the stream of blood, have you not glimpses, do you not perceive signs, of His love for us? Is there a patriot among us who does not know that Belgium has grown great? Nay, which of us would have the heart to cancel this last page of our national history? Which of us does not exult in the brightness of the glory of this shattered nation?

"When a mighty foreign Power, confident in its own strength and defiant of the faith of treaties, dared to threaten us in our independence, then did all Belgians, without difference of party, or of condition, or of origin, rise up as one man, close-ranged about their own king and their own Government, and cry to the invader: 'Thou shalt not go through!' At once, instantly, we were conscious of our own patriotism. For down within us all is something deeper than personal interests, than personal kinships, than party feeling, and this is the need and the will to devote ourselves to that more general interest which Rome termed the public thing, Res publica. And this profound will within us is Patriotism. We may now say, my Brethren, without unworthy pride, that our little Belgium has taken a foremost place in the esteem of nations. I am aware that certain onlookers, notably in Italy and in Holland, have asked how it could be necessary to expose this country to so immense a loss of wealth and of life, and whether a verbal manifesto against hostile aggression, or a single cannon-shot on the frontier, would not have served the purpose of protest. But assuredly all men of good feeling will be with us in our rejection of these paltry counsels. Mere utilitarianism is no sufficient rule of Christian citizenship.

"NO LAWFUL AUTHORITY."

"The laws of conscience are sovereign laws. We should have acted unworthily had we evaded our obligation by a mere feint of resistance. And now we would not rescind our first resolution; we exult in it. Being called upon to write a most solemn page in the history of our country, we resolved that it should be also a sincere, also a glorious page. And as long as we are required to give proof of endurance, so long we shall endure. I do not require of you to renounce any of your national desires. On the contrary, I hold it as part of the obligations of my episcopal office to instruct you as to your duty in face of the Power that has invaded our soil and now occupies the greater part of our country. The authority of that Power is no lawful authority. Therefore in soul and conscience you owe it neither respect, nor attachment, nor obedience. The sole lawful authority in Belgium is that of our King, of our Government, of the elected representatives of the nation. This authority alone has a right to our affection, our submission. Thus the invader's acts of public administration have in themselves no authority, but legitimate authority has tacitly ratified such of those acts as affect the general interests, and this ratification and this only, gives them juridic value.

"Occupied provinces are not conquered provinces. Belgium is no more a German province than Galicia is a Russian province. Nevertheless, the occupied portion of our country is in a position it is compelled to endure. . . . It is our army and our army solely, in league with the valiant troops of our Allies, that has the honour and the duty of national defence. Let us entrust the army with our final deliverance."

The Cardinal concludes with a passage in which he says: "Let us conduct ourselves with all needful forbearance."

NIGHT CLINICS.

MR. FLOWERS AND THE DOCTORS.

The council of the British Medical Association waited on the Minister for Health (Mr. Flowers) yesterday, to discuss the question of the night clinics recently established.

Dr. Thomas, president of the association, said that there was no objection on the part of the council or the profession to the night clinics per se, and no obstacle had been put in their way, but it was thought that those who could afford to pay should not be admitted without question. The profession was as anxious as the Minister himself to stamp out venereal disease, but in order to secure success a patient would require to be under observation for some time, and anonymity was against attaining that end. As it was, a patient might cease going to the clinic before he was thoroughly cured.

Mr. Flowers asked whether that might not be the case with a private patient going to a doctor.

Dr. Thomas replied that it was what they wanted to prevent. They objected to patients being treated in hospitals and clinics without inquiry into their circumstances.

Mr. Flowers said that many reforms had been introduced since he had been directing the Health Department, and there had been no friction between him and the medical profession, excepting concerning some statement that he was supposed to have made about inviting the rich to take advantage of the hospitals, and his statement as to the policy he desired to pursue in connection with the night clinics. He wanted to remove from their minds the idea that he had ever invited the rich to come into the hospitals. He had merely said that he would make no distinctions. The hospitals were built with public money, and were there for the use of the public. The doctors had refused pay for their work at the clinics, but he did not know how much longer the public was going to stand the assumption by the medical fraternity that they were the champion philanthropists. They should be paid for their services. He was thinking of having the metropolitan hospitals adequately staffed with paid men. If the hospitals were thrown open without let or hindrance he did not believe that 5 per cent. of the rich would take advantage of them. The Public schools were free, but the children of the rich did not go to them. The matter of health was no longer between the doctor and the patient; it was a matter of State policy. Incomplete as the clinics were, it was better to let them go on than to let the patients go the chemist and the quack. Opinion was changing in medical matters, and the doctors must be prepared for changes. He was prepared to protect the public and the doctors from quacks, but he could not discriminate between rich and poor.

WAR TIME IN LONDON

(BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Christmas Greetings.

LONDON, Dec. 31.

Obviously the Germans meant to give Londoners a memorable Christmas. Plainly enough, they had hit upon Christmas Day as a suitable date for those long-promised bombs of theirs—not, it must be confessed, the pleasantest Christmas offering, but one hardly, perhaps, to be called unseasonable just now. As it turned out, however, their aeroplanists failed to fulfil this curious desire of the German enemy to startle London. They achieved more, really, on the morning of Christmas Eve, when they actually did succeed in dropping a bomb on Dover. But on the following day they had to be content with the merest glimpse of the lower Thames, at which stage of their invasion watching and waiting British airmen drove them off. All the same this astounding spectacle of a hostile craft over the Thames, and this fact of an enemy missile falling from the clouds upon an England never before so visited in all its centuries of war have given us cause to think.

Most of us believe that bombs will fall on London sooner or later. In these days of wholesale European fury, and all this constant warring by air and land and sea so more than a span's breadth from us, the wonder would be that we should remain immune from such things. No, we shall be bombarded from on high surely enough, unless perchance our barrier of watching airmen and blinding searchlights can achieve the almost impossible.

But, so far, it must be allowed us that we regard this probability calmly enough. We are not shaken even by the recently issued warning of authority that when bombs are falling it were well for London citizens to be indoors, that always lives are sacrificed to the bomb by medium of that curiosity which impels people to crowd into the streets for sight of what is going on. Aye, even though authority drops a hint that basements are the safest refuge, and that shrapnel bullets have a way of splitting into first-floor and second-floor windows, and also that bullets fired into the air with an enemy for target fall back to earth often to kill a friend—even though these be grimly serious directions—we read them only casually. They still seem to babble of things quite unlikely. No doubt we shall not be really convinced that a bomb may fall in our midst until one actually does so.

Cuxhaven's Christmas.

In any case we much prefer to rejoice over the Cuxhaven air raid. That, too, was a matter of bombs flung from aeroplanes, but—and oh the difference to us—they were flung somewhere else, on quite other people. Yet we should do a wonderful business far less than justice if we did not rejoice over Cuxhaven. It also was a Christmas celebration. Furthermore, it was a very skilful and a very daring enterprise. End-of-the-age war with a vengeance, indeed, this little matter of Cuxhaven. The dreamers of simultaneous battle by sea and air, and the vasty deep which is neither, were, indeed, wholly justified there, and all their visions translated into fact. Zeppelins and aeroplanes, soaring in the clouds, attacked the unseen surface foe, submarines flung their torpedoes against swiftly manoeuvring sea-craft, ships of war battered at land defences or fought off other ships of war, or launched their terrors at the cloud-swept enemy. Truly a dazzling engagement this of Cuxhaven, one ever to be remembered both by reason of its astounding spectacle of war in the air and on the sea, and under the sea, and by reason of the great gallantry which sustained a British attack during three hours of hazard within the very gates of the enemy. It was a bold stroke by the fleet. It was, moreover, an answer to the German raid on Scarborough, Whitby, and Hartlepool.

The Truce of the Trenches.

But it was not the only memorable celebration of the Christmas festival. Indeed, it does not surpass in "thrill," and it does not approach in human interest, that amazing business on the Flemish battle-ground on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. This, surely, is the most moving incident of the war so far. It rivals in that regard the letter of the brave French cavalry officer who was tended by the dying Highland officer and the dying Prussian private, and who had time before they all three fell back dead to discuss with themselves, their strange fate, and the grim irony of events which had conspired to thrust that fate upon them. But even so arresting an episode takes rank below this of the Christmas salutations of the men in the trenches, who agreed to forget on Christmas Eve that yesterday they would have killed each other gladly and to-morrow would again be vigorously about that now familiar ghastly business of killing. Moving scenes, in truth, those that began on Christmas Eve, when the German branches were set blazing with candles, and German and British soldiers sang Christmas carols to each other. Unbelievable scenes, indeed, for we read that on Christmas morning, when once an adventurous soldier had gone out into the open in response to German invitation, it was not long before the rifles were set aside and all those men who had been and so soon again would be deadly foes were peaceable and friendly persons who conversed and chaffed and joked and frolicked among themselves for a pleasant hour or two—aye, and stood together at the mournful salute, while the dead strewn about them were buried as they could not have been buried in any other than these circumstances. Something of exceeding strangeness in this Christmas foregathering of sworn enemies, and a good deal of pathos. Nowhere in the world, surely, had the Christmas spirit more real or more vivid influence upon the hearts of men than there among the reeking trenches of Flanders.

The American Note.

We were all rather surprised by the news of the American Note to England on the subject of contraband. Also, we were all rather put out by what appeared to be its peremptoriness. "This is not nice," we said in effect. "Surely the old country has enough to stagger under, just now, without being involved in burdens from a house of its friends." And in any case "stand and deliver" was hardly the sort of argument we were looking for from our transatlantic brethren. But we were wrong. It was only the cable summary of the Note that was so short and sharp. The Note itself, coming to hand later, proved to be more a firm and somewhat reproachful, but withal a friendly, document. Quite clearly, too, the Americans have a case if their commerce and their manufactures are suffering so seriously as they claim under our too zealous search and detention of American shipping bound for neutral ports. At the same time, American goods have been proved to be not quite so harmless, sometimes, as the ships' manifests made out, and as to neutral destinations, we are bewildered—to take one line alone—by the enormous rise of late in the amount of copper exported from America to Italy. Copper more than any other article is a necessary ingredient of German war. Great Britain cannot afford to let huge cargoes of copper go wandering across the Atlantic, even to a neutral destination. For the rest, the Note will bring into play once more all the pleasant argument as to what is and what is not contraband, and what is and what is not the forbidden destination of cargoes. But we have every hope that the American Government will be made easy, and that Great Britain will deal with the Note on fair and generous lines.

GERMANY'S HUGE LOSSES

2,000,000 CASUALTIES.

The German casualty lists, which were received at Copenhagen on January 5, according to a Central News message, gave the losses up to the beginning of December. The lists were the 115th Prussian lists, 129th Bavarian, 84th Wurtemberg, and the 82nd Saxon lists. The Prussian losses alone amounted to about one million men. If the losses comprised in other German casualty lists are included, and those for December are added, the total reaches about two million men.

IN THE AIR.

THRILLING BATTLES.

ZEPPELIN ATTACKED

THE RUSSIANS.

GREAT GERMAN PRESSURE.

Three Russian counter-attacks in Bukovina shattered the Austro-German line at three points.

The Austro-Germans succumb to the cold more readily than the Siberians. Thousands are enveloped in snowdrifts, which are at once their winding sheet and their tomb.

A Russian communique states:—Fighting in the Lyck, Raygrod, and Grajewo region is very stubborn. Our troops further north are falling back along a fortified line on the Niemen under pressure from great German forces.

The Belgians are endeavouring to raise an army of 200,000.

A thrilling battle, lasting 40 minutes, occurred between a Zeppelin and three aeroplanes south of Mulhouse.

The aeroplanes strove to get above the Zeppelin, and had almost succeeded when the Zeppelin fled to the north.

A French airman with a machine gun and gunner chased a Taube. After some minutes of shot-firing the Taube fell in flames. The wings were torn to ribbons.

The Frenchmen then attacked two other aeroplanes. The first shot struck one of the aeroplanes, and then the Frenchmen bore down on it vertically, firing incessantly. Suddenly the aeroplane fell like a stone.

A Belgian aeroplane dropped bombs on the military camp at Deutz, a fortified town on the Rhine, opposite Cologne.

The German Emperor, on learning the news regarding the United States Note, invited Mr. Gerard, United States Ambassador, to meet him in conference at the eastern headquarters.

The last estimates show that the Turks lost 4000 in killed and wounded along the Suez Canal, 1000 being killed.

AERIAL WARFARE.

THRILLING SPECTACLE.

ZEPPELIN V AEROPLANES.

GENEVA, Feb. 15.

A thrilling battle, lasting 40 minutes, occurred between a Zeppelin and three aeroplanes, and was witnessed by 1000 French and German soldiers, south of Mulhouse.

The aeroplanes, by very clever manoeuvres, strove to get above the Zeppelin, and had almost succeeded when the Zeppelin fled to the north.

FRENCHMAN'S SUCCESS.

PARIS, Feb. 14.

A semi-official message states that a French airman, with a machine gun and gunner, chased a Taube. After some minutes of shot firing the Taube fell in flames. The wings were torn to ribbons.

The Frenchmen then attacked two other German aeroplanes. The first shot struck one of the aeroplanes and then the Frenchmen bore down on it vertically, firing incessantly. Suddenly the aeroplane fell like a stone.

The Frenchmen then rose to a height of 2500 metres and engaged the third aeroplane. The latter replied to the attack from an automatic rifle. The German began falling, and after a minute tilted on the left wing. The Frenchman volplaned, firing continually. The German dashed to the ground and the Frenchmen were bombarded by shells. They returned to the French lines safely.

FRENCH SEAPLANES.

PARIS, Feb. 15.

It is officially stated that French seaplanes from Dunkirk last week successfully bombarded the military buildings and bodies of troops at Zeebrugge and Ostend.

BELGIAN'S EXPLOIT.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 15.

A Belgian aeroplane dropped bombs on the military camp at Deutz, a fortified town on the Rhine, opposite Cologne.

The airman escaped, although he was fired at from guns placed in the tower of Cologne Cathedral.

EASTERN FRONTIER.

BIG ATTACK LIKELY.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The majority of the German aeroplanes have been transferred to Lorraine. This is believed to be the prelude to a big attack on the eastern frontier.

EXCHANGING WOUNDED.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 15.

The Zeeland Company's boats commenced to-day transporting British and German troops who are seriously wounded and are being exchanged.

EASTERN FRONT.

BUKOWINA.

ICE-LADEN WINDS.

AUSTRO-GERMANS SUCCUMB.

ENVELOPED IN SNOWDRIFTS.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 15.

Fighting continues in Bukowina. The Russians, who were reinforced, repulsed a series of attacks after entrenching north of Kimpolung, where the snow is very deep. Three Russian counter-attacks shattered the Austro-German line at three points, compelling retirement. The temperature is twenty degrees below zero.

The piercing ice-laden winds make it difficult to distinguish friends from foes at 100 yards. The Austro-Germans succumb to the cold more readily than the Siberians. The exposure is causing the wounded horrible sufferings. Thousands are enveloped in snowdrifts, which are at once their winding sheet and their tomb.

The Russians are fortifying Czernowitz. When the Austrians re-occupied it in November they wreaked horrible vengeance on the inhabitants with Russian sympathies. They hanged a number without trial, and forced the condemned persons to assist to hang their friends on a crude gallows, and to watch their death agonies before they were themselves strangled.

The Austrian executioner at Czernowitz received five kronen for each victim.

STUBBORN FIGHTING.

RUSSIANS FALLING BACK.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 15.

A communique states: Fighting in the Lyck, Raygrod, and Grajewo region is very stubborn.

Our troops further north are falling back along a fortified line on the Niemen under pressure from great German forces.

We repulsed attacks in the Gorlice and Svidnik region, and captured the enemy's fortifications at Smolnik, east of Lupkow, taking over 1000 prisoners. Stubborn fighting is reported from the Tukholka-Wyszkow front.

THE AUSTRIAN ATTACK.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 15.

The "Retch" expresses the opinion that the chief Austrian attack is in the Carpathians. Only two army corps are facing Servia. The three Bavarian corps in Orsova (south-eastern Hungary) proved to be badly trained Landsturm.

It is announced that since the beginning of the war Russia has imprisoned 49,600 Turks.

BIG FIGHT FORESHADOWED.

LONDON, Feb. 14.

The Petrograd correspondent of the London "Observer" states that the Russians are steadily retiring in good order towards the lines connecting the fortresses of Kovno, Grodno, and Lomza, with strongholds on the Middle Vistula.

Colossal fighting is foreshadowed.

RUSSIANS REINFORCED.

ROME, Feb. 14.

The Russians at Czernowitz have been strongly reinforced.

WESTERN FRONT.

BELGIAN ARMY.

THE GOVERNMENT'S EFFORT.

PARIS, Feb. 15.

The Belgians are endeavouring to raise an army of 200,000. Eighty per cent. of the 1914 recruits living near the Dutch and French frontiers have already joined the colours.

An urgent appeal has been made to refugees in Holland and Great Britain between 18 and 30 years of age to volunteer, otherwise the Belgian Government will issue a decree making military service compulsory.

GERMANS IN BRUSSELS.

DUTCH ASKED TO ACT.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 14.

The Dutch Chamber of Commerce, at the request of Brussels, has urged the Netherlands to act on behalf of 80,000 subjects of Belgium, in a protest to Germany, concerning the unwarrantable interference with business and the unnecessary restriction of traffic.

The Germans, it was said, had shown a cynical indifference to the grievances of the Belgians.

BOMBARDMENT OF REIMS AND YPRES.

PARIS, Feb. 14.

A communique states:—The enemy bombarded Reims and Ypres, and the trenches and dune at Nieuport. We effectively replied.

Two columns of the enemy are advancing along the banks of the Lauch River in Alsace.

IN THE VOSGES.

A THRILLING EPISODE.

GENEVA, Feb. 14.

A thrilling episode is reported from the Vosges. At Colbonhoumme 40 Alpine chasseurs, who were cut off from the main French body, refused to surrender, and, using skis, dashed down a snow slope, where they had a desperate bayonet struggle in the German trenches.

All the chasseurs died, but they killed at least 80 Germans.

GREAT STORM.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 15.

The storm is widening the breach in the Zeebrugge mole, and tearing up great blocks of concrete. The breach is the result of bombs and raids by airmen.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENTS.

LONDON, Feb. 14.

In the House of Commons to-morrow details of the recent negotiations of the Ministers of Finance in Britain, France, and Russia will be given by Mr. Lloyd George (Chancellor of the Exchequer) and Mr. Churchill (First Lord of the Admiralty) will review the naval situation.

THE BLOCKADE.

UNITED STATES NOTE.

EMPEROR AND AMBASSADOR.

CONFERENCE ARRANGED.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 15.

The German Emperor, on learning the news regarding the United States Note, returned to the East Prussian front and invited Mr. Gerard, American Ambassador, to meet him in conference at the eastern headquarters.

The German newspapers without exception are indignant at the United States Note, which they describe as a gross breach of neutrality.

"WE ARE READY."

The "Deutsche Montags Zeitung" says the German people will support the Government in telling Washington, "We are ready. Do what you like. The safety of neutral shipping is secured if they do as we say; otherwise they will run great risks."

FATAL TO GERMANY.

The "National Zeitung" interviewed Mr. Gerard, who pointed out that economic war with America would be fatal to Germany, who had invested millions sterling in the United States. The only possibility of serious conflict, said Mr. Gerard, would be the sinking of a United States ship.

AMERICA AND GERMANY

A PROTEST IN VAIN.

LONDON, Feb. 14.

The "Frankfurter Zeitung" says that the note of President Wilson of the United States to England does not deserve to be called a protest.

President Wilson, says the newspaper, has one recipe for England and another for Germany.

The country which supplies our enemies with munitions of war, and then prays for peace, concludes the article, warns us in vain.

ESCAPE OF THE LAERTES.

The Admiralty announces that Captain Propert, of the British steamer Laertes, which recently escaped from a German submarine off the Maas River lighthouse, Holland, has been gazetted a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve, and will receive the distinguished service cross.

Each officer of the Laertes will receive a gold watch, and the crew £3 apiece.

ITALIAN REPRESENTATIONS.

ROME, Feb. 14.

Italy has made representations to Germany regarding the blockade.

The note reminds Germany that the right of belligerents is confined to ascertaining the nature and destination of the cargo.

The note adds:—"Reprisals against ships on the mere supposition that a flag has been abused is illegitimate."

BRITISH SUBMARINES.

IN THE BALTIC.

A GERMAN REPORT.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The "Daily Standard" correspondent at Amsterdam says that the "Berliner Tageblatt," in discussing the sinking of the German cruiser Gazelle (2003 tons), near Rugen Island (Prussia), in January, expresses the opinion that there are large modern British submarines in the Baltic. Three have been at Helsingfors for some time.

The Great Belt is thickly strewn with mines. The submarines evidently entered following close in the wake of steamships which a pilot was guiding through the mine-fields.

FOOD SUPPLIES.

AUSTRALIAN ATTITUDE UPHELD.

LONDON, Feb. 14.

Many labour meetings have protested against the Government's attitude in regard to the food supplies.

Mr. P. Snowden, Labour member for Blackburn, speaking at Blackburn, said Australia and New Zealand had provided useful examples of collective principles.

New South Wales, he said, had shown courage in commandeering the wheat and in fixing the prices of the necessaries of life.

GERMAN CEREALS.

SHORTAGE OF 1,000,000 TONS.

SOFIA, Feb. 14.

Dr. V. Radoslavoff, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior for Bulgaria, stated in the Sobranje (or National Assembly) yesterday that a German official inquiry showed that to August last the harvest shortage of cereals in Germany amounted to 1,000,000 tons.

HERO OF TOUSSOUM.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The hero of the Toussoum attack was a pilot named Dearew, on H.M.S. Hardinge. Although severely wounded in the arm and leg, he refused to leave his post. He cried, "Bring me a chair, prop me up, and I'll see you through." His leg has since been amputated.

RAILWAY WORKERS.

TROUBLE THREATENED.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The railway workers' agreement gives an increase of 3s weekly to employees whose wage is under 30s, and 2s increase to those above that rate.

The Scottish companies and the Great Northern District tubes refused to agree. The leaders of the railway men threaten trouble.

There is serious congestion at the wool ports in London and Liverpool, and the railway companies are unable to deliver at Bradford, where the manufacturers are sending their own waggons and men to the stations to collect the wool, so as to prevent their machines being laid idle.

EXERCISE SELF-RESTRAINT.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 15.

The "Lokal Anzeiger," referring to the demonstration against Mr. Gerard in a Berlin theatre on Tuesday, urges the Germans to exercise self-restraint towards Americans.

EGYPT.

THE BRITISH POLICY.

EXCELLENT RESULTS.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The "Daily Chronicle" correspondent at Cairo says that the British policy of dealing fairly and openly with the Egyptian people in contradistinction to the Turkish policy of duplicity and muddle, has yielded excellent results. The Egyptians remain tranquil and orderly.

The newspapers express deep satisfaction that Egypt is so efficiently protected.

The defeat at Tor clears the Turks from the southern portion of the Sinai Peninsula. The victory is of greater significance owing to Tor being the biggest quarantine station in the world. All Mecca pilgrims must pass through Tor.

TURKS' LOSSES.

CAIRO, Feb. 15.

The latest estimates show that the Turks lost 4000 along the Suez Canal, 1000 being killed. The Turks who were wiped out at Tor, were chiefly Arab irregulars.

The British success should discourage the further enlistment of bashi-bazouks.

TURKEY AND GREECE.

GREEK NAVAL ATTACHE.

INSULTED IN A PERA STREET.

ATHENS, Feb. 14.

A detective insulted a Greek naval attache openly in a street of Pera, a suburb of Constantinople.

M. Panas, the Greek Minister, protested to the Grand Vizier, who apologised.

M. Panas referred the matter to the Greek Government, which secured a promise that ampler and a more public reparation would be made, including the dismissal of the offender and an apology from the Prefect of Police.

DUPERDUSSIN CASE.

ACCUSED COMMITTED.

PARIS, Feb. 14.

The hearing of the charge against M. Duperdussin, the well-known aeroplane manufacturer, of having obtained large sums of money by means of false pretences, has been concluded. The accused was committed for trial.

[This case has been going on since August, 1913. The accused then told the magistrate that he had spent most of his money in developing the aeroplane industry. He added that he had refused a large sum that had been offered him to sell his secrets to Germany.]

GENERAL ITEMS.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The railwaymen have obtained an increase of 3s per week during the time of the war, owing to the higher cost of living.

The casualty list up to December 20 includes 400 of the Royal Irish Rifles who are missing.

WAR NOTES.

THE TWO FRONTS.

Still artillery duels seem to characterise the fighting that is going on in the western theatre of the war. There are growing indications, however, that the Germans are going to develop a formidable offensive in Alsace. Now that the last of the Russians are on the point of leaving East Prussia, this region will soon represent the only place where any of the Allies' troops are on German soil; and, from a political as well as a military point of view, a determined German effort to push back the invaders may be expected. However, the French have had so long to consolidate their positions in Alsace, that the driving-out process should prove to be one of considerable difficulty, to say the least of it. In the eastern theatre, the Russians are still falling back to their line of fortresses that swings round in a semi-circle from Kovno, in the north, to Warsaw, but in the meantime some stubborn fighting is going on in the Lyck-Raygrod-Grajewo triangle, which lies in the marshy country at the extreme south-east corner of East Prussia. It is reported that the German Emperor has ordered his army to "take Warsaw." He has done so before. On this occasion he has set a time limit. Warsaw must be taken "this week." The cables have not, so far, however, suggested that, in the military sense, the fall of the Polish capital is imminent. In the Carpathians severe fighting is in progress throughout the whole length of the range; but nothing decisive has been accomplished by either side. In Bukovina the Russians have been reinforced, and it begins to look as though their retreat in this region has come to a stop, although they are preparing for eventualities by strongly fortifying Czernowitz, the capital.

THE FATEFUL EIGHTEENTH.

The neutral Powers are looking forward to Thursday next with some trepidation. That is the day on which Germany threatens to turn her submarines loose around the British Isles, with instructions that seem perilously like "Blow up everything that comes along." Most of the neutrals appear to think that accordingly all the mercantile marine within a day's steam of Britain on Thursday will be blown out of the water. The only country that does not seem to be at all perturbed about the coming holocaust is the one whose breakfast table the whole thing is directed against—Britain. Whether Germany can carry out even in part her threat now that she has given such ample notice remains to be seen; but we may certainly take it for granted that the British navy has something of a rod in pickle for the submarine prowlers. It is not, of course, to be expected that the mercantile marine will be altogether scatheless. If Germany enters upon the campaign with any determination, a steamer or two will probably fall victims to the marauders; but we have faith enough in the resource and enterprise of the men of the British navy to believe that any success the Germans achieve at the expense of merchant shipping will in no way compensate for what they will have to pay for it. As to the neutral ships, there are certain very material reasons why Germany should not desire the hostility of Holland, Denmark, and Sweden, and even now it is difficult to believe that she will actually order the destruction of their shipping. And as to the United States, the cables are suggesting more strongly than ever that Germany has been trying to play off the republic against Britain—and has failed. It will be a most surprising thing if a United States steamer is sent to the bottom after the fateful 18th.

SUBMARINES IN THE BALTIC.

There is some interest for us in the "Berliner Tageblatt's" comments on the recent torpedoing of the German light cruiser Gazelle off Rugen Island, in the Baltic Sea. The paper states that there are some large modern British submarines in the Baltic, and definitely declares that there have been three of these craft at Helsingfors, in Finland, for some time. It points out that the Great Belt, is thickly strewn with mines, and suggests that the British submarines traversed this entrance into the Baltic by following closely in the wake of steamships, which pilots would be guiding through the minefields. We, of course, would like to know that some of our submarines were in the Baltic, and helping the Russians to annoy the German navy on its flank as it were; but it is possible that the "Berliner Tageblatt" is confusing the latest Russian under-water craft with British vessels. Russia completed towards the end of last year a dozen large submarines. No details concerning them have been published, but it is known that they displace considerably over 1000 tons, and that they embody the latest ideas in regard to craft of this kind. These are probably the "large modern British submarines" the German paper speaks about. When we wrote of these vessels in connection with the torpedoing of the Gazelle we remarked that their performances would be "watched with an interest that would be all the more keen, because of the generally-held opinion that highly trained British seamen are included in their crews." Here, too, is perhaps an index to the three "British" vessels that have been at Helsingfors. In regard to this cable, by the way, the Gazelle is spoken of as having been sunk, whereas the earlier messages stated that she was only "badly damaged." Let us hope that this morning's message indicates the true state of affairs.

THE QUESTION OF RUBBER.

As month by month of war goes on one cannot but wonder how Germany is faring in the matter of rubber, especially since the issue of the British Government's order prohibiting the export of that commodity without special permission. To get a clear idea of the restricted opportunities Germany has of getting supplies it is necessary to remember that very nearly the whole output of plantation rubber—about 70,000 tons annually—is produced in the British Empire, and is controlled by British firms. The great transhipment of rubber from London to Germany, which has been going on in recent years, came to a sudden stop under the prohibition order mentioned above. The order does not curtail the supplies to Russia and France; but Germany will get no more from England, even through neutrals. Even representatives in London of United States dealers can no longer fill their contracts. In peace time the United States takes large quantities of rubber for her own needs—usually about one-third of the world supply. Even allowing for an increased importation into the States from Brazil, the restricted area from which American supplies can now be drawn will barely suffice to furnish enough for home purposes, and leave little or none for export to the Continent. The sweeping of the German mercantile marine from the seas has made it practically impossible to convey rubber from Para except in British ships. Thus any covert attempt on the part of Germany to obtain supplies would be attended by considerable difficulties. We are not inclined to believe all the stories of Germany being almost at the end of her resources in the matter of supplies needed for the prosecution of the campaign, but in regard to rubber particularly it is not as though she could have laid in vast stocks long before the war, for, unlike other vitally necessary items, rubber will not keep indefinitely. And it is this fact, combined with the enormous consumption of rubber which modern war entails, that makes us wonder just how she is faring.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR'S MESSAGE.

There is to hand by the English mail the full text of the German Emperor's message to his soldiers and sailors on New Year's Eve. It is as follows, and it will be noticed that, although it bespeaks confidence, there is about it less of that flamboyancy which marked his earlier messages:—"After five long months of heavy and hot fighting we enter the New Year. Brilliant victories have been gained, great successes have been reached, the German Army is almost everywhere on the territory of the enemy, and the repeated attempts of the opponents to swarm German territory with their legions have failed. My ships have covered themselves with glory in every sea, and their crews have proved that not only do they know how to fight victoriously, but they know how to die like heroes when overwhelmed with superior forces. Behind the army and fleet the entire German nation stands in unexampled harmony, prepared to sacrifice its heart's blood for the sacred domestic hearth which we are defending against an outrageous invasion. Much has come to pass in the old year, but the enemies are still firmly kept low. Always fresh forces are rolling up against our army and the army of our faithful allies, but their numbers do not frighten us. Although the times may be serious, and the task before us may be a heavy one, we may look forward into the future with the firmest confidence. Next to God's wise guidance I trust to the matchless bravery of the army and navy, and know myself to be one with the entire German nation. Therefore let us face the New Year unflinchingly, looking forward to new deeds and new victories for our beloved Fatherland. (Signed) WILHELM I.R."

LATE WAR NEWS.

PERSIAN GULF.

VICEROY'S VISIT.

CONGRATULATIONS TO TROOPS.

DELHI, Feb. 15.

The Viceroy of India (Lord Hardinge) has returned to Delhi from a trip to the Persian Gulf. It is understood that the visit has been a great success.

On the one hand it enabled Lord Hardinge to gauge the situation, and to obtain local knowledge, which must prove extremely useful in dealing with numerous military problems that must come up for consideration.

On the other hand the visit has inspired confidence in well-disposed inhabitants, and at the same time has afforded the Viceroy a chance of personally congratulating the troops at Shat-el-Arab and Muskat upon their gallantry and efficiency, and their commanders on their skilful conduct of the operations.

GERMANY'S "DRUBBING."

Speaking to the toast of "The Allies" at a function held by the Balmain Young People's Liberal Association in the local Town Hall last evening, Mr. R. B. Orchard, M.P., said that, much as they all regretted the present war, it was a matter for congratulation that England had associated with her the powerful nations that constituted her allies. With the diplomatic amalgamation of nations so continually changing, no one could say, had this war happened ten years hence, who would have constituted England's friends in opposition to Germany. For the ultimate peace and progress of the world it would be difficult to select nations more capable of giving Germany the "drubbing" she required than those who were now opposed to her. Much as they all desired a speedy ending, they did not desire it until such time as Germany had been paid back tenfold for the wrongs she had inflicted upon the unhappy Belgian people.

WAR AND CHRISTMASTIDE.

Most of the turkeys in the London market (reports a London journal) have come from England and Ireland. A large quantity is usually received from Austria-Hungary and Servia. Geese are rather scarce, owing to the stoppage of shipments from Russia and Hamburg. Beef supplies are short, and prices are ruling high. Fish is so dear as to be practically a luxury. Grapes, apples, and pears are good and cheap, but there is an upward tendency in the prices of muscatels, dates, figs, and nuts. Holly and mistletoe are very scarce.

EMPIRE'S CALL.

RESPONSE OF AUSTRALIA.

NATION READY.

MILLIONS CLUB SPEECHES.

The annual dinner of the Millions Club of New South Wales was held at Aarons' Exchange Hotel last night. Mr. Arthur Rickard presided, and among those present were his Excellency the Governor (Sir Gerald Strickland), Mr. Joseph Cook, M.P., Senator Sir Albert Gould, Mr. Carmichael (Minister for Public Instruction), Dr. Arthur, M.L.A., Mr. T. Henley, M.L.A., General Finn, Messrs. T. W. Heney, Guy Sherrington, J. C. Meeks, C. Ludowici, P. Hunter, H. E. Pratten, Dr. Chenhall, Col. Lenehan, and Mr. Layton (Deputy Town Clerk).

After the toast of "The King" had been honoured, the toast of "His Excellency the Governor" was given by Mr. Arthur Rickard, who thanked Sir Gerald Strickland for the interest he had taken in the Millions Club. All recognised his Excellency's able and worthy administration of a high office. (Applause.)

Sir Gerald Strickland, who, in responding, was greeted with loud cheering, said it would be interesting to observe what the Millions Club was going to do after the war. That would be the time for energetic business men with the Imperial spirit. The cause of immigration, with which the club was identified, suggested whether the old country could spare all the men the Millions Club wanted—(laughter)—but the work of the club would go on. (Cheers.) He felt that the prosperity of Australia as a whole at the end of the war, and New South Wales in particular, would be simply marvellous, for the same reason that made England prosper after the Franco-Prussian War. He was heart and soul with the idea of the Millions Club to promote the growth and prosperity of New South Wales. (Loud applause.)

STATE MINISTRY.

Mr. C. Ludowici, in proposing "The State Ministry," said that it had nobly backed up the defence policy of the Federal Government. They hoped that the work of the Immigration Department, so ably presided over by Mr. Percy Hunter, would not be allowed by the Government to go to sleep. (Cheers.) There was still room for thousands of immigrants in New South Wales, and this would more especially be the case after the war was over, and people turned to new countries in which to settle. (Applause.) Alluding to industrial problems, he said he hoped that the industries of the State would be allowed to go ahead without the interference of agitators. If arbitration was not to be impartially administered, there should be freedom of employment and unrestricted competition. (Applause.) He congratulated the Ministry on the good work it had done. (Applause.)

Mr. Carmichael, Minister for Public Instruction, said he appreciated the kindly remarks of Mr. Ludowici concerning the Ministry. The Ministry had been in a warlike state of peace. They were at peace with the Liberals, but at war with the Farmers and Settlers' Association. (Laughter.) The position of Australia was that, despite the war, they might imagine themselves, owing to their isolation, to be at peace, but every month they were hearing the far-distant bugle call more and more clearly, and were responding more and more readily. It would yet become more and more insistent to them in Australia. (Applause.) A reference by Mr. Carmichael to the growth of rifle clubs, which appears in another column, elicited loud applause.

OUR PARLIAMENTS.

Mr. Pratten, in proposing the "Federal and State Parliaments," said he coupled it with the names of Mr. Joseph Cook, Senator Gould, Mr. T. Henley, and Dr. Arthur, M.L.A. He hoped that in the future their trade would be kept within the Empire, and the countries of the Empire, and never again would Britishers subsidise an enemy's trade. (Loud cheers.) He hoped in the no distant future that Australia would have 100,000 bayonets at the front. (Loud applause.)

Mr. Joseph Cook, leader of the Opposition in the Federal Parliament, who was most cordially received, said he was gratified to find himself at the festive board of the Millions Club, and he congratulated them on keeping their "end up" during these trying days. The club stood, in the words of their president, for "the peopling, defending, and boosting of our country." (Laughter). They had in Australia the finest country on this earth. They had 5,000,000 people in Australia, and 250,000 men in arms were being talked of by General Carmichael. (Great laughter and applause). Good luck to him, but he should remember that Australia was to be won or lost in Europe. (Cheers.) Freedom was the note of the Empire, and it was freedom's cause that they were fighting for in this war. (Cheers.) In the spring it would be found that, no matter how much the German machine was being oiled, British grit would still be there. (Cheers.) The only way to get the war over was to send more men, and more men. Here was their opportunity to display their gratitude to the country whose flag had so long sheltered them. (Cheers.)

There was hearty cheering when Dr. Arthur spoke of the loyalty of Japan towards the British Empire in this crisis, and urged that they in Australia must accord a more courteous attitude towards that gallant and chivalrous people. (Cheers.)

Mr. Henley, M.L.A., said that the State Parliament thought in millions. They taxed and they super-taxed, and yet the people drank their health. (Laughter.) The question that everybody should be able to answer satisfactorily after the war was, "What part did you play in it?"

Mr. Sherington, vice-president of the Chamber of Manufactures, proposed "Success to the Millions Club," and spoke of the influence for good that it was exercising in the community. In these times of stress the manufacturers and business men would be found taking their share of the Empire's burdens. (Applause.)

Mr. Arthur Rickard, in response, said he thought they could claim that the club was one that stood for progress and patriotism, and it had justified its existence. They had hoped to correct a certain indefiniteness in the Government policy of immigration, which, he ventured to say, would be soon in season again, and would receive a fillip by the war.

BACK FROM BERLIN.

AUSTRALIAN LADY'S EXPERIENCE.

Amongst Australians recently returned from Europe is Miss Clark, of Overdale, Ballarat. Miss Clark went to England early last year with her brother, Mr. Leslie Clark, of Manly, formerly of the Union Bank, and the two were in Berlin when the war broke out.

In a letter to a relation at Darling Point (Mrs. C. J. B. Watson), Miss Clark states:—"We reached England on September 21, and were accorded a great reception, that is, the Australian party of which we were units. Lots of things to contribute to our comfort were brought us by Britons, and once again we felt safe on British soil. Lord Kitchener was on the station when we arrived, and soldiers and others assembled there greeted us with the now popular song as to the way to Tipperary. Officials made inquiries regarding our requirements, and we then repaired to the hotel at which we had stayed prior to our going to the Continent. . . . An American party of some 100 persons had a much less enviable time than we. They were detained on the frontier, and left to get along as best they could. . . . The women of our party were allowed to return to England from Germany, but the men were interned in Berlin."

When the last mail left London Mr. Leslie Clark was still a prisoner of war in the German capital. Mr. W. Cowles, of Bondi (brother-in-law), received a postcard from him, but it bore no message.

WOOL SALE.

BRISK BUSINESS IN MELBOURNE

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Sales were resumed in the local wool market to-day. Although the embargo as regards shipment to the U.S.A. remains in force there is none against buying, and America fully availed herself of the opportunity, most, if not all, of the better class of merinos being eagerly snapped up with that destination in view. Some 6600 bales were submitted to-day. Competition was exceedingly strong throughout, and highly satisfactory clearances were effected as compared with the rates ruling a fortnight ago.

The better class of merinos remain unchanged, medium merinos, together with crossbreds generally, showed a further improvement on the extreme rates then ruling.

"READY!"

THE RIFLE CLUBS.

DUTY OF FIRMS.

MR. CARMICHAEL'S VIEWS.

Speaking at the Millions Club dinner last night, Mr. Carmichael mentioned that he had that day received a letter from Colonel Wallack, stating that permission had been given for all Eastern Suburbs Rifle Clubs to drill at the Victoria Barracks, on Monday, Thursday, and Friday evenings. The commandant also mentioned that 300 men had joined David Jones's Rifle Club, while a few nights previously 600 men had joined at Ashfield.

"These," said Mr. Carmichael, "are only isolated instances of a movement that has spread over the whole of Australia, and is being taken up with enthusiasm, not only in the capital cities, but in the country."

Mr. Carmichael went on to say that Major Buchanan had informed him that there were now over 1000 men drilling in the Domain, and the number would be increased each week. "I am pleased to announce," said Mr. Carmichael, "that we now have rifles available for drill purposes—they came to hand this morning, and have been stored in the guard room at Government House grounds. They are available to any accredited rifle club, but it would be as well that early application should be made to the military authorities so that drills, both as regards space and rifles, should not overlap."

Passing on, Mr. Carmichael spoke of the tremendous interests that were involved in the war. "I have been furnished by the Government Statistician with figures," he said, "which show that the amount of capital invested in land, buildings, and machinery in Sydney in factories alone has an aggregate value of over £20,000,000. The value of the factory output is £40,000,000 a year. Those of us who remain at home, for the present have duties which must be undertaken, and big employers of labour from their greater interests have greater responsibilities. There are 86,000 employees in the factories alone. I am the last man in the world to try to teach other men their business, but I may be permitted to suggest that the employers having so much more to lose, might very seriously take up the question of making preparation for the military demands upon Australia during the next two years. In fact, it is not too much to expect that the employers, having so much more to lose, will insure against that loss by making present sacrifices. With a little organisation each firm can have either its own rifle company, or can form part of a combined rifle club company made up of a number of firms. Big firms like Farmer's and David Jones' are able to spare enough men at a time to drill by themselves. Other firms with fewer employees, by a little combination and a little sacrifice, might secure equal efficiency by allowing, 5, 10, or 20 men off at a time, as circumstances allow."

"Then, again," added Mr. Carmichael, "everyone realises that the Commonwealth has a tremendous strain upon its organisation and its finances. Experience has shown that a uniform is a decided incentive to military zeal, while apart from this reason such uniform in this weather would be a great advantage for the men drilling. Is it too much to suggest that the Commonwealth might be wholly relieved of providing uniforms for the rifle reserve, and that such uniforms might be supplied by the co-operation of the big business houses of Sydney. This is merely a suggestion, but, in view of the fine response made invariably whenever there is a call, I believe there would be a similar response if the proposal were definitely put forward."

ATHLETIC SPORTS CLUB.

The parade of the Athletic Sports Rifle Club, held last Thursday, was the best since its formation, and many new members enrolled. The membership is now over 400, and an endeavour is being made to double that number. The principal games are already fairly well represented, but it is realised that there are many more whose sympathies and assistance could be obtained. The committee of the club has, therefore, asked all the controlling authorities of the many sports to meet them at a conference, when the subject can be discussed in all its phases. The only difficulty in dealing with a large body is the supply of instructors. So far this club has been fortunate in this respect: at the last parade there were 25 competent instructors drilling the recruits. From to-night trams will leave Circular Quay at 7.20 and 7.40 p.m. for the ground, while the service from the railway will leave Eddy-avenue at 7.40 p.m.

TECHNICAL COLLEGE CLUB.

A largely attended meeting of the staff of the Sydney Technical College and Technological Museum, Department of Public Instruction, was held yesterday afternoon, when it was decided to form a rifle club. Those present handed in their names, and arrangements were entered into for commencing drill on Thursday afternoon.

RUGBY UNION.

The various athletic bodies of Manly are supporting the Rugby Union scheme for training and drill, and a committee meeting representative of all the sporting organisations is to be held with a view to arranging a general meeting to form an athletic squad. The swimmers have already approved, and surfers, golfers, and tennis players are expected to follow. In the districts great help is coming from the city and suburban clubs, and at Glebe Club's committee meeting both Glenwood and Toxteth clubs were represented. Both intend to ask all their members to join the union's squad.

ACTION BY Y.M.C.A.

A rifle reserve corps is being formed amongst the members of the Y.M.C.A. for the benefit of those members who are not already in the military forces. This, in addition to the work of the association in its field service department, and the large number of members who have volunteered for active service, shows a patriotic spirit prevailing amongst the members of the association.

NORTH SYDNEY.

North Sydney indulged in a big recruiting movement last night. At 7.30 the band of the 18th Infantry paraded at Milson's Point, with torch-bearers. The band was supported by men from three companies of the A.G.A., "C" Company, 18th Infantry, and a number of members of the North Sydney Rifle Club, with their banner. This force marched through the principal streets, and at the School of Arts it was received by the Mayor of North Sydney, Alderman W. Anderson.

Mr. Cocks, M.L.A., said that the meeting had been called because it was the duty of public men to come forward and point out what every man owed to his country.

Mr. Oakes said that statistics showed that in Australia only one out of every 46 of the male population had enlisted. That was not good enough. In Canada one out of every 30 men had enrolled; in England one in 10 had gone to the front, or would go. Germany had one out of every five of its male inhabitants at the front, and France one in four. This showed Australia a long way behind.

DARLINGHURST.

Those desirous of forming a club at Darlinghurst are invited to send their names and addresses to C. N. Streat, 84 Victoria-street; or L. V. Harris, Darlinghurst-road.

CLUB FORMED AT RYDE.

There was a gathering of over 400 residents at Ryde Town Hall last night, presided over by the Mayor, Alderman R. T. Sutton. Colonel Wallack, C.B., the district commandant, was present, and appealed to the men to come forward, and learn how to drill and handle a rifle. On the motion of Alderman Kelly, it was resolved to form a rifle club at Ryde, and 100 members were enrolled in the hall. Mr. W. Thompson, M.L.A., also addressed the meeting, and urged all able-bodied men to prepare themselves by undergoing a course of home defence.

LITHGOW CLUB.

The recent appeals made to join rifle clubs have been fairly well responded to in Lithgow. The local rifle club has already enrolled several members, and is particularly fortunate in having many offers of help in the drilling of recruits. These offers have come from men holding commissions in the militia, as well as from others who have been non-coms.

OUR TROOPS.

RETURNING FROM RABAUL.

PARADE TO-MORROW.

SPLENDID RECRUITING.

To-morrow there will be a grand parade of those gallant men who came forward, practically without notice, to do duty in the tropics at a time when it was known that the German warships were about. There will also be a procession of another kind—vans of convalescent soldiers who have fallen victims to malaria.

A wireless message received yesterday stated that two vessels were coming forward. The convalescents, to the number of about 170, are on one, but the vessel also carries other passengers. The other has 850 on board, including Colonel J. Paton, V.D. (who is known as the commanding officer of the Northern Infantry Brigade), and Major Heritage, who was in charge of Rabaul when Colonel Holmes was visiting other portions of the Pacific. The vessels will arrive at the E. and A. Company's Wharf, Circular Quay, in the forenoon.

The march of the men to the barracks will be accompanied by two bands. It is notified that friends will not be allowed to interview the troops until after they have been given parole. This will be subsequent to the luncheon, which will be provided for them at the barracks.

Recruiting yesterday was well up to the average for the opening day of the week, being well on to the third hundred. The medical men could not get through all hands in time for the Liverpool train, about 60 being told to report themselves again to-day. Two doctors were engaged in examining, and one did the inoculating.

The entrainment for Liverpool totalled 217—37 being for the Light Horse and 180 for the infantry. Warrant-officer Muckleton, who did the enrolling, was pleased to find that good horsemen, who were in every way fitted for the Light Horse, were prepared to enlist in the infantry, rather than take the risk of being detained here. The only men taken on for the Army Service Corps were those intended for reinforcements. They were sent to the infantry, with their papers specially marked, so that they could be picked out when recruits for this section were required.

Colonel Wallack, C.B., State Commandant, accompanied by Captain Daily-Watkins, orderly officer, visited Ryde last night in connection with the formation of a local rifle club. To-night the Commandant has a similar engagement at Burwood, and to-morrow he will be present at a meeting for the same purpose at Randwick.

Lieutenant-Colonel Boam left Sydney last night for Melbourne to engage upon work in connection with the consolidation of military regulations. During his absence (which will extend over several months) the whole of the work of the enrolling office will devolve upon Warrant-Officer Muckleston.

Major Sadler, staff officer, stated yesterday that the 6th Field Artillery Brigade camp, which was originally fixed to be opened at Albury on May 3, had been postponed till May 10.

The District Commandant has received the sum of £550 from Misses Emily and Violet Mackay, of Anambah, West Maitland, for the purpose of purchasing an ambulance waggon for the 1st L.H. Field Ambulance, which is attached to the 1st L.H. Brigade. One of the regiments of this brigade is the 1st L.H. Regiment, which is raised mostly in that district, and is commanded by Lt.-Col. J. B. Meredith.

A sum of £150 has been given by Mrs. Jane Foster, of Kyalla, Darling Point-road, to purchase a travelling kitchen, which will be allotted to the 13th Infantry Battalion, commanded by Lt.-Col. G. J. Burnage, V.D. Another £150 has been received from residents of the North Coast, to provide a travelling kitchen for the 1st L.H. Field Ambulance. Residents of the following places subscribed this amount:—Casino, Kyogle, Murwillumbah, Byron Bay, Nimbi, Clunes, Bangalow, Alstonville, Broadwater, Woodburn, Mullumbimby, Corndale, Wardell, and Lismore.

Captain Reg. Wallace, R.N.R., late of the E. and A. Company, and Burns, Philp, Ltd., and well-known in Sydney shipping circles, has received a commission in the Royal Navy as lieutenant with the North Sea fleet.

Mr. Richard Harold Capel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Capel, of Warialda, left for England by the Osterley on Saturday, to join King Edward's Horse.

"G.J.C.": A man suitable in other respects might pass the doctor if only a little "bandy-legged." No harm in trying.

"A.P.": At present motor cycle despatch riders are not called for. They may be required when orders are received as to the composition of the new contingent. Meanwhile, you could enrol in the infantry.

"A.L.N.": You can get leave after you are medically examined in order to arrange your business affairs. It is reasonable to apply for any branch of the service, and hear what the recruiting officer has to say.

"In doubt:" The separation allowance (is 3d per day) to the wives of soldiers should apply uniformly throughout the Commonwealth. The regulation says "while in camp"—not from the beginning of this year, as you suppose.

Lieutenant William H. Gibb, a member of the architectural department of the Auckland Education Board, has received a commission in the Black Watch, and is now with that regiment at the front.

Mr. John Lauder, son of Mr. Harry Lauder, is serving with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

Among those leaving Sydney for London by the Ballarat on Saturday to join regiments in England, in most cases King Edward's Horse, are Messrs. Justin M'Carthy (Goulburn), Rupert Macnamara (nephew of Sir William Cooper), C. Cran, G. Best (Neutral Bay), G. Atherton, J. T. Osborn, E. C. Crouch, S. F. Mort, H. E. Bown, R. M'Intyre, G. H. Bates, and V. Baynes.

Mr. John O'Brien, who has enlisted for service abroad, was last Friday evening presented by Mr. W. Moore, postmaster at Wahroonga, on behalf of the staff of that office, with a set of silver-mounted pipes and a wristlet watch.

MEN IN EGYPT.

"MOST SATISFACTORY."

BRISBANE, Monday.

The Premier, Mr. Denham, has received the following cable from the Agent-General, Sir T. B. Robinson:—"Most satisfactory reports continue to reach England regarding the condition, behaviour, and equipment of the Australian troops now in Egypt."

DEATH IN EGYPT.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The Defence Department to-day announced that Private J. T. O'Donnell, of A Company, 2nd battalion, died from smallpox in Egypt on February 12. His next of kin is given as Mrs. Boyd, Howe-street, Singleton, N.S.W.

BOOTS FOR TROOPS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

After the commencement of the war the Secretary for the High Commissioner's Department in London, Captain Collins, communicated with the War Office suggesting that orders for boots for the troops might advantageously be placed in Australia owing to the heavy demand on British factories.

The reply of the War Office, which has now been made available, is that all the necessary supplies have been provided for but if later on further supplies are wanted, the suggestion will receive careful attention. Captain Collins was further informed that his letter had been communicated to the Allies' Commission, which had been sitting in London.

THE A.V.H.

WORK AT WIMEREUX.

THE RESOURCEFUL AUSTRALIAN.

A VISITOR'S IMPRESSIONS.

In an interesting article in the London "Daily Mail," Mr. Frank Hillier describes the work of the Australian Voluntary Hospital. He says, writing from Boulogne:—

"On the topmost part of the northern cliff of Wimereux there stands an hotel, the 'Hotel de Golf,' a red, rambling building in the centre of a small brood of smaller erections like a hen among her chickens, open to all the winds that blow, a place to resort to when getting well is the chief object in life. Last summer it was filled with people in this condition; this winter it is still full, and for the same reason, but the circumstances are different.

"On August 29 a train stopped on the line which runs through the settlement, which served formerly for the transport of bricks and mortar. From it there descended 120 men and women, who brought with them strange bags and bundles. They took that hotel in hand, and made it, in the space of a few hours literally, a hospital in good sooth. Now it is known as the 'A.V.H.,' the Australian Voluntary Hospital, a triumph of overseas enterprise and inventiveness.

"It is in keeping with the traditions of vigour and ready resource which is so much the pride, while the qualities are characteristic, of our over-seas cousins that within 12 hours of the arrival of the train aforementioned there were 147 stretcher cases being treated in the new hospital, which had been in the meantime cleared, cleaned, fitted, and furnished, from the first bedstead to the last towel. The authorities would have made no complaint had they taken a week over the business. What the Australians lacked they made or invented. An operating theatre was, of course, needed. The most suitable room having been decide on, it was a question of workmen to transform it. There were none. The men were busy lifting and carrying, so three sisters rolled up their sleeves and "turned to" themselves. They scraped every inch of paper off the walls at a rate which would have caused a paper-hanger to faint. Then the tallest sister of the three mounted on an improvised scaffold and manipulated the whitewash brush. A case for the instruments was improvised from an exhibition case for chocolate which had formed part of the hotel fixtures, and still does duty. It was the spirit which enabled men to make homes out of nothing in virgin forests and construct smiling paradises with wilderness as the sole material."

MARVELS IN TWELVE HOURS.

In the first seven days of the theatre's existence 79 serious operations were performed in it. But other marvels were performed in the 12 hours. Even the X-rays apparatus was installed and working, in charge of Mr. Herschel Harris, whose work in this department has been one of the chief factors in the great success which the Australian hospital has achieved. He invented one day a simple apparatus which has proved of the utmost value in examining X-rays negatives. It is a box one side of which consists of a ground-glass screen illuminated from within by an electric lamp. It is portable, so that while the surgeon is operating he can refer to the X-rays negative of the part on which he is at work. The screen is large enough for three large negatives to be examined at once.

The building is not a large one, but so skilfully has the space been employed that 186 cases can be comfortably accommodated under normal circumstances; indeed, I was assured that if it were necessary to take another 50 the thing would be done. And it did not seem possible to doubt it. As it is, the hospital will soon be enlarged by the erection of an annexe close by. The staff, which numbers 120, including 38 nursing sisters, is accommodated in a building apart, so that once the spell of duty over there is a complete change of atmosphere and environment available. The doctors are housed in the golf clubhouse a few hundred yards away, and here also is the bacteriological laboratory, for there is nothing which this wonderfully equipped hospital lacks. Such a laboratory, about which alone an article might be written, is almost indispensable to a "war hospital" for testing for such germs as those of tetanus, gangrene, enteric, the latter being one of the most important diseases to diagnose. It is one of the discoveries in a bacteriological laboratory that gangrenous wounds must be treated by being kept open, because the bacillus is anaerobic, that is to say, it cannot live in air, so stitches are now taboo, and the wound, swabbed with hydrogen peroxide and irrigated with carbolic or saline solution, is kept open till the bacilli have been destroyed. The bacteriological laboratory will show at once whether a wound is infected or not, and with what, and the treatment is determined accordingly. As regards the outside equipment of the hospital, there are available nearly 50 motor ambulances.

AUSTRALIANS ALL.

The personnel is almost entirely Australian. The medical staff all volunteered at a meeting of Australian doctors who were in London when the war broke out. The commanding officer is Lieutenant-Colonel Eames, who carried out the organisation of the hospital. All the nursing sisters, with a very few exceptions, are Australians, and it is in keeping with the general spirit which pervades the "A.V.H." that some of them actually paid their own fares from Australia to come and offer their services; and they all work with splendid energy, which may be imagined from the fact that on one occasion work went on continuously in the operating theatre from 6 o'clock one morning till 2 a.m. on the following day.

The whole installation of the hospital shows signs of this businesslike, efficient, disposition, coupled, of course, with that pioneer ingenuity of the colonial. Here is a new splint which permits of the dressing of the wound without the necessity of removing the splint; there is a simple apparatus for the extension of a wounded arm. "If you haven't got a thing, invent it." seems to be the motto; and in war surgery so many unusual situations arise that the faculty is of sevenfold value.

As the staff and methods are Australian, so is the money; the donations have been on a generous scale, and this is only one of the respects in which the Australian hospital is in the very first flight of the many voluntary institutions which are doing such yeoman service.

RED CROSS.

OPERATIONS ABROAD.

Lady Helen Munro Ferguson has forwarded to the New South Wales branch of the Red Cross Society the following particulars regarding the work of the British Red Cross Society for the month ended December 12:—

The number of Auxiliary Home Red Cross Hospitals accepted by the War Office now totals 598, containing 18,050 beds. Cases of stores despatched this month have been as under:—To France, 4422; and to other hospitals in Britain, 2901.

During the same period the number of garments given out totals 130,740. Up to December 12, 700 motor ambulances have been despatched. The society is continuing to ascertain and report to friends and relatives the condition and whereabouts of wounded prisoners.

The society has acquired a new hospital ship, and has christened her the "Queen Alexandra." This boat is doing good work.

A big military hospital is being gradually erected at Netley, mainly for wounded Indian troops. Another large hospital has been called the "King George" Hospital.

The following procedure has been laid down, and has been approved of by the Director-General of the Army Medical Services:—(1) As long as the present conditions last, and as long as no sudden and unexpected demand arises, the stores of the Red Cross will continue the following—(a) The hospitals abroad actually under its own authority, and for which it is directly responsible; (b) the ambulance trains, with comforts and garments; (c) the Red Cross stations at or near Boulogne; (d) the ambulance ships, with garments for the wounded; (e) the military hospitals abroad, with such comforts and garments as are not included in the army schedule, and which it may wish to provide. (2) Should the present conditions change, and an emergency arise involving a large and sudden increase in the sick and wounded, arriving at Boulogne or any other base, the stores department will assist the R.A.M.C. to the utmost of its powers, by sending over stores of all descriptions to France in large quantities and in the quickest possible time.

FRENCH-AUSTRALIAN LEAGUE OF HELP.

The league has decided to write to all the Mayors and shire presidents in New South Wales, forwarding to them a copy of the letter in which Mr. Richard Hawke, the Mayor of Vauxhall, makes a special appeal for his sorely tried villagers. Every 4d collected will buy a loaf to appease the hunger of some unfortunate, and even the smallest contribution will help.

The committee greatly appreciate the valuable services of two of the best men professional cutters of Sydney, who have cut out numberless women's and children's clothes, which are now available for making up.

The hon. treasurer acknowledges receipt of the following further donations:—Amount already acknowledged, £6255/9/2; Mrs. F. F. Winchcombe, £1/1/; James Marks, £1/1; Mrs. Orwell Phillips, £5/5/; Mademoiselle Soubeiran (further contribution), £1/10/; total, £6264/5/2.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOOD FUND.

The Chamber of Commerce War Food Fund was established for the purpose of sending foodstuffs to England. All goods are consigned to the London Chamber of Commerce, with instructions to consult the British Government, and distribute the goods either amongst the troops or amongst the poor and needy, as may be considered advisable. The Lord Mayor of London is assisting in the distribution at the other end.

The Chamber of Commerce acknowledges the following subscriptions:—Amount already acknowledged, £92,153/3/10; proceeds of social held by residents of Tregeagle, per Lismore Chamber of Commerce, £11/11/; N.S.W. Railways Gas Employees, 9th instalment, £1/12/9; employees of Bulletin Newspaper Company, weekly donation, £2/6/3; Thos. H. May, Yarrowitch, 5/; Farmers and Settlers' Association, Tamworth, per Percy Marsh, hon. secretary, £27/16/9; E.B. In connection with the special appeal made by the committee for three extra motor ambulances, to cost £1500, for the use of the Australian Expeditionary Forces when they reach the front, all the donations collected in February are to go towards this effort.

Mrs. E. A. Antill, hon. superintendent of the "War Chest" Depot, Macdonell House, 321 Pitt-street, asks all intending workers to call at the depot, and she will supply them with wool free of charge for the making of socks. There are also a lot of soldiers' kit bags ready cut out for sewing.

Foley Bros., Ltd., acknowledge receipt of the following butter on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce War Food Fund (dairy section):—Number of boxes already acknowledged, 1031 boxes; Raleigh Co-operative Dairy Company, 2 boxes; Upper Manning Dairy Company, 1 box. Total, 1034 boxes.

RAILWAY FARES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—As a member of the expeditionary force now encamped at Liverpool I would like to draw attention to the matter of train fares paid by soldiers in camp. The return fare to Sydney is 2s each; surely some concession could be made, say, to charge half fare, 1s. It comes very hard on married men especially, who come to town to see their families. It seems all very well to call for recruits, but surely the Government can give them a few concessions. As to lost revenue, this is more than compensated by extra amount derived from visitors to camp.

I am, etc.,
ONE OF MANY.

WHITE AUSTRALIA.

CRITICISED BY SIR HENRY GALWAY.

MR. FISHER IN REPLY.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

"If the words attributed by the press this morning to his Excellency the Governor of South Australia were uttered by him they constitute a grave official indiscretion, which cannot be allowed to pass for a day without protest," said the Prime Minister, Mr. Fisher, to-day in reference to the views reported to have been expressed by Sir Henry Galway concerning the development of the Northern Territory by white labour.

Sir Henry Galway, speaking at an official luncheon in connection with the Agricultural Show at Uraidla on Saturday, questioned the wisdom of the White Australia policy as far as it applied to the Northern Territory. How the tropical portion of the Commonwealth was to be developed by white labour alone he was unable to conceive, and he added that if it could not be done it would be a thousand pities to allow what was undoubtedly a fine country to remain undeveloped purely on account of the White Australia policy.

The Governor was also reported to have said:—"Looking at the splendid services being rendered to the Empire by our Indian troops and our Japanese allies, I am one of those who think that the feelings of Australians on the colour question will undergo considerable, or should I say, a softening change when the war is over."

Extracts of the speech have been sent to the Premier of South Australia by the Prime Minister.

NEW ZEALAND TRAGEDY.

ALLEGED CONFESSION.

AUCKLAND (N.Z.), Monday.

The search for Norman Keals, which ended in his capture on Saturday, developed in its later stages into a veritable man hunt—probably without parallel in the history of crime in New Zealand.

The police, assisted by a strong force of settlers and Maoris, divided into parties, each taking a section of the bush. Keals, after leaving the tree in which he had been hiding, was found lying at full length beside a log. He surrendered when covered with a shot gun, without resistance, and seemed quite unconcerned. He made a voluntary confession to the police.

In the early morning of Tuesday last he said he had fired a shot from a revolver at his sister-in-law. Afterwards he did not like to leave the baby, as it was "singing out." He, therefore, took it out, and within five minutes strangled it. Then he went right away into the bush. He described the place where he left the baby's dead body under a tree, with a nikau branch over it. He stated that he had gone to the house on Monday night intending to kill his brother and "all of them," but after he fired one shot he thought he had done enough. His motive for the crime was revenge, because when he was in Australia he heard that his interest in the property near Onewhero had been taken from him. On learning of that, he made up his mind to have his revenge on someone some day. In conclusion, the captive calmly remarked, "Well, it is all over now. I suppose I have got to face the music." He signed the confession as a voluntary one on his part.

Keals appeared in court to-day and was remanded.

TRAVELLING EXHIBITION.

MILLIONS CLUB SCHEME.

TRADE WITHIN THE EMPIRE.

A project to hold a "Trade within the Empire" exhibition in Sydney and other Australian centres has been set on foot by the Millions Club. The project is now being considered by a joint committee representing the Chambers of Commerce and Manufactures and the club.

Briefly, the idea in view is to hold an exhibition on the cyclorama principle, with a view, generally, to fostering trade between the various parts of the Empire and, more particularly, to attract a desirable class of immigrants to New South Wales and Australia. The present intention is to open the exhibition in November next. On a unique scale the primary industries of the State and the Commonwealth are to be depicted, and ingenious models are to be employed for the purpose. The models and scenic effects are to be supplemented by a special series of appropriate picture films. In addition, there will be sideshows, which are to be redolent of the soil and illustrative of life in the backblocks.

After opening in Sydney, it is proposed that the exhibition should travel throughout Australia at the more important centres. After the exhibition has been round the Commonwealth the proposal further is that it should be embarked for the United Kingdom.

It is reported by the Millions Club authorities that the proposal has met with an encouraging reception on the part of those who are likely to avail themselves of the space that will be available for exhibitors. Mr. Arthur Rickard stated last night at the annual dinner of the club that the exhibition would be on novel and striking lines, and would not be a mere show. Empire exhibits would be on view.

ROUGH VOYAGE.

STEAMER IN HEAVY SEA.

The steamer Hurst, which arrived from Puget Sound yesterday, encountered a succession of severe storms on the voyage.

She left Puget Sound on January 13 with 3,700,000ft of timber, and ran into stormy weather almost immediately. Heavy seas swept across the vessel, and one of the lifeboats was smashed. Later in the voyage the steamer enjoyed a spell of fine weather, which lasted until the vessel was approaching the Australian coast. Here further storms of a cyclonic nature were met, and the steamer was again buffeted by heavy seas. The steamer could only make slight progress against the storm, and on several occasions waves swept over her, straining the lashings of the deck cargo.

On arrival here the Hurst anchored in Berry's Bay. She will discharge 600,000ft of timber, and will probably leave for Melbourne on Wednesday next.

QUEENSLAND.

THE CLAN DAVIDSON.

BRISBANE, Monday.

The Clan liner Clan Davidson arrived at Brisbane from Port Moresby yesterday. The vessel arrived at Port Moresby on February 6, but as she was unable to discharge cargo there she proceeded to Brisbane, where the work will be carried out.

The steamer Carpentaria, which left for London on Saturday, took away what is practically the largest cargo ever shipped from this port in one bottom. It included 36,500 boxes of butter, which was some thousands in excess of the previous best shipment. Other lines of cargo included beef and mutton.

SMOKERS IN TRAINS.

GOULBURN, Monday.

At the police court to-day two men were fined £1, with costs, for smoking in a railway carriage not set apart for the purpose. One defendant was alone in the carriage at the time he was discovered.

Mr. G. R. Williams, acting police magistrate, said no provision was made for smokers when the smoking carriages were full. It was becoming a regular practice for smoking cars to be occupied by women.

Mr. C. James, Railway District Superintendent, said special instructions had been given the staff and officials to see that smoking carriages were not used by non-smokers.

Mr. Williams said that might be so, but he had seen women come into smoking carriages, make themselves comfortable, and then object to men smoking.

FIRST LAW TERM.

There was a large gathering yesterday in the Banco Court, when the first law term of the new year was opened. The Chief Justice, Sir William Cullen, Mr. Justice Pring, and Mr. Justice Gordon, comprised the bench, appearing in full-bottomed wigs and robes of scarlet and ermine. The sheriff, Mr. Maybury, sat beside their Honors, and the Prothonotary, Mr. Walsh, occupied the associates' desk. The bar table was fully occupied with leading counsel, among those present being the State Attorney-General, Mr. D. R. Hall; Mr. Ralston, K.C.; Mr. Lamb, K.C.; Mr. Campbell, K.C.; Mr. Canaway, K.C.; Mr. Loxton, K.C.; Mr. Garland, K.C.; and Mr. Leverrier, K.C. A number of ladies were provided with seats in the jury box.

"WE DEPLORE IT."

At a meeting of delegates representing a number of city and suburban branches of the P.L.L., held at the Trades Hall on Thursday, it was decided on the motion of Alderman Purcell (Paddington), seconded by Alderman Devlin, that the following resolution should be forwarded to the Minister for Public Works (Mr. A. Griffith):—

"That this organisation urge upon the Government to at once proceed with and pass the Local Government Bill, 1914, embodying a clause providing for full adult suffrage on a one month's residential qualification, in accordance with the P.L.L. pledge and platform, adopted at last conference."

This motion had been forwarded by Redfern P.L.L. for discussion. On the motion of Mr. Ward (Dulwich Hill) the following addition was added:—"That we deplore the necessity for this resolution asking a Labour Government to carry out a plank of the Labour platform."

CLAIM FOR DAMAGES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

In consequence of the departure for America by the Niagara in December last of Miss Connie Waugh, Miss Ethel Berne brought an application to Mr. Justice Hodges to-day in Chambers.

Proceedings arose out of an alleged assault by Connie Waugh and George Gordon Cumming upon Miss Berne, on July 14, 1914. Miss Berne claimed £1000 as damages. The application was that the defence of Connie Waugh be struck out, and that defendant be placed in the same position as if she had not defended the case, or that plaintiff be at liberty to issue a writ of attachment against Connie Waugh for contempt, she having failed to comply with an order of Mr. Justice Hood, on October 27, to answer interrogations and give discovery, and that defendant might be ordered to pay costs of the application and writ of attachment.

Letters in support of the application were read by Mr. Cussen (instructed by Mr. J. Woolf). One of them read as follows:—"Messrs. M'Inerney, M'Inerney, and Wingrove, Melbourne, February 2. Dear Sirs,—Re Berne v Waugh and Cumming. I am informed on good authority that your client, Miss Connie Waugh, left Australia in consequence of an agreement with Sir Rupert Clarke, by which he made a settlement with her, putting an end to their relationship. I am informed that this settlement involved his paying her a large sum of money, and transferring property conditionally on her leaving Australia at once. She left hastily under this contract, it being understood that if she was subsequently responsible for a verdict recovered against her money so paid to her would be sufficient to cover same. This settlement was effected through Messrs. Writing and Aitken. If you are aware of the facts at all you will see that it would be inconsistent for her to say she was leaving Australia in consequence of illness. I shall be glad if you will be good enough to confirm this, as it would have material influence on the action by plaintiff. Yours truly, J. Woolf."

On February 3 defendant's solicitors replied that they would not "enter into an irrelevant discussion of our client's business affairs."

Mr. Brient appeared for defendant. His contention was that Miss Waugh had not wilfully disobeyed the order of Mr. Justice Hood, as she had not realised when she went away that she might be called on to answer interrogations. She was certainly ill, and her solicitor was satisfied of that fact.

Mr. Justice Hodges held that defendant knew perfectly well that she would have to answer interrogations. She had ignored her responsibility to plaintiff. He would make an order to strike out the defence with costs so far as this part of the defence was concerned. The writ of attachment was refused.

FIRES.

FORBES, Monday.

The drapery shop of Mr. Peter Holey, in Rankin-street, was destroyed by fire in the early hours of Sunday morning. Good work on the part of the brigade prevented the flames from spreading to the adjoining business premises. The stock is insured with the Norwich Union for £9500. The cause of the outbreak is unknown.

The residence of Mr. Frederick Bishop, of South Forbes, was completely destroyed by fire last night.

DAMAGE IN NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Monday.

The Hawkes Bay soap and tannery works at Awatoto have been totally destroyed by fire. The works were valued at about £10,000.

Barry's Brewery, at Gisborne, was totally destroyed by fire. A hundred and eighty cases of beer for export and a similar number unpacked were lost. At present it is impossible to estimate the damage.

THE WEATHER.

HEAT WAVE CONDITIONS.

Since 9 a.m. on Saturday no measurable rainfall has been reported from any part of New South Wales. An increase of cloudiness, with light to moderate rainfall in the Northern Territory, however, together with higher temperatures over eastern Australia, points to a growth in activity of the tropical depression in northern areas.

The most prominent feature in the weather is the return of heat conditions, practically throughout the continent. Many of Sunday's temperatures in the different States exceeded 100 degrees. Chief amongst these were:—110 degrees at Eyre (over the Western Bight) and 107 degrees at Marble Bar (in Western Australia), 109 degrees at Boolia, and 106 at Urandangie (Queensland), and 109 deg. at Eucla, 106 deg. each at Streaky Bay and Adelaide, and 105 deg. at Charlotte Waters and Port Augusta, in South Australia.

In New South Wales practically every reporting station showed an increase in the registrations at 9 a.m. yesterday, as compared with those at the same hour on Saturday, the largest rise being 12 deg. at Hay.

Yesterday the following high readings were recorded:—Hay and Deniliquin each 108 deg., Hillston and Wentworth each 106, Wilcannia 105, Condobolin and Albury both 104 deg.

Present indications favour further hot weather, culminating in scattered thunderstorms and strong wind.

BROKEN HILL.—The weather continues to be hot. The temperature on Sunday was 100 degrees, and to-day 103.8.

COLLIERY WORK BRISK.

NEWCASTLE, Monday.

During the fortnight ended on Saturday 36 collieries in the Newcastle and Maitland districts worked on an average 10 days each out of the 11. Nineteen of the mines worked the full time, and the others lost from half a day to five days each. The demand on the trade was stronger than it had been for many weeks past.

Details of the workings are:—Sea Pit, Lambton, Lambton B, Wallsend, Elermore Vale, Abermain, Broxburn, Neath, Waratah, Aberdare, Aberdare Extended, Duckenfield, Back Creek, Shortland, Newcastle A, New Lambton, Dudley, Pacific, Burwood Extended, 11 days; Hetton, Burwood, 10½; Rothbury, Stockton, Borehole, 10½; South Greta, Sneddon's, 10; Rhondda, 9; Bellbird, 8½; Co-operative, Seaham No. 2, 8; Lymington, 7½; Northumberland, West Wallsend, Killingworth, Northern Extended, 7; Seaham No. 1, 6½; Jesmond, Pelaw Main, Hebburn, East Greta, Stanford-Merthyr, Whitburn, nil.

NEW ZEALAND.

PEOPLE'S SAVINGS.

WELLINGTON, Monday.

The savings banks deposits for January exceeded the withdrawals by £215,262, an increase of £110,123 as compared with January of last year.

DEATH SENTENCE.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Monday.

A young German named Arthur Rottman, who was found guilty of the murder of a settler and his wife and child, at Ruahine, on December 23, has been sentenced to death.

Another of the series of military handbooks compiled by Lieutenant R. Stuart, and entitled "Hints to Non-coms," has just been issued by the publishers, Angus and Robertson, Ltd., of Castlereagh-street. Concise information as to the duties of the various ranks of non-commissioned officers is supplied, and hints given on the art of instructing recruits on military courtesy, dress, and discipline.

ENEMY TRADE.

CHARGES AGAINST SYDNEY FIRMS.

A DEFENDANT MISSING.

When the cases, brought under the Trading with the Enemy Act, upon information laid by the Inspector of Customs, Mr. Donohoe, against Alfred Strauss for trading and attempting to trade with the enemy, were called at the Water Police Court yesterday, the defendant did not answer.

Mr. Shand, K.C., who, with Mr. T. R. Bavin, and instructed by Mr. William Arnott, appeared for the defence, said that Strauss had been in court all day on Friday, during the hearing of the charges against August Blumenthal, Ltd., but could not be found at present. Beyond this they knew nothing.

Mr. W. A. Parker, who had been instructed to prosecute by the Commonwealth Crown Solicitor's office, said he would have to ask the magistrate to issue a warrant for Strauss's arrest.

Mr. Payten, S.M.: No warrant can be issued without sworn information. I will estreat the bail of £2000, and you can then get information sworn and a warrant issued.

There are two charges against Julian and Alfred Strauss, the former of whom is in America. The first charge is for shipping certain goods to New York, the proceeds of the sale to be placed to the credit of Herren Gebruder Strauss, Frankfort-on-Main. The second charge is that on or about September 25, 1914, by means of a letter addressed to Herren Gebruder Strauss, Frankfort-on-Main, they attempted to trade with the enemy. The cases were brought both under the Trading with the Enemy Act and the common law.

The summons on Julian Strauss was not served, but Alfred Strauss came before the court last week, when the cases were adjourned, bail being allowed at self in £2000.

THE BLUMENTHAL CASE.

The hearing of the second charge against August Blumenthal, Ltd., brought under the Trading with the Enemy Act, upon information laid by the Inspector of Customs, Mr. Donohoe, for attempting to trade with the enemy by means of a letter addressed and posted to August Blumenthal, Ltd., Hamburg, on August 19, was continued.

Mr. H. E. Manning, instructed by the Commonwealth Crown Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. T. R. Bavin, instructed by Messrs. Norton, Smith, and Co., for the defence.

Mr. Manning said the circumstances were almost analogous to those of the first charge, of which the defendants were found guilty on Friday. He, therefore, suggested that the depositions for that case be admitted for the present case. This was agreed to.

Mr. Bavin said that the whole authority for saying whether there had been trading with the enemy or not had to be taken from text books. There was not a single case in the English Law Reports of prosecutions for trading with the enemy. Australians had never met with anything of the kind before, and he thought it was asking too much to expect mercantile men on August 7—two days after the outbreak of war—to know the entire extent of their obligations in regard to trading with the enemy. The proclamation had not expected this knowledge, as it had been issued as a warning.

Argument was concluded, and the magistrate adjourned the case until this morning for decision.

The cases against Carl Wernthal are identical with those against August Blumenthal, Ltd. It was asked that these cases stand over generally.

LABOUR MEETING.

BROKEN UP BY POLICE.

NEWCASTLE, Monday.

A number of I.W.W. men were holding a meeting on Saturday night in Perkin-street, when the police came upon the scene, and requested them to move on. A disturbance followed, and eleven of the men were arrested. They appeared at the police court, before Mr. Adrians, S.M., this morning, charged with various offences. At their request the cases were heard separately. The hearing lasted all day, and was not concluded when the Court rose.

Edwin Charles Roberts, 25, labourer, was fined £2, or 14 days, for offensive behaviour, and was ordered to find sureties for £20 to be of good behaviour for 12 months, or, in default, one month's imprisonment. Basil James Bryan, 20, labourer, was fined £3, or three weeks, for offensive behaviour; Robert Graham, 32, labourer, was fined £5, or six weeks, for offensive behaviour, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with hard labour, for assaulting a constable; Earl Albert, 23, was fined £1, or seven days, for resisting the police.

David Clubb, 33, fireman was fined £2, or seven days, for obstructing the passage of the public. George Barrett, 20, painter, was fined £2, or seven days, on a similar charge, and £1, or seven days, for resisting the police; John Johnsen, 25, labourer, was fined £3, or 14 days for obstructing the passage of the public; and £2 or seven days for resisting the police; sentences in these two cases to be cumulative.

Charges of offensive behaviour against Michael M'Cool, 26, labourer; William M'Kay, 29, tailor and Frederick Morgan, 27, electrical engineer, and a further charge against Morgan for assaulting Thomas Creamer were adjourned till to-morrow.

TRAINEE DISMISSED.

EMPLOYER PROSECUTED.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

At the Adelaide Police Court to-day, James Anderson and Co., Ltd., milk vendors, of Adelaide, were charged with having, on September 20, prejudiced in their employment John Charles Doyle, a person liable to serve in the citizen forces, by dismissing him from their employ.

Prosecuting counsel said Doyle received notice to proceed to camp. He saw Anderson, by whom he was employed, and told him he had to go into camp. Anderson sent a letter to the military authorities pointing out that it would be inconvenient to his firm if Doyle went into camp, and that, if he did go, he would be among the unemployed. A military officer rang up Anderson and told him that, if he dismissed Doyle, he would be liable to a fine of £100. Doyle again saw Anderson, and told him he had to go into camp that day. Anderson said, "Yes, you can go to camp. We will see who rules this business, the military or me." Doyle returned from camp, and saw Anderson, who said, "Well, if you go back to camp you are not wanted here."

The case was adjourned.

KAHANAMOKU IN MELBOURNE.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Duke Paoa Kahanamoku and G. Cunha (Hawaii) made their last appearance in Melbourne this evening, at the Melbourne Swimming Club's second fixture, arranged in their honour at City Baths, Swanston-street.

Duke Kahanamoku took part in the international brace relay handicap, in company with G. Cunha. Victoria and New South Wales were represented.

Kahanamoku and Cunha, scratch, conceded the limit men, F. C. Stubbs and G. W. Morris (Vic.), 12 seconds. Kahanamoku won comfortably. His time for the distance was 55 4-5s, and Cunha's 58 1-5s.

In the 220yds invitation handicap, Kahanamoku had as opponents T. Adrian and H. Hay (N.S.W.), G. W. Morris and T. W. Mason (Vic.). Kahanamoku won by about half a length from Morris. Time, 2m 48s.

CASUALTIES.

BOY DROWNED.

On Saturday morning William Long, 10, was drowned in No. 4 dam, water reserve, Mascot. Charles Kynner, 16, dived and brought out the boy's body, but life was extinct.

SHIRE CLERK'S DEATH.

Yesterday afternoon the water police found the body of Stephen Middleton Trickett, Narromine Shire clerk, in the Lane Cove River, near the Fig Tree Bridge. The legs and hands of the deceased were tied, and there were several stones in his clothing.

COOMA'S TRAIN SERVICE.

COOMA, Monday.

The new train service on the Cooma line has commenced.

The mail train from Sydney arrives two hours later than formerly, and leaves two hours earlier, shortening the time for Sydney correspondence by four hours a day.

SEIZED WHEAT.

NON-PAYMENT DENIED.

The Attorney-General yesterday referred to the complaint by a correspondent in the "Herald" that farmers were not being paid for the wheat the Government had seized.

"There is a statement appearing in the morning press which needs a little explanation," said Mr. Hall. "Mr. M. Sheppard, of Sheppard, Harvey, states that a number of farmers who are clients of his are still without their money. I find, on inquiring from the Wheat Acquisition Board, that this is correct, but the whole blame appears to lie with Mr. Sheppard for not making application to the board for this money. Mr. Sheppard's firm was asked for certain information about this matter, which they have not yet supplied. If any of the farmers concerned submit proofs of their claims the cheque will be made available without delay, as Mr. Sheppard should know.

"During my recent tour in the country I was challenged a number of times with the statement that farmers were unpaid, and that they had applied for the amount. At Coonamble a F. and S. organiser made a definite statement in the audience that he knew of farmers who had been thus penalised. I challenged him to give me their names. He declined to do this, but said he would produce the men on the next day. Since then I have not heard any more about the matter.

"Mr. John Hogan, of Newcastle, was alleged to have stated that the wheat had been seized by the Government, and the farmers did not know how, when, or where they would receive their money. Mr. Hogan called on the Wheat Board on Friday and characterised this paragraph as a dastardly statement, without the least vestige of truth.

"During my absence in New Zealand my colleague, the Minister for Agriculture, extended the time for receiving appeals up to the end of January. I fully concur with his action in this respect. The time has now come, however, to close down on this matter, as those who desire to appeal have had ample time to do so. It is not proposed to deal with any further appeals against the fixed price of wheat which are received after the 20th instant."

IN THE WEST.

PERTH, Monday.

Among flour millers and wheat dealers there is unanimity on the point that considerable quantities of wheat must be imported during the next few months.

Mr. W. W. Morrison, a prominent city miller, said: "If the Government advances money to bring wheat here we will take our share of it, but it will have to protect us against any action by the Foodstuffs Commission that would land us in a loss. I believe there is a shortage of about 20,000 tons."

FORCING PRICES.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Pascoe) states that it had been reported to the Government that in various localities a few people were buying up all the produce they could with the object of forcing prices to an extreme limit.

ARGUMENT IN MELBOURNE.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER AND COUNSEL.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Further argument was heard to-day by the Interstate Commission on the general subject of the action of the New South Wales Government's Wheat Acquisition Act and its Constitutional justification or otherwise.

The actual and specific course of the argument was upon the analogies and differences of the Meat Supply Act of Queensland and the Wheat Acquisition Act.

Mr. Garran, Professor Harrison Moore, and Mr. Ian Macfarlan (instructed by the Commonwealth Crown Solicitor) appeared for the Commonwealth Government; Mr. Blacket, K.C. and Mr. Brown (instructed by the Crown Solicitor of New South Wales) for the New South Wales Government; and Mr. Knox, K.C., and Mr. Pitt (instructed by Messrs. Dibbs, Parker, and Parker, of Sydney) for the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales.

Mr. Piddington said at the outset that, when this question was argued before, the Queensland Meat Supply Act had not been acted upon. Since then it had been acted upon. He would like to hear argument on the relation of this Act to the Wheat Acquisition Act of New South Wales.

Mr. Garran: The reason the Meat Supply Act was not mentioned was that we were considering certain Executive acts done by the New South Wales Government in regard to wheat which the New South Wales Government justified on the grounds of the Wheat Acquisition Act. We have no contention on the validity of the Acquisition Act, but I propose to point out, without committing the Commonwealth to any view as to the validity of the Meat Supply Act, that, in the first place, the Meat Supply Act was for a definite specified public use—that is to say, for military and naval purposes. In the Wheat Act the object of the Acquisition Act was entirely unspecified, except in so far as they said that it was for sale.

Mr. Piddington: And for disposal.

Mr. Garran: The only thing to be done with wheat was to sell it.

Mr. Piddington: No; you are quite wrong. Sell or dispose of it. They could charge nominal prices for it to farmers.

Mr. Garran: It gives the New South Wales Government a monopoly in commerce.

Mr. Lockyer: In the Queensland Act it only refers to meat available for export. This Act gives power over the whole of the wheat.

Mr. Garran: That is another distinction. The decision of the Commission with regard to the Wheat Act will not conclude the question of the Meat Act one way or the other. The first distinction is that this Meat Act is an Act for purposes of defence. The other is an Act for the purposes of sale and the disposal for unspecified objects. That is, it is an Act to acquire a monopoly in commerce in wheat. Our contention is that this is outside the powers of the State. We do not deny the powers of acquisition of a commodity for purposes of Government.

Mr. Piddington: The Government may acquire wheat for the purpose of making bread for those in the Government service, but not for other people?

Mr. Garran: It may acquire for Governmental purposes. The next distinction between the two Acts seems to me to be this. In this case there can be no doubt whatever of power of the Commonwealth to deal with the matter.

Mr. Swinbourne: You mean with the meat?

Mr. Garran: Yes. It undoubtedly comes within the defence power of the Commonwealth: it is already covered by section 67 of the Defence Act.

Mr. Piddington: That does not seem to be the view of the Imperial Government. They have asked the States to pass these Acts.

Mr. Garran: I have to announce this—that the Commonwealth Government has no doubt of its powers.

Mr. Piddington: Do you think that is a proper announcement to make to the Court—that the Commonwealth Government has no doubt of its powers?

Mr. Garran: I was not informing the Court with a view of bringing pressure on the Court.

Mr. Piddington: I think it would have been better unsaid.

Mr. Garran: But the question is not before the Court for decision. This is not a matter that the Court is asked to decide at all. I hope you will acquit me of any intention to browbeat, or to influence the decision of the Court in any way.

Mr. Swinburne: I don't think that anybody ever thought of such a thing.

Mr. Blacket: Our contention will be that, with regard to two Acts, it is exactly the same exercise of power, the only difference being as to means. We contend that, so long as the purpose is a public purpose, and so long as trade is only interfered with incidentally, the Act would be within the power of the State. The Wheat Act is for the benefit of the whole of the community. It is only for the Court to consider whether this is a Public purpose, and we contend that it is within the power of the Government to legislate for the whole community.

The Court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

BRISBANE SPORTING CLUB RAIDED

BRISBANE, Monday.

Late yesterday afternoon a strong force of police raided the premises in the city known as the Brisbane Sporting Club. A number of men were in the building at the time, and as a result, about 20 appeared before Mr. Eglinton, P.M., this morning, at the Central Police Court, charged with having been found in a common gaming-house. Defendants, who pleaded not guilty, were remanded until Friday.

The latest scratchings for the V.R.C. Autumn Meeting are:—St. Leger Stakes: Baysan, Booran Lass, Send, Regent Bird, Queen Malt, Booran Rose, Miss Edeline. Sires' Produce Stakes: Lord Pilatus. Ascot Vale Stakes: Miss Posy.

V.A.T.C. Meeting.—Noble Bonnie and Loch Grafton for the St. Clair Trial; and Palisade for the Hawkesbury Handicap.

CASTLEREAGH SEAT.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.)

WARREN, Monday.

The fight in the Castlereagh Electorate for victory at Saturday's poll gives promise of being very keen. There is a large influx of Labour members to-day, and this would seem to give rise to the suggestion that the party is not at all confident of the outcome. The Premier, Mr. Holman, headed the party, and he was supported by Messrs. Thrower, Beeston, and Gardiner. Mr. Cusack is expected to arrive in the electorate to-morrow. The party dispersed at Nevertire and went to different centres to assist their candidate. Mr. Holman came to Warren, where he met the Labour candidate, Mr. J. G. D. Arkins, and addressed a large meeting with him in the local hall.

Labour supporters are as confident of success as usual. They put forward in support of their contentions the statement that this is a very good time of the year for them. All the shearers whose homes are in the district are at present here owing to the fact that none of the sheds are now working. Then again, the sleeper cutters are here in force, and will carry a large measure of support to the Labour banner. All the bush workers, who at other times of the year move away from home, happen at present to be here. These, in particular, are the reasons set forward for the victory of Mr. Arkins.

But there can be no possible doubt that behind all the outward assurance there rests a disturbing thought that the contest is to be so close as in the minds of supporters of Labour to require every possible effort.

The Country party comes forward to the attack with a degree of confidence that has caused more than a little uneasiness to their opponents. They realise that the late Mr. Trefle carried a large personal vote. His majority at the last election was only a little over 350, and this is not by any means a large one. It would also appear that the farmers have discussed among themselves the Wheat Acquisition Act with no great benefit to those who were responsible for its passage. On present appearances Mr. Blacket seems to stand a more than favourable chance of winning.

MR. HOLMAN AT WARREN.

ATTACK ON FARMERS AND SETTLERS' ASSOCIATION.

WARREN, Monday.

"You know the story of the farmer who was talking to a traveller," said the Premier, Mr. Holman, in an address to-night in support of the Labour candidate, Mr. Arkins. "While they were talking the traveller's dog came sneaking up with a fowl in his mouth, and with the evidences of crime thick about him. Of course, when questioned by the farmer, the traveller instantly disowned the dog. I am bound to say that I thought that Mr. Blacket was the Liberal party's dog. I saw him coming with some of the feathers about his mouth, but it appears that the Liberal party does not own the dog, and we have to draw a veil of honourable silence over the past association between them."

Continuing, Mr. Holman said that the Farmers and Settlers' Association had chosen this singular occasion to enter the field of politics. In the Federal arena and in England there had been understandings between all sections of representatives of the people. They had agreed to forego party differences and unite in obtaining advantages for the common good. The Labour party had been attacked by certain of its own enthusiasts for letting that agreement carry them too far. This was a moment when purely political aspirations should be dropped.

"Mr. Wade came to me," he continued, "and said, 'We do not want to take advantage at a time like this.' Mr. Wade felt that way towards us; Mr. Hughes felt that way towards Mr. Cook. It was the same among the party leaders in England; and now the Farmers and Settlers' Association comes out with its dog."

A voice: Poison him.

Mr. Holman: "I hope you will, and that you will give him a big dose in Warren. I have no objection to a new party coming into the field, but I cannot congratulate the association on its choosing of a time and place. There is such a thing as decency. It would have become the Farmers and Settlers' Association better, and would have furthered their chances, had they taken the cue from Mr. Wade, and come forward and said, 'We recognise that this is no time for attacking a Government seat.' This stupid mistake which they are making has compelled us to close Parliament, and has compelled the Premier to abandon the work he had around him at a time when it should never have been necessary."

In touching on the Wheat Acquisition Bill the Premier asked where was the necessity for all the commotion that had been made. Similar action had been taken in regard to wool, sugar, and meat, and no such outcry had been raised. The price given was the highest—with one exception, in 1903—that had ruled for 20 years. He represented farmers himself and knew what he was talking about when he said that the farmer hardly protested at all. It was only the agents and auctioneers who took it upon themselves to be the mouthpieces of farmers. He was sure the people of New South Wales would stand behind the Government in its action in this respect.

Mr. Arkins also spoke, and called on all Liberals who had any sense of honour to refrain from voting on Saturday next.

THE MEAT SUPPLY.

QUEENSLAND'S POSITION.

Mr. R. M. Pitt, managing director of Pitt, Son, and Badgery, Limited, alluding to the position of Queensland in the export meat trade in regard to the action of the British Government in taking over the exportable surplus of meat, states that on an export of 400,000 bullocks, it would mean that a price of something like £5,000,000 would be paid to growers. This would be fully 25 per cent better than the price obtained last year, which was a record.

NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Monday.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Massey, states that communications have reached the New Zealand Government on similar lines to those which have evidently passed between the Imperial and New South Wales Governments, regarding the supply of meat for Imperial troops. It is not likely that a decision will be arrived at for a considerable time.

Advices from Christchurch state that the situation in the frozen meat trade with regard to the shortage of freight remains unchanged. It is said that unless something is done to divert more ships to the South Island there is little prospect of relief for some time. The Christchurch Meat Company closes its works at the end of the month.

The wholesale suppliers to the butchers have raised the price of beef 2s a 100lb. Mutton is reduced in price by a farthing a pound.

LONDON'S SUPPLY.

RATIO OF REFRIGERATED.

LONDON, Jan. 8.

Statistics issued by the superintendent of the Central Markets, Smithfield, show a decrease in the amounts of meat, poultry, and other produce marketed during the 12 months ended December 31, of 7049 tons, or 1.6 per cent., as compared with 1913. The following table gives particulars of the supplies:—

Source of Supply.	1914. Tons.	Ratio per cent.	1913. Tons.	Ratio per Cent.
United Kingdom	116,275	27.3	99,146	22.9
Australasia	97,758	23.0	103,462	23.9
U.S.A. "English killed"	—	—	4,541	1.1
U.S.A. "chilled and frozen"	1,118	.3	2,111	.5
S. America, do.	142,930	33.9	172,863	40.0
Continent	66,083	15.5	49,865	11.6
Total meat, poultry, and provisions	425,104	100.0	432,111	100.0

Of the supplies 49.7 per cent. was beef and veal; 32.9 per cent. mutton and lamb; 11.4 per cent. pork; and 6.4 per cent. poultry, rabbits, game, etc.

PRESS RIFLE CLUB.

The Press Rifle Club held another successful drill last night, when 69 members mustered at Government House grounds. Captain Holmes took charge, and instruction was also given by Lieutenants Gilder and Ross.

BAD LANGUA

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—There is an evil in our midst which unfortunately seems to be growing more common as time goes on. I refer to vile language. Anyone who mixes with racecourse crowds, for instance, must be painfully impressed with the utter disregard for clean language. Again, travelling in our country trains, both first and second class, the language heard sometimes is enough to make a Christian's flesh creep. It matters not to the vile-tongued if ladies or children are within hearing distance. My only object in writing is to ask if something could not be done to stamp out the evil. Perhaps some of our capable Labour members will devise some scheme.

I am, etc.,

SECOND BALLOT.

MR. WADE'S OPINION.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The Federal Royal Commission appointed to investigate electoral matters held a sitting at Parliament House to-day. There were present Mr. Sinclair (Q.), chairman; Mr. Foster (S.A.), Mr. Patten (N.S.W.), and Dr. Maloney.

Mr. Charles Gregory Wade, leader of the Opposition in the New South Wales Parliament, gave evidence regarding certain phases of the Electoral Act in his State. In the second ballot in seven metropolitan electorates at the last State election irregularities were widely suggested, he said.

The chairman: Then the second ballot lends itself to abuse?

Witness: I undoubtedly think so. My Ministry introduced it in New South Wales, but I don't think it has proved satisfactory. There is also room for intrigue.

Mr. Foster: Then, what would you suggest as regards Australia?

Witness: I am inclined to pin my faith to preferential voting. I don't see why preferential voting should not apply to Senate elections.

The Chairman: Have you any suggestion regarding the Commonwealth?

Witness: With a liberal franchise as a corollary you must have drastic safeguards. There should be some system of identification. In New South Wales we abandoned electors' rights, but I think there should be a check such as comparison of signatures. It would not be necessary to compare every signature, because scrutineers only challenge persons whom they suspect. Even if extra expense were incurred in such a system I think it would be desirable.

MDME. SARA BERNHARDT.

PARIS, Feb. 15.

Mdme. Sara Bernhardt has undergone a serious operation for an injury to one of her knees. The injury was sustained while acting. It is reported that the leg has been amputated.

N.S.W. LOAN.

LONDON, Feb. 14.

It is announced that the New South Wales loan of £2,000,000 has closed at a premium of 11s 8d.

ENEMY PATENTS.

APPLICATIONS TO VOID.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

It was announced to-day by the Federal Attorney-General, Mr. Hughes, that after careful consideration of the applications submitted to him by the Commissioner for Patents, Mr. Townsend, to avoid two enemy patents, ferro prism and thermit, and two trade marks, lysol and dovinia, he had decided to grant a license to Mr. J. Tonks for seven years to manufacture ferro prism, subject to the conditions set forth in the license. With regard to thermit no conclusion had been arrived at, but possibly the matter would be decided to-day.

The application with regard to the trade mark for dovinia had been refused. In regard to lysol he had granted the application on certain conditions with which the applicant would be expected to comply.

FRESH PROSECUTIONS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Further prosecutions for trading with the enemy were to-day authorised by the Federal Attorney-General, Mr. Hughes, including one in Melbourne.

THE G.P.O. FIRE.

The postal authorities intimate that the total number of telephone lines, including subscribers and junction lines, rendered faulty by the recent fire in the basement of the General Post Office, either directly or incidentally to the carrying out of the necessary repairs, amounted to 2131.

By 2 p.m. yesterday this total had been reduced by 696 (subscribers and junction lines), which had been repaired, leaving a total of 1435 lines to be rectified.

ALDERMEN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Mr. Flowers, of the Legislative Council, is reported to have very severely criticised the administration by municipal authorities in New South Wales. I, who have had a very large experience in municipal life, can endorse Mr. Flowers' remarks. Municipal administration at the present time is rotten to the core. It is about time paid commissioners took the place of aldermen, men whose sole object would be to study the interests of the ratepayers generally, and not their own personal friends. Councils are composed of men in business—their respective municipalities, who are afraid to do their duty fearlessly, because of personal loss that would result by offending customers, who demand of them favours, to the detriment of other ratepayers. The Act should be amended to provide against estate agents holding office as aldermen (a mayor chiefly). No estate agent as alderman can do justice to the ratepayers at large and his clients as well. The result is, other men in the same line of business suffer unfair competition. In other words, aldermen abuse the confidence placed in them by the ratepayers, to the benefit of their own business. It is about time men with no axes to grind interested themselves in municipal matters, and placed their services at the disposal of the ratepayers.

I am, etc., A RATEPAYER.

FINANCIAL.

STANMORE PRESERVING COMPANY.

The first annual report of the above company covers the period ended December 31. A net profit, after writing off all preliminary and removal expenses of £3043 is shown, which the directors recommend should be appropriated as follows—to dividend of 8 per cent. on preference shares, £794; to dividend of 8 per cent. on ordinary shares, £1600; leaving £649 to be carried forward. The capital amounts to £39,682, sundry creditors are down at £7985, and the bank overdraft amounts to £6897. Freehold property is valued at £17,393, machinery at £8491, stock in hand is valued at £12,655; sundry debtors are down at £10,154, and goodwill at £8956.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Arnold and Co. Pty., Ltd., has been registered with a capital of £25,000, in £1 shares, 6650 of which shall be deemed fully paid up to Mr. T. J. Marks. The objects are:—To carry on the business of engineers, founders, etc. The first directors are Messrs. T. J. Marks, C. E. Bird, and W. J. Heath.

The Central Picture Palace, Ltd., has been registered with a capital of £5000, in £1 shares. The objects are:—To carry on business of theatrical and music-hall proprietors, etc. The first director is Mr. J. Miller.

The Standard Insurance Co. of N.Z. has declared a dividend of 8 per cent. for the half-year, making 12 per cent. for the year.

S. Hoffnung and Co., Ltd., has declared an interim dividend at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum on the participating preference shares.

The market generally ruled firm at last week's rates, with occasional irregularity.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Monday.

Southland Frozen Meat Company has declared a dividend of 8 per cent., and Wellington Gas Company 10 per cent. In both cases big reserves are carried forward.

COMMERCIAL.

THE MARKETS.

The metal market experienced a further rise in fencing wire yesterday, due to higher rates quoted in America. Between houses, No. 8 black was offering at 10 guineas, and for distributing lots £10/15/ was wanted. Not much business was done on this basis. Stocks were mostly held by two houses. For parcels of No. 8 galvanised £11/10/ was quoted, and there was also a slight increase in the price of No. 10. No change was made in galvanised iron, although spelter shows no sign of easing, and American importations are reduced to a minimum, owing to high and infrequent freight. A parcel of galvanised hoop iron was picked up at £21, and for cwt lots 25/ per cwt was asked. Sheet lead was without alteration. Zinc sheets were nominally £54 per ton. Australian wire-netting was without alteration, but imported brands were higher, though still below the cost of import to-day. Latest cables give the quotation of 42 x 1½ x 17 B at £44/17/6 c.i.f. and e, with war risk extra. This means, reckoning war risk at 3 per cent., a landed cost of £48/8/1. A little business was done between houses in tin piping at 2/ per lb. Nails were still irregular at from 5 per cent. to 10 per cent. off list, with most houses adhering to 5 per cent.

The oil market was slack. Stocks of linseed were low, but in view of the fact that spot pipes were cabled unchanged, merchants were disinclined to pay late high rates. Turpentine was dull at 3/6 for parcels, and 3/7½ for small lots. Whitelead was inactive; zinc, white, dry, was advanced to the price of the raw material—£40 for Green Seal. Eastern oils were steady, and with high rates business in all departments was without animation.

The tea market was quiet. Arrivals by the mail were few in number, and rates ruled extremely high, being equal to /9½ per lb landed. Since these teas were despatched from Colombo the market has again risen, and blenders here must apparently look for a /10 market for common kinds. Teas which six months ago were laid down in Sydney for /7½ cannot be laid down on last week's Colombo market under /10. When the local market reaches that figure blenders will either be compelled to increase their prices, or be prepared to lose money.

Practically all the woolpacks for immediate delivery were held by one house, and the best price at which requirements could have been filled was 3/6 net to arrive. Branbags were slightly weaker. Prompt delivery was quoted at from 5/3 to 5/4 net; while supplies ex the Knight Templar could have been secured at 4/9 ship's slings. There was no movement in cornsacks.

The amount of wool manifested to arrive at Darling Harbour yesterday was 3124 bales.

BREADSTUFFS.

Millers quoted flour at £11/17/6 a ton. The proclaimed prices for bran and pollard were unchanged.

LAST WEEK'S EXPORTS.

The exports of wheat and flour from the port of Sydney for the week ended February 13, according to the Customs-house returns, were:—

Wheat (bushels): New Caledonia, 6; South Sea Islands, 3; British New Guinea, 21. Total, 30.

Flour (200lb bags): New Zealand, 67; New Caledonia, 1288; South Sea Islands, 1127, British New Guinea, 34. Total, 2516.

F.A.Q. AT 60½LB.

Yesterday the fair average quality standard for the wheat of the State for this season was fixed at 60½lb to the Imperial bushel by the grain trade Sectional Committee of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce. For some time past samples had been received from the north, west, and south at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, and the committee yesterday made its computation with a quantity of grain, one-fifth being composed of northern samples, two-fifths of western samples, and two-fifths of southern samples; the proportions being those which the wheat areas of the divisions of the State bore to the whole wheat average of the State. Amongst those present were: Mr. F. B. Guthrie, Government representative (official weigher); Mr. J. B. Trivett, Government Statistician, together with the following members of the committee: Messrs. R. W. Gillespie (chairman), F. J. Wallis, M. J. Hurley, L. Rossell, S. C. Lindley, J. S. Brunton, D. McCorquodale, and F. A. Crago. The weighing was done on McGuirk's patent scale, and after obtaining the official weigher's figures the chairman (Mr. R. W. Gillespie) declared the standard to be 60½lb per Imperial bushel. The wheat is much lighter than that of last year, owing to the dry weather in the spring. In many districts during the harvesting operations heavy rains set in, and thus caused a great quantity of the wheat to be bleached. In the samples there was evidence of very careless cleaning by growers, some samples containing many oats and whiteheads.

At Darling Harbour yesterday 486 tons of wheat and 198 tons of flour were manifested to arrive.

DAIRY.

NO CHANGE IN PRICES.

There was a well-sustained demand yesterday for all lines of dairy produce, and prices were maintained at Friday's levels.

Eggs were fairly heavily supplied, but new-laid sold readily at from 1/5 to 1/6 a dozen. Case eggs brought from 1/3 to 1/4, according to quality.

The tone of the cheese market generally was a firm one, despite the fact that one of the leading houses was "cutting" quotations. Prime loaf was worth from /6⅞ to /7 per lb. Special brands commanded /7¼.

Butter was unchanged at 122/ per cwt. delivered in boxes.

AUSTRALIAN CHEESE PRODUCTION.

In 1901 the output of cheese in New South Wales amounted to 3,838,835lb, but in 1913 the total output of the factories reached 6,236,962lb. In Queensland the industry has progressed by leaps and bounds. During 1901 the factories in the northern State manufactured 2,436,912lb, while in 1913 the output amounted to no less than 5,395,050lb. The following table shows the wonderful growth of the industry in the Commonwealth since Federation:—

FORAGE AND GRAIN.

POTATOES UNCHANGED.

MAIZE WEAKER.

The Karitane and Sydney arrived yesterday with 4907 bags of chaff, 216 bags of oats, 480 bags of turnips, 133 bales of straw, and 19,419 bags of potatoes.

There was no change in potatoes. Redskins were offered at £5/10/, Bismarcks and Brownells at £5, and Up-to-Dates at £4/10/ a ton.

Onions sold steadily at Friday's levels.

The market for maize was distinctly weaker. Prime new season's river grain was to be had at from 4/7 to 4/8 a bushel. Inland maize was worth to 4/9.

White oats were firmly held at 5/ a bushel. Quotations were:—

RAILWAY MARKET.

At the railway forage and grain sales yesterday a fair yarding of produce was offered at auction. Buyers were in large attendance, and bidding was more spirited than has been the case of late. Consequently auctioneers found little difficulty in clearing consignments at satisfactory rates.

The bulk of the wheaten chaff submitted was of prime quality, and buyers were eager to purchase at prices which showed a slight increase on those of the previous day. Figures for this line ranged from 5/7 to 7/9; the former price can by no means be regarded as a standard for the day, as practically all the rest of wheaten brought at least £1 a ton more than this value. Top price was obtained for consignments from Christian, of Brewongle, and Renshaw, of Wongarbon. Oaten was scarce, and was worth from 5/10 to 7/9; whilst lucerne cleared at prices varying from 5/10 to 6/6. Lucerne hay found purchasers at from 5/1 (ex truck) to 6/6 per cwt. Derrick straw sold at from 3/9 to 4/3, and rye straw changed hands at 5/6.

Produce manifested to arrive:—Hay, straw, chaff, 274; grain, 54; potatoes and onions, 4.

The Unassociated Brokers' report that good allround competition ruled at their sales yesterday, but the extreme rates of their last auctions were barely maintained.

The Sydney Wool Selling Brokers' Association report:—The market generally ruled firm at last week's closing rates, although there was occasionally some irregularity in the bidding for medium wools. All descriptions of skirtings sold remarkably well, and the tendency of values for these was in sellers' favour. Greasy merino wool sold to 13d.

The Country Producers' Selling Co., Ltd., brought forward a catalogue of 1292 bales, comprising wools drawn from most parts of the State. They also offered a line from Queensland, and a few parcels of scoureds. Their top price in the grease was /11¼, and for scoured /21. HOMEBUSH STOCK MARKET.

SHEEP.

PRIME FIRM—OTHERS LOWER.

With 44,405 sheep, including lambs, listed for yesterday's sale from 188 consignors, and 43,226 head penned, a fairly ample supply was forward. The consignments included two drafts of 1000, one of 1300, eight from 700 to 900, with the usual large proportion of small lots, mainly 90 to 300 head. Most of the sheep were classed and penned up by the opening of the sales. The weather was fine, but sultry. The sheep were mainly short wools, with a sprinkling of woolly. The bulk were merinos, with a fair proportion of crossbreds. The merinos comprised all descriptions. There was a moderate representation of prime, and occasional pens of extra prime wethers and ewes, but fair to useful trade descriptions preponderated, with a sprinkling of very medium to inferior. The crossbreds were mainly good to prime, with occasional pens of extra prime, and a moderate showing of plain sorts. The selection was a fair average one.

Buyers were in good attendance, including exporters, the Sydney Meat Preserving Co., Ltd., usual Glebe Island, suburban and country trade. As the supply of plain sorts, especially merino ewes, was ample for requirements, the demand was dull and values irregular for such descriptions, while prime wethers and extra prime ewes were in better request, and generally firm at last Thursday's rates. The weakness was generally 6d per head below the average rates for useful quality, and prime descriptions were in places easier than the best of the rulings of Thursday last.

Included in the principal sales was a line of short-wool merino wethers from A. Colless (Come-by-Chance) to 19/9, from Mrs. G. Glasson (Woodstock) to 19/2, W. R. Mitchell (Garah) to 19/3; R. and J. Parkman (Marengo) to 18/11; estate E. Speed (Cryon) to 18/7. Among the merino ewes was a draft from estate D. Jurd (Moree) to 17/9, estate P. Mulcahy (Merah) to 17/4, and J. Maloney (Moree) to 17/. A draft of crossbreds from Welbon Station (Moppin) sold to 18/1 for wether hoggets, and to 17/2 for ewe hoggets. A line of wethers from E. S. Twigg (Armatree) to 21/9, and H. Bielefeld (Currububula) to 20/10; J. Bishop (Scone) to 20/9. Crossbred ewes from estate G. H. Greene (Greenthorpe) to 18/6; A. M. Duncombe (Merah) to 20/; and T. S. Murray (Camurra) to 18/8; and early shorn from estate T. Speed to 21/.

Quotations: Prime short-wool merino w 18/ to 19/6, extra prime short-wool merino w 21/ to 25/5, good short-wool merino w and h 13/ to 15/, medium short-wool merino w and h 9/6 to 11/, inferior 7/ to 8/; prime short-wool merino e 13/ to 15/, extra prime short-wool merino e 16/ to 17/6, good shorn wool merino e 10/ to 12/, medium short-wool merino e 7/ to 8/6, inferior 5/ to 6/; prime short-wool xbd w and h 19/ to 21/, extra prime short-wool xbd w and h 22/ to 23/, good short-wool xbd w and h 15/ to 17/, medium short-wool xbd w and h 11/ to 13/; prime short-wool xbd e 18/ to 20/, extra prime short-wool xbd e 21/ to 22/, good short-wool xbd e 14/ to 15/6, medium short-wool xbd e 10/ to 11/6; prime woolly merino w 21/ to 22/, extra prime 23/ to 24/, good woolly merino w 16/ to 18/, medium woolly merino w 11/6 to 14/; prime woolly merino e 18/6 to 20/, extra prime 21/ to 22/, good woolly merino e 14/ to 16/, medium woolly merino e 11/ to 12/6.

LAMBS.

ALL BUT PRIME LOWER.

A very fair supply of lambs was penned, all descriptions being forward. The bulk were crossbred, with a moderate showing of merino, a sprinkling carrying burry skins. The pennings included a small proportion of prime and occasional pens of extra prime, the bulk comprising medium to useful trade descriptions, with occasional pens of young and light sorts.

Buyers included exporters. Competition was brisk for the best classes suitable for export, and there was free competition during the early and middle sales by graziers for lots suitable for returning to the country. Later, however, these light plain sorts were depressed, which, with useful trade descriptions that were dull throughout, were irregular, and /6 to /9 per head lower.

A line of woolly crossbreds from F. J. Leonard, Breeza, sold to 17/11, R. L. Faithfull (Inveralochy) to 18/7, B. Tucker (Holmwood) to 17/2, and from F. M'Kenzie (Beanbri) to 17/1 per head.

Quotations: Prime suckers and woolly lambs 14/6 to 16/, extra prime 17/6 to 19/; good suckers and woolly lambs 10/6 to 12/6, medium suckers and woolly lambs 7/6 to 9/; young and light 5/ to 6/6; prime short-wool lambs 13/6 to 14/6; good short-wool lambs 10/ to 11/6, medium 7/ to 8/6.

CATTLE.

A STILL STRONGER DEMAND.

The supply was rather larger than anticipated, upwards of 2036 being listed from 98 consignors, and 2210 head yarded. The consignments came mainly from the Northern and Hunter River districts, with a sprinkling from the south and west. The yardings comprised a larger proportion of plain and light bullocks and steers than usual. There was a sprinkling of prime handyweight bullocks and steers, with occasional yards of prime medium-weight bullocks. Extra prime and heavy bullocks were very scarce, but there was a sprinkling of plain heavy-worker bullocks, and the usual showing of bulls and rough sorts. The cows and heifers were mainly medium to useful trade sorts, with a moderate showing of prime and odd extra prime. The selection was only a medium to useful one.

There was a fair to good attendance of buyers, including exporters and the Sydney Meat Preserving Company. As the supply appeared to be within the demand the market opened to strong competition, at values fully up to the best rates of Thursday last. The tone generally was firmer for the better qualities than even at the best of Thursday's rulings. During the progress of the sales values improved 5/ to 10/ per head on prime quality, and other descriptions were firmer, this tone being considerably above Thursday's closing rates, which were dull and lower than the middle sales.

Included in the principal sales was a line of 20 bullocks from J. M. L. Macdonald (Quirindi) to £15/9, avg. £15/5/6; 18 bullocks from R. H. Dangar (Whittingham) to £15/16/, avg. £15/1/10; 30 from Porter Bros. (Quirindi) to £15/11/, avg. £14/2/5; 30 bullocks from the Peel River L. and M. Co., Ltd. (Tamworth) to £14/5/, avg. £13/10/7; 21 bullocks from A. R. and F. Bowman (Singleton) to £15/17/, avg. £15/7/7; from Miss M'Millan (Warialda) 10 steers at £14/7/; 33 bullocks Plashett Pastoral Company (Ravensworth) to £13, avg. £12/17/3; and 40 from M. White Bros. (Muswellbrook) to £14, avg. £12/16/2.

Quotations: Yards of prime heavy bullocks, £16/10/ to £17/10/; yards of prime medium-weight bullocks, £15 to £16/5/; yards of prime handy-weight bullocks and steers, £12/10/ to £14; yards of good bullocks and steers, £10 to £11/5/; yards of good light steers, £7/15/ to £9; yards of medium and light steers, £6 to £6/15/; yards of inferior steers, £4 to £5; yards of prime cows and heifers, £9/10/ to £11; yards of extra prime cows and heifers, £12 to £13; yards of good cows and heifers, £8 to £8/15/; yards of medium cows and heifers, £5/15/ to £7; yards of inferior, £4 to £5. Best light beef, 38/ to 39/; prime heavy beef, 35/ to 37/; good, useful beef, 28/ to 30/, medium beef, 25/ to 26/ per 100lb.

N.S.W. TROTTING CLUB.

THE TANGO WINS EPPING HANDICAP.

Trotting enthusiasts were provided with some fine sport at Epping yesterday by the New South Wales Trotting Club. A mishap occurred in the second division of the Trial Handicap, which upset calculation. Ding Dong, well backed down to 5 to 2, came down at the first turn, owing to his driver hugging the favourite's wheel too closely, and the collision unseated Leichhardt's driver. However, the only damage was broken harness and twisted gear. The Epping Handicap was won by The Tango, the favourite, Rockfeller, being beaten out of a place. Results:—

MINING.

MARKET LESS ACTIVE.

VALUES SAG A LITTLE.

The tone of the market yesterday morning was not quite to the liking of those speculators or operators who bought last week, because yesterday saw a slight sagging of values in many cases.

That was inevitable. Last week saw the market start to move on "bull" lines, which became more pronounced as the week progressed, supported, as it was, by a corresponding hardening of metal values. But when the upward movement in metals ceased, that in share values continued a little longer, with the inevitable result that the bull movement in share values ceased.

Generally, when the market ceases to be run on bull lines, a reaction sets in, and share values sag all round. They did so yesterday, but the drop was so steady that it would be scarcely fair to assert, as one operator did, that the market had "cracked on Barriers." "Cracked" means a pronounced slump in values, and whilst it is true the bull movement had ceased, there was no sign of a pronounced drop in prices. In other words, the strength of the calls for Barriers weakened materially, but scrip-holders did not show any disposition to mark down to sacrificial rates.

Though both Hampden-Cloncurry and Mount Lyells sold slightly on the easy side, there was nothing inherently weak in that section. Had anyone come along with cheap lines in the leading stocks, the sellers would have been surprised at the sudden appearance of a number of solid supporters, just as Mount Cuthbert found a sturdy friend on a forward rate. Both Wallaroo and Moonta and Corella copper were inquired for on several occasions.

In the gold division, a parcel of Edna May sold at £8/7/, or 1/ on the easy side; whilst business was also booked in Edna May Central at 19/4, with inquiries for Bullfinch Proprietary, Victory, and Occidental.

Tin propositions were very much in evidence throughout the day, and the range of values was well maintained in the sales recorded. A sale of Malaya Tin Corporation at 32/6 was decidedly on the strong side, with strong buyers still unsupplied. It was stated that the movement was due to certain amalgamation arrangements that are said to have eventuated. Business on very solid lines was booked in Katoo Deebook, Deebook Dredging, whilst several calls were made for Tongkah Harbour, Tongkah Compound, Trong, and Ratrub Basin.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP

The high pressure over Eastern Australia has contracted considerably during the 48 hours ended at 9 a.m. yesterday, and has lost slightly in barometric values; the centre is now situated between Sydney and Lord Howe Island. The Antarctic disturbance, which was shown on the chart to the south of the Leeuwin on Saturday, has made very rapid easting, and is at present to the south of Cape Borda. The monsoonal depression has become more active over the central parts of Australia, and some light rain has been registered there. The centre of this disturbance is now over the western part of Queensland.

A new and rather energetic high pressure has made its appearance over the south-western corner of the continent. With this pressure distribution, thundery conditions may be expected over New South Wales, with some high temperatures and local blows.

Ocean Forecast.—Generally smooth to moderate; fresh southerly in the Western Bight.

MOVEMENTS OF OVERSEA VESSELS.

Hawkes Bay, s (Commonwealth and Dominion line), en route from London to Australian ports, passed the Cape of Good Hope on Friday last.

Mooltan, R.M.S. (P. and O. line), en route from Australian ports to London, arrived at Colombo on Wednesday last.

STORMY WEATHER IN THE NORTH.

BYRON BAY, Monday.

The stormy weather is continuing, and shipping along the coast is in consequence still interrupted. There are five steamers in the bay, the Brundah, Coolebar, Tintenbar, Orara, and another that came this morning. All passengers have been landed, as the sea in the bay is not rough. The Orara is landing cargo. Two of these vessels have been here since Thursday.

BOMBALA RESUMES RUNNING.

The Australian Steamship Line Bombala, after undergoing an extensive overhaul at Melbourne, is to leave the Victorian capital to-morrow at noon, and Sydney on Saturday, at 2 p.m., for Queensland ports. Captain Wm. Hurford will be in command.

WIRELESS FROM THE WYANDRA.

A wireless message has been received from the steamer Wyandra, stating that she is expected to arrive here at 6 o'clock this morning.

NEW STEAMER RONA.

A new steamer for the Colonial Sugar Refining Co. is nearing completion, and is expected to arrive here about July next.

The new steamer is to be named the Rona, and Captain Barnes, of the company's steamer Fiona, has been appointed to the command, and will bring her out from England.

The Rona has a carrying capacity of about 8000 tons, and her principal dimensions are:—Length 395ft, beam 54ft, and draught 25ft. She will have a flush deck fore and aft.

LORD CROMER SPOKEN.

Surprise was expressed yesterday at the non-arrival of the steamer Lord Cromer, which is under charter to the Orient Company. The steamer left Melbourne on Friday last, and it was expected that she would arrive here early yesterday morning. She had not made an appearance late last night, and, on inquiry, it was learned that the steamer Warilda, which left here for Melbourne on Saturday last, had passed the Lord Cromer on Sunday. The Lord Cromer was then proceeding very slowly, and asked to be reported. The steamer did not then require any assistance, so it is concluded that there is nothing seriously wrong with her.

CATERINA F. LEAVES FOR WEST COAST.

CRICKET.

NEW SOUTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the New South Wales Cricket Association was held last night at Bull's-chambers, Mr. J. H. Clayton presiding.

The treasurer's report was adopted; and the committee's recommendation that rain checks shall be issued in the event of no play was agreed to.

The special committee recommended that the grade clubs should be requested to communicate with the association regarding their requirements of Bulli soil. The secretary, Mr. Iredale, detailed the result of his visit to the South Coast, in company with Mr. Wylie, manager of the Sydney Cricket Ground, and suggested that the clubs deciding to use the Bulli soil should make arrangements to procure it during the summer months, instead of waiting until the soil was soaked with the winter moisture. It was decided that the recommendation of the committee be carried out.

A reception will be tendered to the Queensland team at the Burdekin Hotel, Oxford-street, on Wednesday, at 12.30.

A permit was granted to C. N. Seldon, of Ryde, to play with Balmain.

The hon. secretaries of the grade clubs have been written to, impressing upon them the necessity of urging their members to join the Athletic Rifle Club, or to form clubs in their own districts.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA v VICTORIA.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

The following men have been chosen to represent South Australia in the match against Victoria, which will begin on Friday:—Campbell, James, Mayne, Moyes, Steele, Pellew, Stirling, Whitty, Willsmore, Middleton, Price, and Coombe.

SUMMER SALE.

ARNOTT'S
SHREDDED
BISCUITS,

—A great food for building great bodies. Contain all the nourishing portions of the whole wheat, scientifically shredded and perfectly baked. Spread them with butter, and you will discover that they are delicious as well.

THEY MUST BE ARNOTT'S.

TAKES ALL STAINS FROM YOUR HANDS.

All you housewives and tradesmen who find it impossible to prevent getting your hands stained—should use "Clever Mary."

It will instantly remove that grease, grime, tar, oil, paint, printers' ink, pot-black, or those fruit, vegetable, and nicotine stains. "Clever Mary" cannot harm the tenderest skin, but is at all times effective and pleasant to use.

May be used with fresh, salt, warm or cold water.

When cleaning your windows, scrubbing, washing down kitchen dressers and tables, cleaning enamelware, scouring pots, pans, and dishes—you'll save a lot of work by using "Clever Mary."

Try it for yourself—nothing else is so good. If not in stock at your storekeeper's, send your name and address for a free sample tin to the Paget Manufacturing Co., 109 Regent-street, Sydney.

"CLEVER MARY,"
"THE ENEMY OF GREASE."

"VIYELLA" FABRIC IS EXCEEDINGLY DURABLE.

"Viyella" is distinguished by smartness and good quality, and any garments you may make with this excellent all-British material are distinctive, because comfortable, refined, and durable.

"Viyella" is pleasant when worn next to even the most sensitive skin, is light and soft though warm, and never fails to satisfy. It washes well, and does not felt or thicken, and does not shrink.

"Viyella" has special health value, owing to its unique method of manufacture, it not only absorbs the moisture of the body, but rapidly radiates it away, thus preventing chill. Awarded the certificate of the London Institute of Hygiene.

Sold by all leading drapers. The name of the nearest dealer sent on application to I and R. MORLEY, 56 Market-street, Sydney.

YOUR SOILED DRESSES CAN BE CLEANED.

Now that the summer is well advanced, your Dresses, Skirts, Blouses, etc., will probably be soiled. But you need not go to the expense of buying new garments.

Rogers Bros. can clean and renew those soiled garments so that they will be smart and fit for a further period of service.

The increasing number of ladies who adopt this plan is positive proof of the satisfaction it gives.

Think of the saving it means too. Our moderate charges are sure to please you. Send along a trial parcel, and prove the merit of our service.

STOCKTAKING THROW-OUTS THIS MORNING AT SNOW'S.

A Calcutta trader, if asked the price of a piece of Embroidery, might say to you,

"Take it for nothing, it is an honour to make you a present of it."

But a noisy storm of volubility would follow were you to take it and buy nothing. Should you accept the gift and buy or his wares he would make you pay twice over for the piece used as a "book." So much for Eastern methods of trading.

There are no books nor deceptions of any kind about these

STOCKTAKING THROW-OUTS AT SNOW'S.

The only reason why the prices are so low—and "next to nothing"—is that we are most anxious to commence THE NEW SEASON WITH CLEAN SHELVES, and our gift takes the shape of most of the old price.

There will be plenty of Action here to-day from the word "Go."

FAY'S FOR A LOWER PRICE.

"RIGHT AS RAIN" SAVINGS AT FAY'S SPANKING SALE.

"Are you going to spend your life saving ought? Turn your thoughts into shells."—
George Bernard Shaw.

To the many people who have been saying "I ought to go to Fay's Sale," we respectfully tender Shaw's advice. Make up your mind to come to-day.

Wherever you live there is a Fay Store within convenient distance—and, remember, the post will bring any pair of boots or shoes you desire direct to your home.

The cost of living is about the only thing that does not seem to be affected by the law of gravitation. But here is a way you can positively save on your footwear needs.

"VICTOR" FOLDING CHAIRS.
SPECIAL PRICE, 14/6.

These chairs are decidedly comfortable and convenient. They are made with strong, rustless steel frame and double canvas seat and back, which can be taken off and washed. A small folding table is affixed to the right-hand side of chair, forming convenient rest for magazines, refreshments, etc, or is very convenient when writing.

The chair folds up flat, and is therefore most useful for verandah, lawn, or camp. Usual Price, 19/6.
SPECIAL PRICE, 14/6 EACH.
FIRST FLOOR, GEORGE-STREET.

HOW TO HELP THE POOR OF BELGIUM AND BRITAIN.

The movement inaugurated by Farmer's Provident Society to help clothe the Belgian and British Poor is one which should have the earnest support of every Australian citizen.

Many have helped nobly in this matter, but the need is still an urgent one. Both new and second-hand clothing are acceptable, and now that the European Spring is approaching, a lighter class of clothing would prove most useful. Parcels should be addressed to Farmer and Company, Limited, Bulk Stores, 363 Kent-street, Sydney, and, if clearly endorsed "Clothing for Belgian and British Poor," the Railway Commissioners will allow them to be sent Freight Free.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS,

and the best and strongest of clothes will get torn or wear out sometimes. Our Austral Suits wear out too, but they take a mighty long time in the process, they are not untearable, either, but they stand an awful lot.

Our Boys' Department is right away from the madding crowd. There is no need to get hot and worried sorting out the youngster's clothes. Just come up in the elevator to our cool and quiet Boys' Department, where you will receive every attention.

Now is the best time to buy, while our Summer Sale is on, and 2/ in £ is off everything.

LANE'S EMULSION IS A GREAT BODY BUILDER.

It is a pure and wholesome medicine easily and quickly assimilated—that builds up wasted tissues and weakened constitutions—induces satisfactory digestion—promotes a quicker assimilation of food—allays all dangerous symptoms in the throat and lung tracts, increases flesh and strength, and restores perfect health in all cases of COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CATARRH, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, AND ALL PULMONARY AFFLICTIONS.

Lane's Emulsion is rich in nourishing and tonic properties, containing pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil, best Beechwood Creosote, and the health-giving Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, all perfectly and accurately combined and emulsified with Fresh Eggs.

Why not try Lane's Emulsion now? Your chemist or storekeeper will supply you with a bottle at 2/6 and 4/6. The large size is the most economical, as it contains more than two of the small ones. Insist on Lane's. If you experience difficulty in getting it, write to E. G. LANE, Box 864, G.P.O., Sydney, and we will see that you are supplied.
